

Church of Nazarene Is Organized Here

Plymouth Is First In North Carolina East of Raleigh

Church Organized With 17 Members; Other Will Join Sunday

Under the direction of Evangelist Raymond Browning, who has been conducting the tent revival here, the first Church of the Nazarene east of Raleigh was established in Plymouth last Sunday morning, 17 persons coming into the membership. Others are to be received next Sunday, and a place for regular worship will also be secured. A pastor will be appointed at once, Mr. Browning said, and will come here to take charge within a few weeks.

Mr. Browning, who is superintendent of the Carolina district, which includes all of North Carolina and part of South Carolina, gives the following outline of the work of the Church of the Nazarene:

The work of this church was begun in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1907 with something over 5,000 members. The present membership is above 175,000. It has six colleges in the United States and one in Canada, with more than 3,000 students enrolled, most of them working while studying and being trained for definite Christian work.

Nazarene congregations, even when small, are able to support their preachers well because a great many of them are tithers, contributing one-tenth of all their income to the work of the church. Last year the Nazarenes led the 25 principal denominations in per capita giving, $30.01 for every man, woman and child in their membership.

The Nazarene Young Peoples Societies have a membership of more than 50,000, and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society numbers above 60,000. The Nazarene people are among the most evangelistic of all and furnish the bulk of all the evangelists and evangelistic singers for the camp meetings in America, interdenominational and otherwise. Their local churches think nothing of holding two to four revivals each year. Said Evangelist Browning:

"The organization of this church in Plymouth will be of peculiar interest to Nazarenes everywhere. North Carolina is the last territory in the United States for the Nazarenes to enter, for the reason that the church started in the west and traveled east, and this is the first Nazarene church in North Carolina east of Raleigh."

If you must waste gasoline, get a cigarette lighter—we need the rest to lick the Axis.

Schedule of Services at Episcopal Church Here

"The Sacraments of the Church" will be the theme of a series of sermons to be delivered by the Rev. William B. Daniels, Jr., minister in charge of Grace Episcopal Church, beginning at the evening service on Sunday, August 30. The subject for the first sermon is "Holy Baptism." The sermon will be preceded by the reading of the First Office of Instruction, and will begin at 8 p. m. It is requested that all persons who wish to be confirmed at the time of the annual visitation of Bishop Thomas C. Darst to the parish on October 5 attend these evening services as part of the preparation for confirmation.

Other services scheduled for August 30, the Thirteenth Sunday after Trinity, are as follows: 10 a. m.—Church School; 11 a. m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon; 2 p. m.—Junior Rehearsal. Mothers of children in the Junior Choir are requested to meet at the church on Tuesday evening, September 1, at eight o'clock.

Red Cross Workers To Meet With Local Chapter Next Week

Home Nursing Conference To Be Held Here Thursday, September 3

Plymouth will be one of the Red Cross Chapter in the State of North Carolina to act as hosts to Home Nursing Conference groups, according to announcement just made by Red Cross Chairman John W. Darden. The conference in Plymouth will begin September 3, and all sessions will begin at 9:30 a. m. and will continue until 4 p. m., with time out for lunch.

The purpose of the conference is to give assistance to instructors in their planning and to aid Home Nursing Committee members in their work. The conference will afford an opportunity to discuss common problems and plans with our representative.

It is hoped that all prospective instructors, Red Cross Nursing committee members and other persons who are interested in the program will attend. Special attention will be given to the beginning instructors and to problems of committee function. Mrs. Robert B. Trotman, Home Nursing chairman, stated:

"Our representative will be Miss Christine Cornwell, of the American Red Cross, who is thoroughly familiar with the program. It is to be hoped we will have a large group present from our chapter."

All instructors should bring with them their syllabus and samples of their teaching materials sent them upon authorization, and note books and pencils.

All who took home with them after the spring meeting copies of the book, "American Red Cross Text Book on Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick," are requested by Mrs. Trotman to return them at once to Mr. John W. Darden at the postoffice.

