

SPORTS REVIEW

The following boys are out for the basketball team in the Plymouth High School this week, with E. S. Christenbury in charge: Ralph Swain, Louis Ward Alexander, Onward Leggett, Colon Overton, Luther Gurkin, Ransom Martin, Barton Woodley, Rodney Harrison, Thurlow Spruill, Bobbie Cahoon, Leroy Bateman, C. C. Waters, Harry Stillman, Mike Atamanchuk, Bill Jackson, Hubert Waters, Louis Weede, Jack Getsinger, and Eugene Overton.

Others include: Charles Jackson, Beverly Newberry, Aubrey Liverman, Roscoe Downing, Shelton Ange, Louis Price, Eston Sawyer, Rudolph Donaldson, Irving Respass, Hoyt LeFever, Wilson Bowen, Murrell Bowen, Howard Poteat, Joe Newberry, and Bob Conklin.

About 35 girls are making the trials this week in an effort to land a berth on the basketball team of the Plymouth High School. They will be charge of Coach Christenberry, with E. H. Hicks assisting.

The girls are Eliza Hampton, Margaret Ayres, Lyda McGee, Emily Lucas, Margaret Hooker, Tillie Styoys, Louise Tetterton, Naomi Weede, Hazel Martin, Hazel Burgess, Helen Coburn, Etta Williams, Edna Ayres, Virginia Norman, Martha Bateman, Louise Duvall, Martha Chopic and Sarah Cahoon.

Others are Clyde Edwards, Edith Robertson, Mary Hazel Burgess, Ottrice Allen, Hazel Simpson, Emily Gray Hardison, Margaret Stubbs, Vivian Sykes, Aileen Browning, Clara Belle Styoys, and Mertie Watson.

Athletics this term, especially basketball, in the Plymouth High School will be of the intra-mural kind. In other words, there will be a rivalry among the classes for the best competitors, which will reveal to the coach the best players that will comprise the varsity.

The varsity will schedule only about eight or ten games this term. These games and their dates will be made known later. In the meantime the body-building work goes onward as the classmen and girls continue their friendly rivalry.

Maybe the name of Tillie Styoys, who will go out for the varsity basketball team, will be in print often in this column. This should be so if she makes the team. By the way, her name reminds one of the toiling girl that has a pal in Mack in the daily comic strips.

The work of Hoyt LeFever in his trials for the varsity will be watched with interest by the editor of the Beacon and News. It never occurred to him that some other person would be burdened with the name "Hoyt." The LeFever boy's first name is a handicap. But then, the editor has struggled a number of years with his middle name being "Hoyt."

The sports paragrapher will watch with interest the work of E. H. Hicks and Coach Christenbury with these basketball aspirants. It is hoped that a strong team can be built up.

It was a close game Friday when the Wilson All-Stars nosed out a 6 to 0 victory over the Plymouth All-Stars. Pig Owens started a drive in the final minutes that looked like a sure touchdown for Plymouth. A bad pass and fumble resulted in Plymouth losing the ball only three yards from the goal. Quarterback Owens found that spinning would aid him to gain ground.

This was good work, too. He started a determined march from the center of the field, following a trick play that gave a Plymouth boy who was 'aying near the side lines a good end run for 25 yards. The Plymouth machine was working so good that the Wilson boys called time-out three times in order to break the grind.

Red Rogers for Wilson took the ball 15 yards when his interference opened up a hole in the Plymouth line for him and ended the run with a touchdown. They failed in attempt for the extra point. Bush Harrell did well for Plymouth in the backfield. Lightweight Charlie Mizelle did well at center.

The Plymouth All-Stars will engage Edenton in the Chowan County capital Friday afternoon. A number of people are expected to accompany the squad. Pig Owens will captain the squad.

Correspondents for the Beacon and News and any others are urged to send us sport news for this department from week to week.

If guarantees were not so steep and other matters not so acute, it possibly would be a good idea to stage a charity football game for the aid of the unemployed, and needy in Washington County. This game could be arranged in some other town with a division in the receipts, or it could be played here. Tickets could be sold to those who wished to contribute but could not attend. The net proceeds could be turned over to the welfare workers in Washington County.

Duke is rated high in Big Five football in the State. But State beat them Saturday, 14 to 0, in an upset. The University of North Carolina will meet Duke Saturday. I am putting my money on Carolina. Even ready to spot a touchdown. But no one knows. The forecasters picked Duke last Saturday. Hold your money and spend your coupons.

PROFIT FROM GRASS FED TO BEEF CATTLE

Tests Made in Eastern Carolina Show Value of Pasturage

With the curtailment of cotton and tobacco acreage, new areas are released for planting to pasture grasses. Such grasses will furnish grazing for beef cattle and give an added income to landowners.

