Creswell.—The Woman's Missionary Society of Creswell Baptist church was delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon, when it met for the monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Smithson, with 15 members and 2 visitors present.

Mrs. A. C. Harris, president, conducted the devotionals and presided at the business session. The topic for the month was "Think on These Things: Whatever Things Are Honest."

The society decided to have study of the mission book on Wednesday afternoon, March 4. Teachers of the book will be Mesdames A. L. Holmes, C. L. Hopkins, Clyde Smithson, A. C. Harrison and Fred Smith. It was announced that home mission and Annie W. Armstrong programs would be presented at the church Friday evening, March 6. Mrs. C. L. Hopkins and Mrs. Clyde Smithson were appointed program chairmen for this service.

The program for the month was effectively and very impressively presented by Mrs. Smithson, using as her topic "Honesty."

The heart of the W. M. U. was represented by a large red heart, composed of individual rims placed on a white background by the various speakers as they concluded their talks. The following members were introduced, each making a brief explanation of a particular topic: Mrs. H. W. Norman, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. A. L. Holmes, Mrs. C. L. Hopkins, and Mrs. A. H. Tucker. At the conclusion of each talk, Mrs. R. T. Hopkins, pianist, softly played a hymn significant to the thought of the speaker. Mrs. A. L. Holmes concluded the program with a prayer.

The March meeting will be held with Mrs. C. L. Hopkins.

Mrs. Smithson served an attractive chicken salad plate, hot coffee, candy and heart-shaped mints suggestive of Valentine.

Jack Edwards, of Greenville, Enters Race for Congress

Herbert Bonner, Incumbent, And Marvin Blount Already Candidates

Jack Edwards, Greenville attorney, announced Tuesday that he is a candidate for Representative from the First Congressional District, subject to the Democratic primary on Saturday May 30. Mr. Edwards' entry makes the race for this office a three-cornered one, since Representative Herbert C. Bonner has already announced he is a candidate for reelection; and Marvin K. Blount, also of Greenville, recently announced his candidacy.

Mr. Edwards said that he would make a "thorough canvass of the district, going direct to the people as far as it will be possible to do so in the length of time now before me."

Mr. Edwards moved to Greenville from the Albemarle section of the district. He was born in Hertford, finished the public schools there and attended the University of North Carolina. His course of study was interrupted by his service in the Army during World War I, but he returned to the university, finished his law course and was licensed to practice in August, 1925. He began the practice of his profession in Greenville in October of that year. He represented Pitt County in the 1933 General Assembly and served as secretary for four years to Hallet S. Ward, while the latter was representative from the first district in Congress. Mr. Edwards was formerly treasurer of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee and a member of the state finance committee of the Young Democratic Clubs. He is an Episcopalian, secretary of the fifth district Democratic judicial committee, vice president of the Pitt County bar, member of the American Legion, the Society of Forty and Eight, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. His late first wife was the former Miss Camilla McMullan, of Edenton, by whom he has one daughter, now a student at East Carolina Teachers College. His present wife was the former Miss Mary Shepard Parker, daughter of Surry Parker, formerly of Plymouth and now of Pinetown, where he is a prominent lumberman and manufacturer. His parents live in Hertford, where his father, W. F. C. Edwards, is prominent and well known.

AT PLYMOUTH THEATRE NEXT WEEK

The atmosphere is somewhat frigid when Rosalind Russell comes home to find her husband, Don Ameche, entertaining Kay Francis. It's one of the amusing scenes from "The Maltese Falcon," new "love tangle" comedy at the Plymouth Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

"Maltese Falcon" Is Scheduled at Local Theatre on Sunday

Humphrey Bogart Featured In Story of Search for Prized Statuette

The Plymouth Theatre's new feature attraction, here Sunday, will be "The Maltese Falcon," starring Humphrey Bogart. Adapted for the screen from the Dashiell Hammett novel, the film is a well-concocted mystery drama with a liberal dash of comedy and romance.

For "The Maltese Falcon," Warner Brothers have assembled a fine cast of season performers. Besides Bogart, there is charming Mary Astor in the romantic lead, Gladys George and Lee Patrick to give her some competition with the hero, Peter Lorre, in one of his most sinister roles, Sydney Greenstreet, well-known stage actor, from the cast of the Lunt-Fontaine play, "There Shall Be No Night," Elisha Cook, jr., Jerome Cowan, Barton MacLane and others.

Centering around the search for a porcelain statuette of fabulous value, the story of "The Maltese Falcon," is one of the most intriguing mystery stories ever written.

Employee Purchase Of Defense Bonds Is Arranged by A & P

Under Plan 65,000 Employees Voluntarily Agree to Wage Deductions

New York.—The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has completed arrangements for facilitating the voluntary purchase of defense bonds by employees through pay check deductions, John A. Harford, president of the company, announced today. The company has approximately 65,000 full time employees in the United States.

Under the plan employees may authorize deductions from their pay checks and the bonds will be issued through Federal Reserve banks and post offices. The company will deduct the money each week and purchase the bonds. The bonds will then be mailed to the employee-purchasers. The plan encourages the purchase of bonds by simplifying the procedure whereby employees may make a systematic contribution to the nation's war effort and at the same time establish a reserve fund for the future.

THE AMERICAN WOMAN

—what is her time and energy worth in 1942?

MORALE is a woman's job. The home is America's first line of defense. You've heard it, you've read it, you've said it yourself.

And now in the New Year, things being what they are... those words are a challenge to today's American Woman. And now, as always, she will meet them not only with spirit, but with resourcefulness.

New demands upon her time, energy, and budget bring a new appreciation of the constant helpfulness and thrift of her Electrical household servants... for her time, energy, and money can be used to greater advantage than doing the things which Electricity will do for a few cents a day!

Her problem is dual in 1942: Home must more than ever be a refuge from the turmoil of the outer world; yet she must find time for many demands outside those welcoming walls. Electrical servants not only contribute greatly to the comfort, convenience, and livability which her home must offer... but they free her, too, from many hours of household drudgery.

Electrical servants are thrifty, efficient, safe, and fast. Use them—to do a big job—better!