Program of Services for Local Christian Church

The Rev. B. E. Taylor, pastor of the Christian Church in Plymouth, will occupy his pulpit at the 11 o'clock morning service next Sunday, but may be called away for the evening, in which event he will have a substitute to preach. The evening service begins at 8 o'clock, Sunday School at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

War Is Bringing Out American Ingenuity

In both consumer-goods and industrial fields, the week brings abundant evidence that good old "American ingenuity," which we Americans have so proudly hailed for many generations—and which the present war is putting to its sternest test—is right in there pitching, trading punches with Mars. A specialty shop held an "ingenuity show" that revealed: a wool-like cloth that's made of soybeans... A "victory" electric fan, with blades of masonite, and with silver instead of copper in the cord-wood... A sun lamp bulb which needs no reflector or metal stand because the reflector is inside the bulb, which screws into an ordinary electric outlet... A clothes brush with no bristles at all—it's made of plastic and cleans by friction. There'll be a lot of that. Materials due for a terrific upsurge in just this sort of thing are glass, plastics and wood.

On the industrial front American ingenuity is battling out home runs at a lively rate. One example (nameless) is an auto parts company which, undertaking shell manufacture, found it had to utilize subcontractors in surrounding cities, so organized a motor truck route that now covers a 125-mile route every day, touching all six bases and constituting, in effect, a 125-mile "assembly line".... One company now is turning out a half-ton of mercury a day that is so pure the purity has to be expressed like this: 99.99995 per cent. Formerly raw mercury came from Spain, Italy and Austria; now it is made from cinnabar ore from California.

PEANUT OIL NOW U. S. WAR WEAPON

Peanuts for oil to fight the Axis. That is just one of the many contributions North Carolina farmers are making to the war effort, according to the State USDA War Board, with headquarters at State College. In all American farmers will produce almost five million acres of peanuts this year—twice as many as ever have been grown in any single year. Most of these peanuts will be crushed into oil from which can be made hundreds of products for both military and civilian purposes. The chemist shown above, like hundreds of others, is busy seeking and improving new power uses for peanut oil.

Funeral Held Here Last Saturday for James Ernest Lilley

Died Thursday at Home of Daughter Here; Ill Since Early in April

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday afternoon for James Ernest Lilley, aged 59 years, who died Thursday afternoon at the family residence, 16 West Third Street, in Plymouth. Services were held in the home and at the grave by the Rev. Luther Ambrose, assisted by the Rev. William B. Daniels, Jr., and the Rev. B. E. Taylor. The pallbearers were: Stewart Davis, Arthur Vail, Jesse Knowles, Milton Chesson and Bob Lewis. Burial was in the Windley Cemetery.

Mr. Lilley was born October 10, 1882, at Jamesville, N. C., the son of James Ridden Lilley and Martha Arment (Newman) Lilley. When a young man he lived several years in Plymouth and was married in Roper, December 20, 1905, his bride being Miss Margaret Olivia Davis. He was a lumberman and moved occasionally to a new location, living several years at Whiteville, N. C., and for the last five years at Conway, S. C., where he was superintendent of the Conway Lumber Co. He became ill last April and in July came to Plymouth hoping to recover his health here. The day before his death he was feeling cheerful and hopeful, but that night suffered a hemorrhage and died at 3:25 o'clock the next afternoon. He was a member of the Christian Church, a member of the Maccabees and of the Charitable Brotherhood and recently received his first degree in a Masonic Lodge.

Immediate survivors include his widow; one son, Harold R., now serving in the army but who was able to come here for the funeral, and five daughters, Mrs. John M. Ewell of Plymouth and Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Wiley G. Griste, jr. of Charleston, S. C., Mrs. Ned Swain, of Plymouth, Miss Mary Louise Lilley and Miss Rachel Lilley of Plymouth. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. L. W. Mizell of Vandemere, N. C., and three brothers, Cleveland Lilley, a world war veteran in a government hospital at Roanoke, Va., Lyman Lilley of Norfolk, Va. and Leamon Lilley of Baltimore, Md.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the home, with burial in the Windley Cemetery.
