Creswell and Plymouth Troops Represented by 17 Scouts Each

Thirty-four Boy Scouts from Plymouth and Creswell invaded Kinston with several hundred others last Friday and Saturday for the annual Patrol Camporee. Scoutmaster N. A. Taylor was in charge of the Plymouth group and Scoutmaster Sidney Smithson was leader of the Creswell contingent.

The Creswell scouts stopped over in Washington for the tulip festival, while the Plymouth boys went straight to their destination. The groups were evenly divided, 17 attending from Plymouth and 17 from Creswell.

Upon arrival, the scouts went to the first-aid tents for physical examination. A camp fire with the boys telling jokes featured the first night in camp. Spectacular stunts occupied the boys on Saturday, and a camporee circus was held Saturday evening. The scouts attended service at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Roy Manning, as leader of the Wolf patrol and Lloyd McNair, as leader of the Cobra patrol, were awarded red ribbons for the Plymouth troop at the camporee. J. R. Manning, chairman of the Southern Albemarle district, rode with officials in the parade, and Rev. N. A. Taylor, W. S. Moore and

Lions Meeting Held In Roper Thursday

Meeting in the Thompson store at Roper last Thursday night with the Roper Parent-Teacher Association serving a delicious meal, the Plymouth Lions Club heard Rev. N. A. Taylor, deputy district governor of region 2, District 31C, state his regret for leaving Plymouth.

As pastor of the Christian church here for five and a half years, Mr. Taylor also was interested in the Lions Club being a charter member and having served in several offices of the club.

James W. Norman told how the Boy Scouts here would miss their Scoutmaster; W. L. Whitley told how the church would miss Mr. Taylor; and several others spoke of the reluctance of the community to give up Mr. Taylor, and President Zeb Vance Norman, for the club and the community, wished Mr. Taylor luck in his work at the Holloway Street Christian church in Durham, where he begins his duties as pastor on the first Sunday in May.

H. H. McLean attended some of the events.

Five new members, including Alton Harris, Edwin Norman, Charles McGowan, Leon Hassell, and Albert Smithson, recently took their tenderfoot tests in Creswell.

although naturally gratified with Mr. Cox's promotion.

Mr. Snyder, who takes over the work of Mr. Cox at the local plant, was general superintendent of the Cherry River Paper Company in Richmond for 33 years. He became associated with the Kieckhefer interests when the latter purchased the plant and machinery of the Richmond concern last year. The equipment is now being moved and installed at the plant here, with the last of the machinery due here next year.

Mr. Snyder is moving into the house in the village formerly occupied by Mr. Cox. His wife will reside here, but his two adult children will continue to live in Richmond for several months. He said today that he "was very happy to be in Plymouth, as I am looking forward to many enduring friendships and a pleasant residence here."

Before leaving this week, Mr. Cox said "I regret very much to leave Plymouth, as I have enjoyed my stay here, both from a business and social standpoint and have many friends here that I am reluctant to leave behind."

Announces Services At Christian Church

Rev. N. A. TAYLOR, Pastor
The last mile will be reached Sunday on our elephant campaign, when the old animal will turn entirely gray. Each of the 500 squares will have been covered with $1 stickers over the short period of 10 weeks. Each Bible school class will have its part in the last mile to accepting the task to raise an allotted amount by Sunday.

The ladies' aid society has played a vital part in this work, for it was their efforts which kept interest high all the way through.

We are indeed happy to leave with the church free of debt, and on behalf of the church I wish to thank each one who took part in this worthy cause.

Services will be as usual Sunday, with the Rev. N. A. Taylor preaching his last sermon in this ministry. The public is cordially invited.

Methodist Young People Make Plans for Playlet

With a well-selected cast, work began this week on "The Guest Room," a three-act play to be presented by the young people of the Methodist church at an early date in the high school auditorium. The play is being given to raise money to be applied to the new organ to be installed in the church.

"The Guest Room" should be on everyone's "must see" list, so watch for further notices.

A group of boosters from Edenton came through Plymouth, Roper and Creswell Wednesday afternoon, led by the Edenton High School Band. City Councilman E. H. Liverman welcomed the visitors for Mayor B. G. Campbell and the Rev. C. H. Ashby responded. J. G. Campen also spoke.

Seeking To Protect $323,000 Allocation For River Dredging

Appropriation May Be Lost Unless Rights of Way Are Secured

Necessary rights of way and suitable areas for dumping the silt dredged from Roanoke River are being sought by Z. V. Norman, of Plymouth and George H. Harrison, of Williams- ton, from landowners along the banks of the river.

Imminent danger of the withdrawal of the $323,000 allocation which Congressman Lindsay Warren was successful in securing about two years ago sent Mr. Norman and Mr. Harrison on a trip down the river last week investigating the probability of getting these rights of way which must be accorded the U. S. government free of charge.

Two years ago Congress approved the allocation after it had been under investigation by Army engineers for several years, according to Mr. Warren, who added that the Secretary of War had been ready to let the contract since January 1 but it has been held up because rights of way have not been provided.

The project provides for a channel 12 feet deep and 150 feet wide from Albemarle Sound to a point about one mile west of Plymouth and then a channel 10 feet deep and 100 feet wide beyond Williamston to Hamilton, and a channel 8 feet deep and 80 feet wide from Hamilton to Palmyra.

The project has been much desired by business interest and farmers and will doubtless aid the flood situation on Roanoke river, according to the Congressman.

Mr. Warren said last week that if the project was to be saved immediately action on the part of local interests was necessary.

Few Days Left for Shad and Herring

The season for taking shad and herring with pound nets and haul seines closes May 1, it was learned today from Game Warden J. T. Terry, who added that these dates applied only to commercial waters.

The season for taking shad and herring with gill nets in inland waters closed last Saturday, but the Roanoke River at this point is classified as commercial waters and hence the season does not end until May 1.

The county game warden also announced that hook and line and rod and reel fishing for bass and perch would reopen in this section on May 11, when anglers may again begin enjoying their favorite sport.

28 Attend Banquet At Country Club

Forty-six club members bought tickets at $5 each for the annual spring banquet of Plymouth Country Club golfers, held last night, but weather conditions held the attendance down to only 28. Those who did attend reported today that they had a mighty good time at the banquet.

With about $1 going for the meal, the remainder of the proceeds will be used to buy fertilizer for the fairways to improve the playing conditions on the local course. A little less than $200 of the $350 needed was raised by the banquet.

L. J. Meunier, jr., chairman of the golf committee, presided over the meeting, and Ellis Maples, pro, made a short talk on the progress of the golf activities.
