Olsen and Johnson Funnier Than Ever In Screen Version

"Hellzapoppin'" Showing At Plymouth Theatre Thursday-Friday

"Hellzapoppin'", modestly described the greatest smash-bang, eye-filling, tune-filled show to hit New York in a dozen years, has reached the screen with the original stars, Olsen and Johnson, plus Martha Raye, Hugh Herbert, Mischa Auer, Jane Frazee and Robert Paige. The picture starts today at the Plymouth Theatre and runs through Friday.

Released by Universal, the Jules Levey Mayfair production boasts many new song hits composed for the picture. Singing and dancing choruses together with a score of unexpected innovations are declared to surpass the many highlights of the great Broadway success.

Tunes Listed
Included in the tune list are "Watch The Birdie," sung by Martha Raye and The Six Hits, "You Were There," sung by Jane Frazee and chorus, "Heaven For Two," warbled by Jane Frazee and Robert

Golf Tournament for Benefit of Red Cross Scheduled Here May 30 and 31

Complying with a request by national Red Cross headquarters, the local country club will stage a Red Cross Golf Tournament on the course here Saturday of next week, May 30, which is National Memorial Day, with play being allowed to continue over into Sunday, May 31. An entrance fee of $1 will be charged, and the entire proceeds will go to the benefit of the Red Cross for use in its war work program.

Winner of the tournament will be presented a special certificate issued by the Red Cross.

These tournaments are being held at golf clubs throughout the nation on Memorial Day, and the Red Cross expects to realize a considerable sum. The tournament here will be in charge of Ellis Maples, the club professional, and there will be classes for both men and women. Mr. Maples said they would be 18-hole handicap events, with the Red Cross Certificates to be awarded to both the winner and runner-up in the men's and women's classes.

The local pro asks all who will be able to play to see him and post their entry fee as soon as possible. The rounds may be played either Saturday or Sunday, May 30 or 31.

LOCAL GOLF TEAM DEFEATS NEW BERN BY 19½ TO 6½ IN MATCH HERE LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Total of 36 Players Take Part in Event; Visitors Win One Match

Eighteen New Bern golfers displayed plenty of ingenuity and enthusiasm for the game last Sunday, when they played the local team a match at the country club here, but when the scores were all added up, the Plymouth bunch came out on top by a point score of 19½ to 6½.

The group from the Craven County capital got together and hired an old baseball bus to bring them to Plymouth, the tire and gas situation being like it is, and they had a fine match, but the sand traps and bunkers here, which have yet to be entirely successfully stormed by invading golfers, proved a little too much for the visitors; and the local team, members of which are more than a little familiar with the pitfalls along the way, managed to come out on top.

Only one of the nine pairings of New Bern players won a match, Johnson and White topping Beam and McGowan, 2 to 1. In the other eight matches, the locals won six, while two were halved. Three of the local pairs made it a shut-out, defeating their opponents, 3 to 0. The matches were played on a best-ball-of-pair basis, and following are the results, the Plymouth pair being listed first in each grouping:

Maples and Goodman 3, McCannless and Billy Ferbee 0.
Morris and Meunier 1½, Jones and Bill Ferbee 1½.
Roy Manning and Crockett 2, Pate and Ham Ferbee 1.

Beam and McGowan 1, Johnson and Dr. White 2.
P. Arps and A. Harrison 2½, Fron Ferbee and McCotter ½.

Hardison and Stillman 1½, Hollister and Hines 1½.
Phillips and Whitford 3, Lee and Reel 0.

E. Arps and Hassell 3, Romanus and Hussey 0.
Totals: Plymouth 19½, New Bern 6½.

the Olive Hatch Water Ballet. Olsen and Johnson, of course, play their own crackpot, screwball, zany selves just as they did in the New York play, and Miss Raye has the role of an overgrown kiddie vaudeville player.

Writers Collaborate
Nat Perrin and Warren Wilson co-authored the screen play which is based on an original story by Perrin. The production, of course, is suggested by the remarkable stage play, "Olsen and Johnson's Hellzapoppin'."

Associate producers for "Hellzapoppin'" were Gleen Tryon and Alex Gottlieb, the men who made the Abbott and Costello hits, and the director was H. C. Potter. Woody Bredell was the cinematographer.

