Dinner Tuesday Night by Women's Clubs Plymouth Faculty Members Honored at

Plymouth school faculty members were honored at a two-course Halloween dinner Tuesday evening, given by the local woman's club and the junior woman's club in the community building.

Mrs. A. J. Byrd, president of the senior club, and Mrs. Linwood Brown, president of the junior club, greeted the guests and directed them to their seats at the table, which held flower arrangements in Halloween colors.

Mrs. R. H. Lucas gave the invocation, after which "America" was sung by the group, with Mrs. R. W. Johnston accompanying on the piano. The club presidents then expressed words of welcome.

Following the dinner, a program was rendered, with Mrs. Byrd in charge. A quiz program was conducted by Mrs. T. L. Bray, with five teachers and five club members taking part. The teachers won. Mrs. E. W. Furgerson rendered two vocal numbers, with Mrs. Johnston at the piano. A humorous reading was then given by Miss Charlotte McNair. H. H. McLean, county superintendent of schools, and R. B. Trotman, principal of the local schools, made brief talks. Mrs. W. V. Hays made a talk, bespeaking aid and interest in establishing a recreation center here for the young people of the community.

In conclusion, "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung.

The dinner was served by six high school girls: Frances Spruill, Martha Manning, Carolyn Brown, Jean Modlin, Eunice Holliday, and Joyce Harris.

Literary Club Entertained By Mrs. J. F. Jordan

Mrs. J. F. Jordan delightfully entertained the Thursday Afternoon Literary Club on October 22, at the Plymouth Country Club.

Mrs. W. H. Peele presided and Mrs. C. E. Ayers read the minutes in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. S. V. Lewis. The president reported that five of the members were planning to attend the district club meeting in Powellsville this week.

Following the business session, Mrs. J. R. Campbell presented a paper—"Understanding the News—How to Read a Newspaper."

Mrs. Edison Davenport read an essay "The World We Want After the War," that won her second place on a meeting of Farm Bureau women held in Raleigh last Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Clark gave a response to Mrs. Davenport's paper. Mrs. T. L. Bray led the devotional at the opening of the meeting.

A chicken salad supper was served at the conclusion. The table held arrangements of Mexican Sunflowers in Halloween containers. Narrow strips of black and orange crepe paper extended down the length of the refreshment table, and orange candles in crystal holders completed the table appointments.
