

Lengthy Session in Recorder's Court; One Trial by Jury

Next Week's Session Will Be Held Thursday Instead of Tuesday

With Judge W. R. Gaylord presiding and W. L. Whitley representing the state as solicitor, proceedings of the recorder's court Tuesday were as follows:

Charles B. Fowler, charged with speeding, plea of guilty; fined $5 and costs.

Roland Spruill, colored, charged with larceny, found not guilty.

Frank Holly, charged with assault; found not guilty.

Kider Brown and Willie Cradle, colored, charged with public drunkenness, each fined $10 and costs.

Monte Davenport, charged with driving while intoxicated; plea of guilty, fined $50 and costs.

Alex Comstock, charged with assault; tried by jury and found not guilty.

W. A. Davenport, charged with attempted assault, found not guilty.

Lue Read, charged with assault with deadly weapon. The court entered the following order: "Defendant pleads guilty to an assault with a deadly weapon, inflicting bodily harm. It is adjudged that the defendant be imprisoned for six months, and he pay a fine of $50 and costs, together with the bill of Dr. T. L. Bray for treatment of the prosecutress, Frank Holley. Read sentence to be suspended upon condition that the defendant appear in this court on the first Tuesday of each and every month for a period of two years and show that he has been law abiding and of good behavior and that he has kept the peace as to all persons."

Two cases were continued to Thursday, September 10: Annie Lee Brown, charged with larceny; and Charlie Hill, charged with receiving stolen property.

SCHOOL BEGINS

rubber and gasoline shortage, make this necessary.

Mr. Trotman said that games will be played with any team that can afford to come here for the game or is willing to provide transportation for Plymouth teams to go where the game or games will be played.

Athletics in the gymnasium will receive close attention, both for the boys and the girls, and more general physical development is expected than when such development hinges on preparation for some contest games that include only a few of the students.

The high school is now without an auditorium, it having been taken for classrooms, providing two. This is why there were no formal opening exercises today. Additional rooms cannot now be provided because of inability to obtain building material.

The total enrollment at the high school last school year, including the eighth grade, was 217, being 16 more than the previous year. An even larger enrollment is expected this year. In the elementary grades the enrollment last year was 575, being a gain of 49 over the year before. The total enrollment in all grades was 792 last year, 65 more than for the preceding term.

Success in County; No Tabulation Yet Scrap Metal Drive Meeting With Fair

About 10 tons of scrap metal collected in the county was last week sent to Norfolk, Va., by the salvage committee of the Washington County Civilian Defense Council, and Richard West, with H. H. McLean, W. V. Hays and C. E. Ayers, is pushing the drive for junk metal said that about 15 tons are now in the yard here being sorted to throw out the useless stuff. In addition to all this, 10 tons of metal collected in the Creswell section, was sold this week to an out-of-the-county dealer.

Mr. West said that while the drive for scrap metal is proceeding quietly, it is going on steadily, and before the quest for junk ends, Washington County will have made a good showing in responding to the government call for materials needed to help win the war.

Colored Selectees, 35 Out of 57 Sent, Accepted by Army

15 Out of 32 From Here Rejected; Only 4 Out of 14 From Roper

Of the 56 colored men of Washington County and one transfer from Parkley, Va., who left Plymouth last Thursday for Fort Bragg for possible army service, 34 of them and the transferee passed the examinations, were inducted into the armed forces and then given furloughs of 14 days to return and settle their affairs at home before going into training. Most of them accepted the furloughs and returned home. They will return to Fort Bragg on September 10 and 11.

The selectees accepted for service are:

From Roper: William Lee Brown, James Richard Cox, Julius Walker, Phillip Moore, Walter Fields, James Tem McCray, Raleigh James Woodley, Jonni Marvin Blount, Frederick Downing, James Henry Morris, Lemond Jackson.

From Creswell: Nathaniel Earl Spencer, William Lieutenant Littlejohn, John Robert Davis, Calvin Creedmore, Howard McDowell Myers, Norman Lee Rogers.

Transferee: William Henry Blount. Of the 32 men sent from Plymouth, 15 were rejected for physical or mental deficiency; of 14 from Roper, 4 were rejected; and 3 out of 9 from Creswell were rejected.

The next quota of colored selectees to be sent from Washington County will go on September 30, when 45 will be called.

Court Imposes Fine For Simple Assault

In the recorder's court last week James Thomas appeared to answer a charge of an attempted hold-up and creating a public nuisance by using profane language. The evidence did not sustain the charge, the state's chief witness testifying in effect that the affair was little more than a brawl with no hold-up attempted, so Judge W. H. Gaylord, presiding, changed the complaint to simple assault and imposed a fine of $5 and costs.

An impression was current that the fine was for the major offense, whereas it was only for a minor infraction of the law.

Red Cross Home Nursing Activities Gain Importance

Shortage of Doctors and Nurses Increases Need, Speaker Says

Red Cross activities, local and general, were discussed briefly Wednesday at the morning session of Red Cross workers in Plymouth, meeting in the American Legion Hall for a home nursing conference. Mrs. Robert B. Trotman, home nursing chairman, presided.

Miss Christine Cornwell, of the American Red Cross staff, was present to aid the home nursing committee plan its work. Experienced in the problems that frequently confront them, she proved a real inspiration to committee members in need on immediate and future activities.

