Bridge Supper

One of the most delightful affairs of the fall was the unique bridge supper given on Thursday evening, November 8th, when Mrs. J. Lloyd Horton charmingly entertained the members of her contract bridge club at her home on East Main Street. Guests were invited in for 7 p. m. to find a beautifully appointed dining table awaiting with places for 12 laid, and here an old-fashioned southern repast was served in three courses.

Immediately after the meal, attractive tallies were passed and the guests found their places in the living room and an evening of interesting bridge contracts followed, during which Mrs. William Roy Hampton made high score and Mrs. J. W. Reid received low prize. Attractive gifts were presented to both victors.

Ace of Clubs Meeting

The Ace of Clubs contract bridge club met on Friday evening, November 9th, at the home of Mrs. Rasser Edwards, on Adams Street. For the occasion the house was beautifully arranged with choice roses and chrysanthemums and marigolds. A cheery open fire burned upon the grate and within the radius of the frelight tables were appointed for the game.

When all had arrived and found their respective places, a delightful cocktail was served, after which an evening of spirited progressions were enjoyed. During the play, Mrs. Robert E. Dunning made high score and was awarded a novel perfume bottle for the purse filled with perfume, while Miss Della Wynne was winner of the low score prize, a unique hat brush. Mrs. A. J. Riddle was presented the guest prize, a dainty linen handkerchief.

At the close of the game, the hostess served a sumptuous sweet course of frozen syllabub topped with cherries and apple sauce cake with hot coffee and toasted pecans.

Special guests included Mrs. J. Riddle and Miss Elizabeth Russell, of Edenton, house guest of Mrs. G. R. Leggett.

Round Dozen Club

Member of the Round Dozen Contract Bridge Club enjoyed a most delightful evening on Friday, November 9, when they were the guests of Mrs. H. E. Beam on Jefferson Street. Masses of flowers made the room attractive for the play and after many progressions Mrs. Gordon Norman was found to be the winner of high score and received a flower container, while Miss Elizabeth Norman making low score received a silhouette. Mrs. Wade H. Johnston was the victor among the guests present, and she received a prize a set of ash trays.

A delicious chicken salad plate with hot coffee was served immediately after the game to the club and Mesdames Catherine Harrison, Wade H. Johnston and Mrs. Beam, of Greensboro, guest of the hostess.

Just before starting the play the club presented Mrs. Beam with a gold locket and chain for her new baby, born in October.

Literary Club Meets

The Literary Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, November 13th, at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Jim Blount, "Oakland Farm." For the occasion the spacious living room was attractively arranged by myriads of choice fall flowers, while an open log fire burned in the Colonial fireplace and within the radius of the frelight the guests were seated for meeting.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Henry S. Midgett, Mrs. H. A. Blount presided. No business session was held, but a most enjoyable literary program was presented by Mrs. Louis Hassell and Mrs. W. Roy Hampton. When the meeting had adjourned the hostess was assisted in placing small tables before the guests and an old-fashioned country supper was served. Special guests to the club included Mrs. E. S. Blount, of Philadelphia, Mrs. J. T. Rhodes, of New York City; Mrs. Wheeler Blount and Mrs. Edison Davenport, of Mackeys.

Miscellaneous Shower

Guests who attended the miscellaneous shower given on Wednesday evening, when Mrs. L. A. Peal and daughter, Miss Annie Myrtle Peal, charmingly complimented Mrs. Raymond Atwood Peal, a recent bride, report a most pleasant time.

As guests entered they registered in the bride's book after which a most enjoyable evening of appropriate contest and parlor games were played. Later in the evening the bride was led to a central table laden with many and attractive gifts which she opened and displayed.

The hostesses assisted by Mrs. Alton Lilley served a variety of fruit with home-made chocolates to the 30 guests present and while every one enjoyed the repast Miss Charlotte McNair rendered a number of popular song hits on the piano.

Cool Springs Club

The Cool Spring Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. J. W. Snell October 31, with 13 members present and 6 members absent. The club was also hostess to five visitors. After the usual opening exercises by the president, a nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. S. B. Lucas, Mrs. J. W. Snell, and Miss Beatrice Asby was appointed to select officers for the coming year at the November meeting.

The agent made a splendid talk on fall apparel both coloring and style, also cleaning and remodeling of felt hats.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. S. B. Lucas and Miss Louise Oliver, served a delicious chicken salad plate with hot coffee.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. J. B. Stillman.

Scuppernong Club Meets

The Scuppernong Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Nooney Jr. Monday afternoon, November 12th. The meeting was called to order and presided over by the president. The election of new officers was first on the program. Mrs. I. J. Allgood was elected president; Mrs. J. E. Nooney Jr. secretary; Mrs. C. C. Coburn garden leader; Mrs. B. F. Norman canning leader; and Mrs. Ellen Stillman yard leader. Mrs. H. W. Norman the retiring president, was elected vice president and booster for the club.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Patterson who gave a very interesting demonstration on remodeling hats. Hat patterns were distributed among the members. Mrs. P. B. Belanga was elected clothing leader in the place of Miss Merle Norman who has moved to Norfolk. After the meeting Mrs. Nooney served peanuts and fruit.

You Can Depend on the Man Who--- ADVERTISES

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for today or tomorrow only—but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good-will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Nine times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that tomorrow you will be sorry you overlooked.

DON'T MISS THE ADVERTISEMENTS

Important

When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.
