Present Plans Are To Resume Work at Handle Plant Here About December 15

Workmen are repairing machinery, which has laid idle for several years and are also making repairs to the buildings in preparation for the local plant of the American Fork & Hoe Company to resume operations by December 15, it was learned today from Miss Ethel Arps, manager.

When it was first decided to resume operations at the handle plant sometime ago, it was announced by Miss Arps that plans were to begin operating by January 1, but now she believes that by rushing preparations work will probably be started 15 days ear-

A few workmen have been added as needed, and when the plant begins operations, there will be a total of about 20 persons employed in the plant and 15 working in the log woods.

The operations, on a small scale, will necessitate the shifting of the crew from the sawmill department to the finishing department at times, as separate groups of workmen will not be maintained, and few additional employees are to be added to the score who will get work there.
