

Again Ask Farmers To Save All Scrap Metals for Defense

Bids Will Be Asked From Junk Dealers After Collection Completed

Scrap iron and steel is not only desirable for the tonnage thus added to metals for defense but it is absolutely necessary in the present method of manufacturing new steel, according to County Agent W. V. Hays, who urges the farmers to collect scrap metal from their farms to be delivered to a central point or sale at a place and date to be announced later.

Farmers should collect metal and scrap material of all kinds, including iron, steel, brass, copper, lead, zinc, old tires, paper, rags, etc., said Mr. Hays, as this collection will aid in national defense, bring cash returns from its sale and remove certain hazards to people and livestock on the farm.

The following items should also be:

Mrs. Mary Horton Takes Over Management of Club

Management of the Country Club of Plymouth is being assumed today by Mrs. Mary Horton, who formerly operated "The Pines," on the Roper Highway, east of here. Mrs. Horton said that it would be necessary to have the club dining room closed today and tomorrow, while new equipment was being installed, but that she hoped to reopen Saturday with a complete dining room service, which is to be available to both members and non-members of the club.

Mrs. Horton is planning to operate a first-class restaurant at the club, with home-cooked meals especially featured. More complete details on the new arrangement will be available by next week.

Dr. E. A. Harper Resigns Position At Pulp Mill Here

Leaves for Brunswick, Ga.; Was Prominent in Local Affairs

Severing his connection with the North Carolina Pulp Company, where he had been employed for about four years as head of the chemistry department, Dr. E. A. Harper and his family left yesterday for Brunswick, Ga., where they will probably make their future home.

Coming to Plymouth when the plant was first located here, Dr. Harper became head of the chemistry department and continued in that work there until last week, when his resignation was accepted by officials of the company.

Dr. and Mrs. Harper and their son lived at the country club village during their stay in Plymouth and were very active and popular in the business, social and religious life of the town.

All three of them were members of the Methodist church, and very active in its affairs. Dr. Harper was a member of the Lions Club, and became well known through his activity in this organization. He served on several very important club committees and attended the meetings regularly.

The county board of education this week accepted the resignation of Dr. Harper as a member of the Plymouth school committee. He had been on this board for about two years and showed considerable interest in local school affairs. The Lions Club and the board of education both expressed regret at Dr. Harper's leaving, and he and his wife said that they were very reluctant to leave Plymouth, as they had enjoyed living here.

Seed-Feed Loans Available Again

Application blanks for seed and feed loans, which may again be obtained through the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan of the Farm Security Administration, are already here, about six weeks in advance of the usual time, according to Miss Martha Hornthal, who has been aiding farmers in preparing applications for the last several seasons. She will again do this work this season from the office of W. R. Hampton on Water Street.

The seed and feed loan office has rendered a valuable service to marginal farmers in the county in years past, and a fairly sizeable business is expected by the agency again this year.

Miss Hornthal said that in addition to having the blanks earlier this year, she understood the organization would be more liberal in the amount of money loaned per acre than heretofore, and she asks farmers to come in early to make their applications so that the money will be ready for them to get their fertilizer and seed earlier.

Court Halted Due To Illness of Clerk

After hearing only a few divorce cases, the January term of Washington County Superior Court adjourned Wednesday morning, when Judge J. Paul Frizelle, of Snow, left for his home. The remainder of the cases on the calendar were continued, due to the illness of Superior Court Clerk C. V. W. Ausbon.

Divorces were granted to the following: Mary A. Bryant from Harold Bryant; King D. Smith from Gladys Smith; Nettie Exum from Louis Exum; Thomas W. Woodley from Bessie Gray Woodley.

Grand Jury Errs in Report on Creswell School Cloak Rooms

Reported "Dilapidated" by Jury; School Has No Cloak Rooms

A letter received from Principal A. T. Brooks, of the Creswell school, received by the Beacon this week, indicates that the Washington County grand jury made an error in their report to Judge J. Paul Frizelle, of Snow Hill, presiding at the superior court session here last week, with reference to the statement that the cloak rooms of the school there were in a "dilapidated condition."

"Naturally," wrote Principal A. T. Brooks to the Beacon, "inasmuch as we have no such things as cloakrooms in the Creswell school we did not like such a derogatory statement. Will you be so kind as to investigate this and print a correction, providing you find me to be correct."

A check of the grand jury's report, as filed with the court, shows the following paragraph: "Creswell white school: In A No. 1 condition in every way except fountain which needs repairs. Cloak rooms in dilapidated condition."

It is possible that an error was made in dictating the report by the grand jury, or an error may have been made by the stenographer who wrote the report from a collection of notes made by the grand jury members.

H. H. McLean, county superintendent of schools, yesterday confirmed the fact that there were no cloakrooms in the Creswell school. He said screens had been placed in the classrooms for children to hang their wraps on.

Mr. Brooks also said in his letter that "the grand jury especially commended us for our clean building when they were down here, so you can understand how we feel."

Horse and Mule Clinics in County

A clinic for horses and mules will be held in Washington County starting on Monday, January 19, and continuing through January 20 and 21 in the afternoons only, starting at 1 p. m., and ending at 5 p. m., according to County Agent W. V. Hays.

Dr. A. J. Osteen, veterinarian, will examine free of charge all horses and mules for internal parasites, defective teeth and other ailments, according to Mr. Hays, who said that a nominal charge would be made for worm and dental treatment when the animals shows a need for them.

Mr. Hays advises that feed should be withheld from animals which are to be treated for internal parasites for at least 18 hours previous to the treatment.

Farmers are advised to bring their horses and mules to the following places between 1 and 5 p. m. on the days designated: Plymouth, Joe Shugar's Stable, Monday, January 19; Roper, Jim Gaylord's filling station, Tuesday, January 20; Cherry; Harry Barnes' store, Wednesday, January 21.

New Registration of Men for Selective Service February 16

Men Between 20 and 45 Not Previously Registered Will Be Listed

Preliminary plans for the third registration under the amended selective service act calls for the registration on Monday, February 16, of all men who attained their twentieth birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their forty-fifth birthday on February 16, 1942, and have not registered heretofore, according to E. S. Blount, chairman of the Washington County Selective Service Board.

It was reported today by Mr. Blount that a meeting of the board would be held next Tuesday night, when a detailed account of the registration plans will be made, including the anticipated number of registrants, selected, registration officials appointed, registration places designated, plans made for publicizing the registration, and other matters.

It is believed that the board will "draft" enough men and women who have special qualifications to serve as registrars, rather than appeal for volunteers, as the state and national service officials hope to have competent registrars at the designated places to handle the matter rapidly and efficiently.

Hours for registration on Monday, February 16, will be between 8 a. m. and 9:30 p. m. The places and personnel for registering those who present themselves will be announced later.

Another date will be set later for registration of men between the ages of 18 to 20, inclusive, who will not be subject to military service until they reach the age of 20. Also another date will be set for registration of men between the ages of 45 and 65, inclusive, who will not be eligible for military service but who are subject to call for other phases of national defense.

Hours for registration on Monday, February 16, will be between 8 a. m. and 9:30 p. m. The places and personnel for registering those who present themselves will be announced later.
