Organizing the Preachers

An exchange laments the fact that preachers do not form a closer cooperation and cultivate a spirit of greater sympathy.

If all preachers would assemble often and study and work together on the great problems that confront us, we might be able to avoid lots of those things that apparently are snatching us nearer the precipice of destruction every day.

If our society is to be saved to decency and safety, we must depend on Christianity, for there is hardly a chance for us if we depend on beach pajamas.

Cotton Mills Do Not State the Facts

The cotton mills do not state the facts, according to the findings of the Institute of Pacific Relations. The American mills seem to want the American government to remove the cotton processing tax and raise the tariff on foreign cotton goods.

The claim advanced by the cotton mills will cut the price of the farmer's cotton about one-third in value, and give the American factory a world monopoly.

We are unwilling to see the producer of raw materials grow poorer day by day, and the user of the manufactured product grow poorer in every way while the manufacturer stuffs his coffers to overflowing.
