

Young Farmers Are Active at Plymouth School This Year

W. D. Starr Defines Purposes Of Student Group; Nine Members Initiated

Jack LeFever has been elected president of the Young Tar High Farmers of the Plymouth High school for the coming year, according to an announcement by W. D. Starr, instructor and adviser.

Jimmy Hays is vice president; Harry Garrick, secretary; Lewis Styons, treasurer; and James Hardison, reporter.

Nine new members, or "green hands" were initiated into the organization Thursday night. The old members then gave a weiner roast as a welcome to their new associates.

This organization is affiliated with the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture, which now numbers 85,000 members in 3500 local chapters.

As defined by Mr. Starr the purposes of the Future Farmers are: to develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership, to strengthen the confidence of farm boys in themselves and their work, to create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations, to create and nurture a love of country life, and to improve rural homes.

The organization also seeks to encourage co-operative effort, to promote thrift, to improve scholarship, to encourage organized recreational activities, to supplement the regular instruction offered in agriculture, and to advance the cause of vocational education in the public schools.

Farm News Notes

By W. V. HAYS, County Agent

The Peanut Stabilization Corporation, or cooperative, was organized in an effort to stabilize peanut prices. Whether this will happen remains to be seen but farmers knowing that peanuts may be put into oil at 3 1-4 cents per pound should be induced to hold their peanuts or at least market them in an orderly manner.

Sufficient warehousing is available to accommodate what peanuts will be diverted from Washington County.

Where possible the ram should be separated from the flock of ewes at this time and if possible kept separate through the winter. This will prevent late summer lambs. Some of the ewes may not be bred but it will be better to breed these in July or August or September next year and get a good lamb rather than have them bred now and give you a ragged summer lamb. A handful of grain fed per ewe will pay handsomely through the winter. While in some countries sheep are not housed at all we find here a dry shelter through the winter is a good investment with our sheep.

After the crops are in, a few days spent in collecting leaves and woods mold to be made into compost pays well. Some of our crops respond better to compost and manure than to commercial fertilizers, especially our poor sandy soils. Experiments and records show that compost and manure spread on winter cover crops gives better results the following year than when this manure is applied directly to the row crops.

A number of requests have come in for a good white wash formula that will stick to fences and buildings. The following is the best formula on record:

Light House White Wash

Slake half bushel of unslaked lime with boiling water, keeping it covered during the process. Strain it and add a peck of salt dissolved in warm water; 3 pounds of ground rice put in boiling water and boiled to a thin paste; half pound of powdered Spanish whiting and a pound of clear glue dissolved in warm water; mix these well together and let the mixture stand for several days. Keep the wash thus prepared in a kettle or portable furnace, and when used put it on as hot as possible with painter's or whitewash brushes.

The cooperative hog sales were the largest for October up to date. 654 hogs sold for $13,039.68. Hogs are cheaper than they have been earlier in the year but according to the yearly price trend hogs are now about 1c higher than average prices for this time of the year. I would caution those growers who have hogs weighing one hundred pounds not to put these hogs on soy beans or peanuts, if these hogs are intended for marketing, leaving the sows and smaller pigs to glean in the fields. Having hogs ready for sale at the right time is as big a factor as any other in profitable swine husbandry. We should attempt as far as possible to have our hogs ready for sale in August and September or March and April. This can be controlled by breeding the sows at the proper time. To do this they will be six months old or ready to sell at the specified time when properly fed.

A good many of our farmers now have hogs weighing about 100 pounds which they intend to market as soon as they reach 200 pounds. It is suggested that these hogs, where there is plenty of corn on hand, be fed on corn and fish meal and not permitted to run on the bean and peanut fields. In this way hard hogs can be sold. Where a hog is fed soy paste and peanuts after it reaches the weight of 100 pounds it is very hard and almost impossible to make a hard carcass from this animal when butchered. Where some of the hogs are to be kept for home use and others for market we suggest that the hogs for market be fed on corn and the hogs to be kept for home use with the sows and smaller shoats be used to glean the fields. When hogs intended for market reach the weight of 100 pounds they should be removed from peanuts and soy beans and put on corn and fishmeal, with sufficient minerals and an ample supply of clean drinking water.

Mrs. Ethel Tarkenton was hostess to the Piney Grove Club Thursday. A large number was present. Different phases of club work were discussed. The club will meet in November with Mrs. Harold Patrick, yard leader of the club.

Mrs. Joe Browning of Hoke Club makes lovely picked mats and rugs. Her work won a lot of praise at the Federation meeting.
