

Walter J. Smith To Move To Louisburg

Walter J. Smith, formerly of Scotland Neck, but for about a year a resident of Plymouth, will leave Friday for Louisburg, where he will become supervisor for the Farm Security Administration of its work in Nash and Franklin Counties.

Having studied at State College, Mr. Smith came here about a year ago as assistant to County Supervisor R. E. Dunning in the FSA office here. While here he was made secretary of the men's club of Grace Episcopal church.

It is not known yet whether anyone will be assigned here to aid Mr. Dunning, since Hyde County has been removed from this district and an assistant supervisor is located in Tyrrell County.

Lang Stops Making Cucumber Contracts

It was said that P. H. Roberts, Jr., manager of the local plant, might be transferred to another plant of the company or he may remain here, nothing definite in this respect having been decided by the Lang company up to today. Mr. Roberts is still here, where he has been supervising the grading of cucumbers from last year's crop which still remain in tanks at the plant.

Mr. Roberts also said that some difficulty had been experienced in getting cucumber seed for use in the county and gave this as one of the reasons why the firm had decided not to make any further contracts.

Baptists Announce Schedule Services

Rev. P. B. NICKENS, Pastor Sunday night, Dr. White will bring to a close our annual meeting. We trust and pray, however, that the revival itself will not come to a close. May the spirit continue to spread among us.

The subject for the morning hour will be: "God's Recipe for a Good and Happy Home," and for the evening and closing service in the meeting, the subject will be "Heaven or Hell; Which Do You Choose?" Come to these remaining services and receive a blessing.

Combination Grades Necessity in Present Set-Up at Schools

Miss Hattie Parrott Speaks At Meeting of Teachers Here Tuesday

Progressive schools in the state are urged to have combination grades under the present set-up in allotting teachers, Miss Hattie Parrott, state supervisor of schools, told 55 members of the Washington County Teachers Association, who attended a meeting here Tuesday afternoon.

There are four such combinations of grades in the Plymouth schools; that is, there are two different grades in the same room and taught by a single teacher. This is brought about by congested conditions, scarcity of teachers, and some grades having too many students for one room and one teacher but not large enough to require two.

Miss Parrott made the assertion about the combination upon questioning after she had made a talk on reading.

Miss Dorothea Tucker, a representative of the State Blind Commission, explained how the teachers might examine the eyes of the students and report the visual defects found. Dr. S. V. Lewis followed her with a talk on what his district health organization was doing in the schools.

H. H. McLean, superintendent of county schools, presided over the meeting and presented the speakers.

Survey of Turnpike Promised This Year

A group of men from Pantego, Belhaven, Wenoona and Pungo, who visited Highway Commissioner E. V. Webb in Kinston this week.

Proponents of the improvements to this road—known locally as "The Turnpike"—say that Commissioner Webb was very encouraging in the conversation they had with him this week, and it is believed that something will be done to remedy conditions in this section within the next year or so.

This stretch of road becomes impassable at certain periods of the year, particularly during a winter such as the last one. If it was surfaced, it would become an important feeder from Hyde County and Belhaven to the Albemarle Sound bridge.

Secretary Darden presided over the conference held with Mr. Webb, outlining the purpose of the gathering, and Fred P. Latham, of Belhaven, made the principal speech. A delegation of about 20 persons attended the meeting.

Advises Planting Tomato Seed Now

Tomato seed should be planted next week, according to A. L. Alexander, who contracted with farmers for the growth of about 125 acres in Washington County and 150 acres in Tyrrell. He said he would like to make contracts for about 100 more acres.

Farmers are urged to plant early so that the crop will be ready for harvest while the best prices are prevailing on the markets.

Mr. Cawan, a New York broker, to whom Mr. Alexander plans to ship green-wrapped tomatoes, was in Plymouth Friday en route to Columbia, and was reported to have advised farmers to plant an average acreage.

The green tomatoes will be wrapped in Columbia and Roper for shipment to northern markets, while ripe tomatoes will be canned at Roper by Carroll Crockett.

Local Ford Dealers Again Win Praise for Car Sales

The sales organization of the Plymouth Motor Company today received a wire from Ford Motor Company officials congratulating it on being one of the first dealerships in North Carolina and Virginia to secure over 100 per cent of their quotas of new car sales in February and March.

The record of sales was made with only two-thirds of the contest time elapsed. The telegram advised that reservations have already been made for representatives of the local firm to attend the victory dinner to be given in Norfolk next month.

J. R. Manning, a partner in the concern, said that his organization's quota for the two months was 39 new and used cars, and that so far 51 had been sold.

Gray Willis Officer in Southern Manor Club

B. Gray Willis, manager of the D. Pender store in Plymouth, was named a vice president of the Eastern Carolina Southern Manor Club at a meeting of the personnel of the 17 Pender stores in the district at Washington last Sunday.

Prior to this meeting, Mr. Willis, a popular store manager here, was a member of the advisory committee of the organization. B. E. Clark, manager of the Washington store, was reelected president.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Belhaven Community House on May 2, when a picnic will be staged, with club members, their wives, families, and friends as guests.

Clerks in Pender's stores are members, as well as managers, and Grayson Everett, of the local store, accompanied Mr. Willis on the trip to Washington Sunday.

Two Vacancies in CMTC Open To County Youths

"Young men attending the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Bragg in the summer are no more likely to be called to the colors in time of war than other men," said H. H. McLean, chairman of the Citizens Military Training Camps Association of Washington County, who announced today that there are two openings for enrollment from Washington County.

Candidates must be American citizens, physically qualified, of good character, and must have reached their 17th birthday by the time the camp begins on June 12 to continue until July 11, Mr. McLean said.

Applicants may see him or write direct to C. M. T. C. Officer, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Thirty-five fatal accidents in North Carolina last year involved cars being driven on the wrong side of the road.

Speeding caused at least 188 highway fatalities in North Carolina during 1939.