Milland, Goddard Appear Together In Spy Fun Film

"The Lady Has Plans" To Show Here Tuesday of Next Week Only

A romantic fun-for all with thrills galore is headed this way led by stars Ray Milland and Paulette Goddard. It is Paramount's hilarious spy-hunt movie, "The Lady Has Plans," which is due at the Plymouth Theatre next Tuesday only.

From all accounts, it is a hilarious film, teeming with suspense and racing with action. The story revolves around an ace newscaster, Milland, who is stationed in Lisbon, from which intrigue-steeped city he tries to keep America posted on European goings-on. To get the news, and give it, he needs an assistant and it is Paulette Goddard who gets the assignment.

However, there are foreign spies at work to keep Paulette on this side of the Atlantic. Important U. S. navy plans have been stolen and a reproduction of them drawn in invisible ink on the back of beautiful spy Margaret Hayes. Margaret is to impersonate Paulette, and upon her arrival in Lisbon where foreign agents await her, is to sell the plans to the highest bidder.

Due to an upset in the spies' timetable, Paulette arrives in Lisbon and is mistaken for the lady with the plans—as funny a case of mistaken identity as ever entertained movie-goers.

In addition to Margaret Hayes, Milland and Paulette Goddard get support from Roland Young, Albert Dekker and Cecil Kellaway, all of whom are exceptionally fine actors.

AVERTED BLOODSHED
The late Major General Smedley D. Butler of the United States Marines once received a massive silver cup in China for averting bloodshed there in the troubled days of 1929.

TO SHOW HERE NEXT MONDAY ONLY

Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullivan upset movie precedent with their romantic-comedy portrayals in "Appointment for Love," at the Plymouth Theatre next Monday, for one day only. Rita Johnson, Eugene Pallett, Ruth Terry and Reginald Denny round out the cast.

Margaret Sullivan And Charles Boyer Show Here Monday

"Appointment for Love" Film Play Is Merry, Mad Design for Loving

Since Shakespeare immortalized the balcony in "Romeo and Juliet" as a trysting place, the crying need of the film story has been a contemporary love-setting equivalent. Surprisingly, not one but two, sure-fire rendezvous lend diverting sidelights to Universal's "Appointment for Love," which comes to the Plymouth Theatre Monday to vindicate the modern screen-writers' claims for employing comparable scenic wherewithal for the business of the clinch.

New York Locale
A penthouse view of New York is up-state hunting lodge. In both situations, Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullivan, as co-stars of "Appointment for Love," find idyllic surroundings for romantic interludes in the streamlined, racy modern play.

While these supply the romantic potential, the play gains hectic comedy momentum through the frustrated efforts of the two principals to align their lives one with the other. For Boyer, portraying a Broadway playwright and a definite part of the night life that is known as cafe society, and Miss Sullivan, chic but professional in the role of a doctor, encounter no end of difficulty in synchronizing their domestic lives.

Complications Added
Complications are added when Miss Sullivan, after marrying ardent Mr. Boyer insists upon maintaining her separate apartment.

Adding talented highlights to the comedy-drama are Rita Johnson, Eugene Pallett, Ruth Terry, Reginald Denny, J. M. Kerrigan and others in key roles. William A. Seter directed and Bruce Manning produced "Appointment for Love."

LAMBS
Demonstration farmers sold 55.3 percent of all the lambs offered through the Watauga County lamb pool in 1941, reports W. Flake Bowles, assistant farm agent.

Gas Rationing and Tire Shortage May Help Increase Country Club Popularity

Officers of the country club of Plymouth are planning to make the club an outstanding recreation center for the people of this section during the summer months, with a varied program of golf activities and dances to be offered frequently.

The shortage of automobile tires and gasoline rationing will make it difficult for many people to take their usual week-end trips to beaches and other resort places, and naturally amusement and recreation centers more convenient should profit by this state of affairs. The greens on the golf course at the club here are just about perfect at this season of the year, and they compare favorably with those to be found anywhere in the nation. The clubhouse is also an ideal place to entertain parties, banquets and social events of every kind, the facilities being superior to any other like place in the section. Mrs. Mary Horton is in charge of the public dining room at the club, and it is not necessary to be a club member to get meals there. Local people who are wondering about their diversions during the coming months are invited to consider the advantages of membership in the club. The rates are very reasonable, and any member or officer of the club will be delighted to give those interested all the necessary information about securing membership.
