Number Bear and Deer Hunters Here From All Sections

One Party From Western Part of State Gets Seven Bears in 3 Days

Bear and deer hunters from a number of states have been in Washington County during the past few weeks, with most of the parties reporting a fair measure of success. Two bears were killed by a party from the western part of the State Tuesday, while others have been Tuesday, and by the time they left here Friday about noon they had a total of seven bears, several of which were extremely large. Others have been equally successful with both bear and deer.

The group from the western part of the State here last week included: J. E. Anders, J. E. Parris, Roy Owens, Ausbon Fore, Dr. Robertson, Mitch Nash, Tom Cole, Earl and Ernest Rumbaugh. This party brought a pack of 30 of the famous Plott bear dogs, and worked 15 dogs on alternate days during their stay here.

There was a party here from Quincy, Ill., and another group from Indianapolis, Ind. H. M. Kleckhefer, of Delair, N. J., was here recently with a party from his section.

"Pier 13" Is Laden With Big Cargo Of Comedy and Thrills

All Around Entertainment Provided In New Film: Excellent Cast

New York's excitement-teeming waterfront, where things happen faster and funnier than anywhere else, is the background for "Pier 13," new 20th Century-Fox film due Friday at the Plymouth Theatre. Advance reports have hailed the picture as one of the season's outstanding pieces of all around entertainment.

Lovely Lynn Bari, who recently was seen in "Lillian Russell," has the leading feminine part in "Pier 13" and never appeared to better advantage, it is said. Her role affords her an excellent vehicle for dramatic and comedy acting and, according to previews, she gives a performance that rings true in every detail.

Others in the cast, which was carefully selected by Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel, include: Lloyd Nolan, Joan Valerie and Douglas Fowley.

Paul Basnight, Plymouth policeman, is shown above inspecting two of the seven bears killed on a hunt near here last week by a party of 18 men from Asheville and Mars Hill. The hunters brought 30 of the famous Plott bear hounds with them, working them in relays of 15 each day from Wednesday through Friday. One of the party said that they had as many as five or six bears running at the same time Thursday. Photo by Bugs Barringer, of the Rocky Mount Telegram.

Writes Appreciation For Treatment Here

From Stewart A. Ferguson, director of athletics at Arkansas Agricultural and Mechanical College, at Monticello, Ark., this week came a letter to Corporal T. B. Brown, of the State Highway Patrol, expressing appreciation for the kindness and courtesy extended by local people when the coach and his football team remained over here for a day as the result of an accident to their bus, which crashed into the rear of a parked truck loaded with pulpwood on highway No. 32 a few miles south of here about three weeks.

The letter reads as follows: "Just a few lines to let you know again how much we appreciated your very wonderful kindness and courtesy to us while we were in Plymouth recently.

"In all of our experiences we have never had such wonderful treatment extended to us, as you and others extended to us while there.

"I hope that at some time we have an opportunity to repay your favor in some way."

Joe Coker, student of the bus, who has been here since the accident, awaiting a new chassis for the damaged vehicle, said today that he and the football team had been in 38 states of the Union and that the kindness and courtesy shown him and others in his party surpassed any he had ever experienced, adding, "I will never forget Plymouth."

list of names, this, and directed by the important Continental director Kurt Bernhardt. "My Love Came Back" promises to set a new high for screen entertainment of the hilarious school.

Bumsteads Featured In New Hit Called "Servant Trouble"

Blondie, Dagwood and Baby Dumpling To Be Seen Locally Wednesday

Leave it to the Bumsteads to show you how to be gay in spite of yourself! Their latest outbreak of adventures, with its inevitable onslaught on the funny-bone, is due to set Plymouth Theatre audiences into a right good humor Wednesday when the latest Columbia characterization of Chic Young's famous comic strip arrives in "Blondie Has Servant Trouble."

To prove that life doesn't have to be complicated to become slightly hectic, this startling array of hilarity begins simply when Blondie insists on a maid for the household. If necessary, Dagwood must get a rise to pay her salary. While this is easily decided by Blondie, Dagwood's boss, Mr. Dithers, is not so easily convinced.

Accordingly, the Bumsteads are dispatched to a huge estate by Dithers for some ulterior motive of his own. In typical style, they blunder their way through to success—Dagwood's raise—but only after raising a domestic dither of Bumsteadian proportions.

Loy and Douglas Stars in New Film

Myrna Loy, chewing gum and speaking out of the side of her mouth with a tough accent! It doesn't seem to make sense, but it does make a spectacle that elicits mirthful howls from audiences in "Third Finger, Left Hand" comical story of a marriage mixup, in which the screen's "perfect wife" roughs up Melvyn Douglas, the man who made Garbo laugh.

It's one of the many comedy-packed situations in the new picture, which comes Thursday, (today) to the Plymouth Theatre.

Myrna sets out to horrify Melvyn's home-town folks while the two are on their honeymoon. In fact, she keeps Douglas in a constant dither as they fall in and out of comical complications.

EXHAUSTED?

Indications are that existing supplies of raw cotton in Italy are likely to be exhausted by December 31, since no large stocks of foreign cotton have been shipped in since the war started.

Butchers say the meat business has been hurt by the hasty, over-the-counter noon lunch, which has replaced the old-fashioned home, mid-day dinner.

Stewart and Russell Head Cast In Stage Hit Now On Screen

"No Time For Comedy" Begins Its Title As It Affords Plenty of Fun

Heading the Plymouth Theatre's lineup of the new season film hits is "No Time For Comedy," co-starring James Stewart and Rosalind Russell. The film which plays here Sunday only, is an adaptation of the S. N. Behrman play which lead the Broadway hit parade for more than a year.

Adapted for the screen by the twin scenarists, Philip G. and Julius J. Epstein, whose scripts for the "Four Daughters" series have made screen history, "No Time For Comedy" is comedy from start to finish. The daily sophisticated story concerns a young newspaperman from the sticks who writes a comedy about Manhattan's penthouse set, scores a smash hit on Broadway and marries the star of the play. Sophisticated comedies flow from his facile pen. His wife stars in each of them, and hit follows hit in swift succession.
