Few More Golfers Out Last Sunday

The weather was not as hot last Sunday, as it was the week before, and 16 players turned out for the blind bogey golf tournament at the country club, against only 10 for the preceding Sunday. Jim Henderson was the big winner, getting 8 hits on the blind bogey card and collecting 3 golf balls as first prize. Mr. Harrington, with 2 hits, was low, and he was also given 3 balls. Tom Lackland was second high, with 6 hits, and won 1 ball. On the low side, there were four persons tied for second, with 3 hits apiece, and they each received one ball. They were Abbott Morris, Roy Manning, E. P. Cunningham, and Bill Woolard.

Following is the list of entrants and number of hits each: Goodmon 5, Crockett 5, Henderson 8, Morris 3, Lackland 6, Harrington 2, Johnson 4, Roy Manning 3, D. J. Brinkley 3, Harrison 5, Cunningham 3, Margolis 5, Watts 4, B. Woolard 5, Booker 5, and G. Woolard 5.

Bathing, Boating and Dancing To Be Features of Holiday at Beach Monday

Independence Day will be celebrated this year in this section on Monday, July 6th, since the fourth of July falls on Saturday and most business men feel that they cannot close that day. Most of the entertainment program will be centered at Albemarle Beach, where bathing, boating and dancing are to be featured. Mr. L. W. Gurkin, owner of the resort, said that he had secured Hal Thurston and His Orchestra to furnish music for the dance Monday night, and it is expected that a large number will visit the beach during the day and evening. A fireworks program will also be presented Monday night. There will be no formal boat racing program this year, but it is expected there will be a large number of outdoor enthusiasts and impromptu races no doubt will be developed during the day.

According to Mr. Gurkin, Albemarle Beach is having one of its best seasons, from the standpoint of attendance, and he expects an unusually large crowd to be on hand for the festivities next Monday. Gas rationing probably will keep many from going to resort places much farther away, and no effort will be spared to help make all who go to the near-by beach have a delightful time, he said. "Come down and enjoy a big day's outing" Mr. Gurkin urges.

"Keep 'Em Flying" Headed by Cast of Likable Funmakers

Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, And Martha Raye Are Some of Stars

Heralded as one of the biggest comedy offerings in years, Universal's "Keep 'Em Flying," starring Abbott and Costello, with Martha Raye, Carol Bruce, William Gargan and Dick Foran, in featured support will be here next Monday and Tuesday at the Plymouth theatre. The vehicle, produced on a lavish scale, is backgrounded against Uncle Sam's efforts to annually train an additional 50,000 officers for the Army Air Corps. Merging riotous hilarity with romance, songs and aviation thrills, the offering boasts of a big and brilliant supporting cast headed by Charles Lang and the Six Hits. Made with the full cooperation of the War Department, most of the scenes were photographed at Cal-Aero Academy, Ontario, Calif., one of the thirty privately-operated flying schools now under contract to the government.

Abbott and Costello portray air school "grease monkeys," while Misses Bruce and Raye are seen as singing hostesses in a USO clubhouse. Gargan characterizes a civilian flying instructor, while Foran appears as a circus stunt flyer who enrolls in the school in order to be near Miss Bruce. Charles Lang portrays Miss Bruce's brother, a flying cadet. William Davidson is operator of the amusement park that figures in the opening scenes.

Four hundred screen extras and other players are included in the roster of "Keep 'Em Flying," which is further augmented by 460 "real" life cadets, who appear in the school sequences. More than 175 Army airplanes, plus six private stunt ships, were used during the filming of the exciting aerial scenes.

Don Raye and Gene dePaul, Universal's ace songwriting team, clefted several new tunes, all of them potential entrants in the Hit Parade race, for Misses Raye and Bruce.

Much Junk Rubber About Your House?

How much junk rubber is lying around your house? How many broken hot water bottles and old overshoes and worn-out tires? Scrap rubber has a wartime job to do. Scrap rubber refined into reclaimed rubber and mixed with crude rubber from our stockpile will help keep the wheels oiling toward victory! All the reclaimed rubber needed to manufacture the rubber parts of a pur-suit plane could come from three discarded tires or nine 20-foot lengths of rubber hose. An old pair of four-buckle arctics would provide enough reclaimed rubber for an Army raincoat and an inner tube would yield enough for ten civilian gas-masks.

Releigh—Long before the present rubber salvage drive began, the N. C. State Highway and Public Works Commission had donated almost 250,000 pounds of rubber to salvage piles, according to highway equipment engineer S. C. Austin. Most of the rubber is made up of old worn out tires, according to Austin, and further efforts are being made during the present drive to secure all available rubber from prison camps, district shops and other highway commission buildings throughout the state.

AT LOCAL THEATRE MONDAY-TUESDAY

Lou Costello struggles with a weak alibi for Martha Raye in this scene from Abbot and Costello's laugh riot, "Keep 'Em Flying," at the Plymouth Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Carol Bruce, William Gargan and Dick Foran also appear in the comedy.

Limit Is Placed On Fall Prices Clothes Of Women, Children

1942 Styles Cannot Be Sold For More Than Paid Last Season

All 1942 fall styles of women's, girls' and children's cloth outwear garments—coats, suits, dresses, and many other items—cannot be sold for prices above those charged last season under a new regulation issued May 26 by Price Administrator Henderson. Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers of such garments are required to establish their price lines for the 1942 fall season at no higher than their 1941 fall season price lines.

The regulation—No. 153, Women's, Girls' and Children's Outwear Garments—the first applying solely to finished wearing apparel, sets as the maximum price for each seller the highest price charged by him for a garment of substantially equal workmanship and quality during a base period of July 1 through September 30, 1941. It became effective May 29. While specifying that prices for the types of apparel covered by the new regulation shall be no higher than those charged during last year's selling season, Mr. Henderson pointed out that the order takes into account simplification of styles and reductions in the yard goods going into a garment, as provided by War Production Board orders.

As used in the regulation, the term "women's girls' and children's outwear garments" including garments of the following types: coats, suits, separate jackets, separate skirts, dresses, blouses, snowsuits, legging sets, and separate leggings.

Bring In a Load of Old Rubber When You Come To Plymouth On July 4th!

Gene Tierney and Henry Fonda Stars Of Current Picture

"Rings on Her Fingers" at Local Theatre Today And Tomorrow

All set to keep moviegoers laughing with their lovin' are Henry Fonda and Gene Tierney who breeze into the Plymouth Theatre Thursday and Friday in 20th Century-Fox's mad-cap comedy, "Rings on Her Fingers." The event may be set down as an historic one, since glamorous Gene Tierney makes her initial appearance in a youthful, modern role which requires her to go to town in the latest fashions. Up to the present time Gene has specialized in costume roles. Henry Fonda again repeats in a gay comedy role which had the previewers holding their sides with laughter.

The new picture has Gene Tierney rising from shop-girl to debutante in one fell swoop, when Spring Byington and Laird Cregar decide to use her as bait to trap a millionaire into parting with his cash. The "millionaire" turns out to be Fonda and they get away with all the money he has in the world.

This puts Gene on the spot since she has already fallen in love with him, and the balance of the picture keeps her worrying that he'll find out about her.

In his turn, Hank Fonda gets in a gambling spree that is a key to the hilarity of the film. As jackpot after jackpot comes through, Hank's discomfiture is even more complete.

In addition to the two stars, Laird Cregar, Spring Byington, John Shepperd and Henry Stephenson are said to turn in great acting jobs to keep the film paced for laughs.
