

Rocks Only Single Game Out of Second Place After Sunday Game

3 1/2 Games Behind Perrytown, Pace Setters for League

Locals Divide Series With Windsor After Knocking Leaders Off Twice

Failure of the Rocks to take advantage of a fifth place club dividing a series with Windsor last week-end left Plymouth clinging to third place in the first division one and a half games ahead of Scotland Neck their chief competitor for this place.

But today the Rocks were eyeing second place with an envious attitude realizing that they are only one full game behind Edenton which seems to have cinched the second post and three and a half games behind Perrytown, the league leaders.

Knocking off Perrytown twice in their series with them the Rocks were getting somewhere until they bowed to the lowly Lions of Windsor there Saturday 10 to 9 in a slug-fest.

As it stood Monday of this week, Plymouth was in third place with a percentage of .591 having won 13 and lost 9 in league play.

Golfers Licked by Archers Tuesday

Dr. Alban Papineau, district chairman of the Washington County district, East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts, won by one point from Scout Executive J. J. Sigwald in a close game of archery golf vs. stick golfers Tuesday afternoon. The two Scout officials also teamed to defeat the regular golfers, brothers Ernest and Percy Arps.

The golfers vs. archers match was very close in match play, although the archery golfers turn in by far the better medal scores. Scores were Papineau 40, Sigwald 41, E. Arps 53, P. M. Arps 47.

Sigwald and Papineau were all even in match play, but by total points the skipper of the local Sea Scout ship was better for the afternoon's play.

streak of fate kept them separated in their screen work until they were co-starred for the first time in "Lucky Night," at the Plymouth Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

Taylor entered pictures five years ago, following his graduation from Pomona College, at a time when Miss Loy, already established in pictures, was entering stardom in "The Thin Man" with William Powell. Since then Taylor has been co-starred with almost all the M-G-M stars with the exception of Miss Loy, and Miss Loy has co-starred with almost all the male stars except Taylor.

Although Miss Loy plays the type of role which in the past has established her as one of the outstanding comedienne of the screen, Taylor plays a role entirely new to him, and one which he has been anxious to play since his picture debut.

Windsor Defeated by Plymouth, 11 to 4, in Game Here Sunday

Wade Hardison Tightens After Shaky Start To Pitch Locals' Win

The Lions hopped Wade Hardison for five hits and three runs in the first two innings here Sunday but the Rocks' ace moundsmen tightened up then and Plymouth defeated Windsor 11 to 4 before one of the largest crowds of the season.

Felton Magee with three singletons and a double for five trips to the plate set the pace for the local's attack on two Windsor pitchers for 12 hits. Sallinger with a triple led Windsor.

Norman Mayo pleased the fans with his base running as he pilfered three bases but was caught in a surprise play off of second base.

Louis Hassell won the $1.75 that was given to the fan holding the lucky ticket. This represents a tenth of the gate receipts.

Handicap Tourney Now in Progress at Local Country Club

Is Continued Through This Week; No Special 4th July Event Planned

The tournament now underway at the local country club, 18 holes of medal play, classes A, B and C full handicap allowed, is getting along very slowly, Ellis Maples said yesterday. Started last week, the pro is continuing the event through this week in order to get enough entries to make it a contest.

Only two players had turned in cards for the full 18 holes up to the first of the week. W. A. Davidson is leading the class B players with a gross score of 45-45-90, less 16-stroke handicap, net of 74 or even par. Ray Goodmon got hot Sunday and turned in a couple of good rounds Sunday in the class A list, shooting 38-38-76, which with his 12-stroke handicap gives him a net of 64, or 10 under par. None of the class C players have turned in cards for the complete 18 holes yet, although several have played the first nine.

The classes are divided as follows: Players with handicaps from 0 to 19, class A; players with handicaps from 20 to 29, class B; and players with handicaps of 30 and over, class C. Prizes will be awarded the winners in each class, the value to be determined later by the golf committee.

No special event is being planned for the Fourth of July next Tuesday, as many of the players are usually out of town on this holiday, and it was not felt sufficient interest could be worked up to make a tournament worth while.

Mr. Maples has done considerable work on the greens during the past couple of weeks, and they are rapidly rounding into fine condition, better now than they have ever before. He expects them to show even further improvement within another week or 10 days.

Jane Withers Here In Picture Sunday

If Jane Withers can be considered an accomplished character analyst, then 16-year-old George Ernest, familiar to many screen fans as Roger of the Jones Family, should be a very flattered young man.

George holds the honor of being Jane's first screen "crush," appearing with the popular star in her latest 20th century-Fox comedy, "Boy Friend," due Sunday at the Plymouth Theatre.

One sequence of the picture calls for George to escort Jane to a masquerade ball and, at Jane's request, Director James Tinling allowed her to select the costume George should wear.

The morning of the cinematic masquerade George retired to his dressing room and discovered Jane's selection—a George Washington costume!

Frontier Feud in Saturday Show

A frontier feud that began in Texas and ended bloodily in a little Arizona town, comprises the dramatic basis of Harry Carey's new screen vehicle, "The Law West of Tombstone," at the Plymouth Theatre, Saturday. The feud lies between Carey, in the role of the bragart but dead-shot Bill Barker, and the McQuinn brothers, a trio of would-be desperadoes. Coming to the boiling point shortly after the story opens, the quarrel carries on through the colorful efforts of Barker to establish himself as mayor, judge and jury of western Arizona, and winds up in a graphic and breathless gun duel in the streets of the little frontier community.

Against this grim background is played a sparkling romance between a young gun-fighter whom Barker has taken under his wing and Barker's daughter, who believes herself an orphan whose father was killed at Gettysburg.
