Proposes Law That Requires Inspection Of Cars Twice Year

Inspection Would Not Cost Car Owner Anything; Is Safety Measure

A bill to provide for semi-annual inspection of all automobiles in North Carolina was introduced in the North Carolina General Assembly a few days ago by Tom O'Berry, a representative in the House from Wayne County.

Under the bill this inspection would be made at no cost to the car owner but if he failed to have corrected mechanical faults found needed after the inspection, he would be subject to a fine of $25. The highway department would be charged with designating garages throughout the State where the examinations might be made.

"It is really a highway safety measure," said Mr. O'Berry, "and one that I believe would go far toward eliminating accidents by correcting mechanical defects in cars before they result in wrecks. It is pretty much the same law they have in Virginia, and a law that has worked to the satisfaction of all."

CAKE FOR SPRING

The ideal cakes for the spring season, when eggs are plentiful are angel food and golden sponge or gold cookies. These are perfect partners and should go well with gelatin, sherbet, ice creams, fruits, or a mixed fruit cup.

The secret of a sponge cake is found in long baking in slow oven, accurate measuring—especially sugar—and in beating eggs to hold a peak, but not dry. If they are beaten too dry the cake may lump and crack, which spoils the crust that is one of its glories.

Angel Food Cake

1 cup sifted flour (preferably cake flour), 1 cup egg whites, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1-4 cups sifted granulated sugar, 3-4 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 teaspoon almond extract.

Sift flour four more times. Beat egg whites and salt with flat wire whisk, proper roughage in the diet.

A good way to feed the meal is to distribute it over the corn, preferably at the night feeding, Hosteler pointed out.

He suggested that only a small amount of meal be given when first starting horses and mules on cottonseed meal. Later, when the animals get used to eating it, the ration may be increased to one or two pounds of meal daily for each 1,000 pounds of live weight.

However, he warned, cottonseed meal is not a complete substitute for grain in the diet.

It has also been found that when pigs are fed, free choice, a diet of corn and a mixture of equal parts of cottonseed meal, fish meal, and mineral, they gained 12 percent more rapidly and were 24 percent more profitable than those fed in the same manner without the meal.

Cottonseed meal is not only a nutritious feed for all kinds of livestock, Hosteler added, but it also contains important soil-building elements which furnish excellent plant food when returned to the land in the form of manure.

Young Chicks Need Warmth at Nights

As a usual thing chicks may be removed from heat when they are fully feathered, that is, if the spring weather is normal. Where the days are warm, but the nights are exceptionally, the heat should be continued until the nights are normal. To take away all heat would cause considerable trouble in the flock and weaken its resistance to disease. The owner must use careful judgment in this matter as there is no arbitrary limit to the removal of heat.

Cautions Farmers Not To Sell Meat Animals Too Cheap

Growers Should Not Sell Until Checking Up on Market Prices

North Carolina farmers are being cautioned not to sell their beef cattle hogs, and sheep at prices lower than present market quotations.

A number of farmers not in close touch with the market have sold their animals recently for one-half or a third of their value, says L. I. Case, animal husbandman at State College.

Beef prices have risen about 60 percent and pork prices have approximately doubled within the past year, Case said, and the prices paid local farmers should go up accordingly.

Although prices paid for livestock at the farm cannot equal those paid at central markets, Case added, growers should not sell their meat animals without checking up carefully to see what they are worth.

The current outlook gives promise of a continuation of the present price level, he stated, and local growers need not dispose of their stock now for fear that prices will tumble in the near future.

The weekly average of all steers on the Chicago market was $7.15 the first week in December and $10.87 the last week in February. Choice grades rose from $9.29 to $13.39 and low, or common, grade rose from $3.72 to $4.50. Intermediate grades increased proportionately.

Stocker and feeder prices have risen correspondingly. Early in December the prices ranged from $2.50 to $5.50 for various grades; in January the scale was up to a $5-$9 range. Good slaughter cows advanced from $5.25 to $9.50.

The price of lambs has not increased as much, Case pointed out, but added that it did not go as low as beef and pork during the depression. A rise this spring is expected, he continued.

"We Want Cooper" Say Leading Movie Women

If actresses' dreams ever come true, Gary Cooper, currently playing the leading role in "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," coming Monday and Tuesday to the New Theatre, will be the most-kissed male actor in all Hollywood!

For, by their own confession, 10 of Hollywood's leading feminine stars have selected Gary Cooper as their ideal of what a leading man and screen lover should be—and have indicated their desire to have him in their pictures.

The foremost is Greta Garbo, with whom Gary Cooper has never had an opportunity to work. Yet the Swedish star has attempted to secure him for her leading man in several of her recent pictures.

That he is Hollywood's most sought after leading man is further attested by Joan Crawford's repeated attempts to secure his services. But only once was she able to get Cooper, and that was in "Today We Live."

The lucky girl who is favored with Cooper's attentions in "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" is Kathleen Burke. In this production, Cooper enacts the part of a captain of one of the world's most famous cavalry units. He becomes a hero when he dares death to save the Lancers and to keep a soldier-father from ever learning about his son's treason.