"In one of the tests which we made with beef cattle in eastern North Carolina this past summer, we found that an ordinary pasture of carpet grass, lespedeza and white clover paid the owner excellent returns through the grazing of beef cattle," says L. I. Case, animal husbandman at State College. "E. E. Bell, of Jones county, had eleven acres of this kind of pasture, which he planted a few years ago. Twenty-six head of cattle grazed on this eleven acres from June 8 until September 8, and with no supplementary feed of any kind gained 2,960 pounds. This amounts to 269 pounds an acre. At five cents a pound, this is worth $13.45."

In other words, says Mr. Case, the owner received $13.45 an acre for the three months. There are thousands of

COTTONSEED MEAL IS GOOD FEED FOR PIGS

Experiments Recently Conducted by Authorities Of State College

When cottonseed meal is mixed with fish meal as a part of the ration fed to fattening pigs, better gains at lower costs are made than when the fish meal is fed alone as the protein carrier.

"Experiments which we have made at the North Carolina Experiment Station show that fish meal containing 55 per cent protein is slightly better for fattening pigs than tankage containing 60 per cent protein. Then when equal parts of cottonseed meal is mixed with this fish meal as a supplement to corn, the mixture is superior to the fish meal alone," says Earl H. Hostetter, in charge of animal husbandry research at State College. "Since we secured these good results by mixing fish meal and cottonseed meal we decided to mix the cottonseed meal with tankage and see what results would be obtained."

Forty-seven pigs, weighing 85 pounds each, were selected for the test. They were divided into three groups and fed for 77 days in the self-feeders. In group 1 were 29 pigs, which were fed white shelled corn, fish meal, one-half, and cottonseed meal, one-half, with mineral. In group 2 were 28 pigs which received the same feed except that 40 per cent tankage was substituted for the fish meal.

The pigs in group 1 gained 394 pounds more than those in group 2. The first group consumed 15,517 pounds of feed as compared with 14,863 for the second group, yet the total feed required to produce 100 pounds of gain was only 399 pounds in group 1 as compared with 425 pounds in group 2. The first group of pigs gave a profit over all feed costs of $1.53 a pig as against $1.51 for the tankage group.

Therefore, says Mr. Hostetter, if the tankage had cost $39.10 a ton, instead of the $40 it did cost, the profit would have been the same in each group. The increased gains in group 1 would have been offset by the lower cost of animal protein in group 2.

Angus D. MacLean Disclaims Possessing Any Gubernatorial Aspirations At Present Time

BEAUFORT MAN IS FAVORITE WITH MANY IN STATE

Brummitt's Withdrawal Is Said To Have Brought MacLean To Front

(Williamston Enterprise)

"No; I'm not an aspirant to the governorship," Hon. A. D. MacLean, Beaufort County representative, answered when questioned yesterday following the release of a State news story stating that the withdrawal of Dennis G. Brummitt's name as a consideration in the Democratic state-wide primary for governor next June has brought with in the past 48 hours the personality of Representative Angus Dhu MacLean into the forefront.

"Not a candidate, now?" was the next question asked of Mr. MacLean as he left the courthouse here late yesterday, where he had quietly, persistently, and patiently tried a law suit, "No; not now," was the reply, and he had very little comment to offer in return for the numerous questions asked of him.

When he was addressed in the courthouse yesterday afternoon by an Enterprise reporter as "Governor," Mr. MacLean said the salutation was very pleasing, but when a copy of the Greensboro Daily News, the paper in which Tom Bost said that the withdrawal of Attorney General Brummitt brought the personality of Representative MacLean to the fore, was shown him, the Beaufort solon assumed a more serious attitude, stating that he had heard nothing whatever of the story and that he had nothing to say at the present.

During the long legislature session of this year, Mr. MacLean came to the front as a wise and able man. He is remembered as the man who so persistently and ably led the fight to relieve land and physical property of heavy tax burden carried so long.

The news article appearing Monday had a dual purpose apparently. One was to tell the folks that Josephus Daniels is politically dead and if nominated 75,000 "blue-gum" Democrats would not support him because they do not understand his democracy. There seems to be a strain of sympathy for the Ehringhaus boom.

And then the statement is made that Mr. MacLean hopped into the companionship of the big men in the past two sessions of the general assembly, and on account of his championship of the bill proposing the abolition of the ad valorem tax he got himself handsomely placed.

Mr. MacLean, while saying he is not a candidate for governor, would be acceptable as such by voters found in all classes of citizens who know his ability and his rugged honesty.

"I have used Black-Draught... and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness.
