EXTENSION WORK

Since the tobacco crop for this year appears to be a little earlier than in past years it is fairly certain that buyers will be going through the country to buy tobacco from producers before it is prepared for market. It will be necessary for all tobacco sold at any place other than at warehouse auction to be accompanied by a Bill of Non-Warehouse Sale. These forms will be furnished to buyers as soon as they are printed but any buyer who purchases tobacco without the form will take the tobacco at his own risk.

Tobacco marketing cards will be prepared and ready for delivery as soon as they are received from the Washington Office and it is most important that a producer have this marketing card for his farm before he sells any tobacco. The buyer who accepts tobacco from a producer who does not have his card will be required to obtain a Memorandum of Sale and this may be hard to do unless the producer has his marketing card at the time the tobacco is purchased.

Tobacco producers will be given a notice when their tobacco cards are ready for delivery. We are making every effort to have the cotton marketing cards ready for delivery at the time the tobacco cards are delivered so as to make one trip to the county office do for all.

Notices are being mailed from the county office giving producers their planted acreages of special crops according to the reports turned in by reporters. If you have received your notice and find any error please notify us and we will make every effort coming in to lay some two or three weeks. Pulletts should be vaccinated when weighing two to three pounds. Arrangements have been made for securing vaccine at the county office.

Farmers intending to vaccinate horses for staggers should do this right away. Staggers usually follows a wet period. Our department of agriculture tells us that staggers in horses is caused by a virus and can be transmitted by flies or mosquitoes and is not caused altogether by eating molded pasture grasses.

It is now too late to mop cotton for the control of boll weevil. Fields should be spot checked and by dusting areas showing an infestation now we can control a general infestation. Dusting with calcium arsenate is recommended.

The Washington County Farm Bureau will hold their annual barbecue meeting at Rae's Beach at 6:30 o'clock in the evening of Wednesday, July 8th. Mr. R. Flake Shaw, executive secretary of the Farm Bureau Federation will be the principal speaker. Other interesting features have been planned for the program.

From all available information our farmers will do well to make a provision for ample storage of corn, small grain and soybeans, also peanuts on their farms for this coming harvest season. The usual, and oil mill storage space will be crowded to capacity and no doubt our farmers will be forced to store for a considerable length of time their products on their farms. A provision has been made for allowing so much a bushel or per hundred weight for products stored on the farm on most commodities on which a loan price has been fixed. Don't forget bags definitely will be scarce and the price almost prohibitive.

Reports have come in that a number of horses have been lost from sunstroke or overheating. This condition is not usually found where horses have a constant supply of fine salt and drinking water. Horses should be watered in mid-morning and mid-afternoon during the hottest weather. They should be permitted to cool a few minutes before taking their water. Also water should be pumped at noon or an hour or so before being offered to work stock. They do not take chilled water readily nor is it as good for them as water which has been allowed to stand for about an hour.

Soybean seed stored in bulk sometimes loses viability—the ability to sprout—to a serious extent. Tests by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in different regions indicate that this is mainly a matter of controlling the storage temperature and seed moisture. One lot of soybean seeds with 8 to 9 per cent moisture, held at 35 degrees F. for eight years suffered no loss in viability, whereas another batch, with 13 to 14 per cent moisture, held at 70 degrees F. showed no germination after 20 months.

The secret of summer eggs is in keeping the laying hens cool and eating. Laying houses should be open with ample ventilation and a supply of cool drinking water should be looked to at least three times a day. Wet mash made with skim milk or cool water can properly be fed in the middle of the day. Feed about as much mash as can be cleaned up in thirty minutes. Never under any conditions leave a wet mash in feed trough overnight. Most of these feeds contains tankage or fish meal which will ferment in a few hours and when eaten by poultry will cause deadly results.

Pulletts coming in to lay within the next two months should be vaccinated now. If vaccinated later this treatment will usually delay their

Sweeteners
Here are some simple rules to follow in shifting recipes from white sugar to other sweeteners:

Honey—Replace sugar with honey, cup for cup, but use one-half the quantity of other liquid called for. If recipe called for one cup sugar and one cup milk, use one cup honey and 1/2 cup milk.

Corn, cane or maple syrups—Replace sugar with syrup, measure for measure, and reduce liquid only one-third.

Sorghum Syrup—Follow the same rule as with the other syrups, but reduce the baking powder called for in the original recipe. Use 1/2 teaspoon of soda for every cup of sorghum syrup. This quantity of soda and sorghum has leavening power equal to 2 teaspoons of baking powder.

Swain Club
Poultry report of Swain Club was, eggs sold $115.20, chickens $10.25.

The members reported all types of vegetables in their garden. Mrs. Sawyer set out 460 strawberry plants. Twenty-four dresses were made and six other garments.

Sugar - Saving Tips . . .

In home baking, delightful cakes, cookies and other good things can be made by using sweeteners other than sugar. Molasses, sorghum, honey, light and dark corn syrup and maple syrup are available and are excellent substitutes. All of these sweeteners contain some water since they are in liquid or "syrupy" form. Therefore a few changes must be made when these are used. Cut out these rules and paste them in your recipe book:

- 1—Never substitute other sweeteners for all sugar in baking recipes. Equal parts of sugar and other sweeteners give excellent results. One-fourth sugar and three-fourths other sweetener gives good results.
- 2—When using molasses or sorghum, reduce liquid one-fourth cup for each cup of molasses or sorghum used. Allow one-half teaspoon of baking soda for each cup of molasses or sorghum.
- 3—When using honey, reduce liquid one-fourth cup for each cup of honey used. Use slightly lower oven temperature to prevent over-browning.
- 4—When using corn syrup, reduce liquid one-fourth cup for each cup of corn syrup used. Light corn syrup is better for light cakes, breads and cookies. Dark corn syrup is good in spice and other dark cookies, cakes, breads.

AND FOR ALL BAKING ALWAYS USE . . .