John W. Darden, Red Cross chapter chairman, spoke briefly of the general importance of the Red Cross and of the greater local interest being taken in its work, apparent by the roll call response this year with near 600 members, as compared with half that number last year. Right afterwards, when a call was made for war relief, Plymouth went above its quota of $1,500. At the next roll call campaign, with a war relief drive at the same time, he looks for another 100 per cent gain.

Dr. S. V. Lewis, district health officer, also addressed the conference, dwelling on the importance of training first-aid workers in the homes. He gave some local statistics to demonstrate how such training would be effective in averting both deaths and accidents.

"Most Red Cross workers start as volunteers," said Miss Cornwell. Noting the increasing shortage everywhere of doctors and nurses, because of the war, she stressed the importance of first aid and home nursing information at present and in the months ahead. She spoke also of preparedness. "Mass migration brings increase of illness, largely among the school children, and germs are transmitted that spread through the country," she said. "The Red Cross teaches the people how to live better and more safely. The trend is to make the people more self-reliant, particularly toward their own community. The war won't last forever, and public health is here to stay."

Following the opening session, the conference went into the actual work before it, Miss Cornwell leading the way and answering questions by members of the committee relative to procedure, both in the way of giving first aid and in the instruction to be given others.

TEXTBOOKS

(Starts on Page One)

The North Carolina legislature not having appropriated money to furnish free textbooks for the eighth grade—although it ranks as an elementary grade—books for eighth grade pupils cannot be furnished free, according to the State Textbook Commission. In the eighth grade, the flat fee is $2.40 for the year, this entitling the pupil to all the regular basal textbooks authorized for this grade and certain other supplementary materials, the kind and amount not yet being known or available but to be made available as soon as possible after schools open.

One agriculture book will be furnished for each agriculture student paying the flat fee and eight volumes of bulletins issued by State College will be furnished each agricultural department.

Each school offering home economics will be supplied with two books per pupil enrolled for that course.

Pupils will not be permitted to use supplementary readers, eighth grade and high school books, unless they have paid the rental fee. The full fee should be paid promptly at the opening of the school so that all students may have the privilege of using the books during the full school term. Each pupil must pay the full amount of the rental fee.

All textbooks issued to the pupils, either free or rented, must be returned in good condition. Children will be required to pay for books lost or damaged if the damage is greater than normal wear. Superintendent McLean urges the cooperation of the parents in seeing that the pupils take proper care of books.

The Rev. G. C. Wood, pastor of the Pleasant Grove Methodist church, will preach there next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Wood has just concluded a revival meeting at Pleasant Grove, with the Rev. A. L. Thompson, of Ahsokie, as guest preacher. Mr. Wood is pastor of the M. E. churches at Roper, Pleasant Grove, Mackeys, Jamesville and Sileam. He manages to preach each Sunday at two of them and once a month at the other three. He says he has a very difficult problem in stretching his allotment of gas to visit all his charges.

Evening Worship Service Resumed by Methodists

Evening worship will be resumed next Sunday at the Plymouth Methodist church, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. O. L. Hardwick. During July and August there was only one worship service each Sunday, but now there will be morning worship at 11 o'clock and evening worship at 8 o'clock each Sunday. The Epworth League will also begin its work again and meet each Sunday at 7 p. m. Church school at 9:45 each Sunday morning with J. W. Norman, superintendent.

After the sermon next Sunday evening the third quarterly conference will be held, and church members are urged to attend this service.

Colored Selectees 'To Be Entertained'

In honor of the Roper, Plymouth and Creswell colored men recently inducted into the army and who, after being at home on furlough for a short time, will leave next Thursday and Friday for their training fields, a chicken supper is to be served in the J. B. Clemmons High School at Roper next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, arrangements being in charge of members of the Mount Ebrew Baptist church. The Roper colored glee club will sing, and the public is invited. Lawyer P. H. Bell will make an address of good cheer to the men who are "in the army now."

Guests who have indicated they will attend if they can and speak are Postmaster J. W. Darden, Former Senator Carl L. Bailey and E. J. Hayes.

The entertainment is being sponsored by colored members of the publicity and morale committee of the county Civilian Defense Council. E. V. Wilkins, of Roper, is chairman of the committee.

Plymouth Lions To Again Meet Weekly

Following the summer months when the Plymouth Lions met in alternate weeks, the regular weekly meeting each Thursday night in the Royal Legion hall has been resumed. President L. S. Thompson said there should be a large turnout of Lions tonight.

At last week's meeting the Lions voted to buy a service flag to be placed on the walls of their hall in honor of two Plymouth Lions now in the armed forces, Dr. E. W. Ferguson and W. Blount Rodman. Action was taken on the motion by Lion Still, seconded by Lion Lucas. Secretary T. C. Burgess showed several service flag pictures from which to make selection. The one chosen will be 18 by 24 inches in size.

President Thompson named P. W. Brown, W. D. Hays and P. E. Noble as the Lions Greeting Committee.

A very nice dinner was served by The Young Matrons Club of the Christian Church.

After the dinner the directors met and voted to contribute $20 to buy materials for work by the blind, the money to be expended under direction of Miss Patricia Stone.

Home Gardener Should Not Attempt To Save Seed

Since the production of high grade vegetable seed, relatively free from disease, is really one of the most highly specialized phases of agriculture, the home gardener might be wise to buy all of his seed from dealers. Those who do save seed from their garden are likely to have mixed varieties.
