McMillen to Talk At State Meeting

One of the featured speakers at this year's Farm and Home Week at State College, August 18-21, will be Wheeler McMillen, editor-in-chief of Farm Journal and also the news magazine Pathfinder.

McMillen will speak Tuesday evening, August 19, on a program sponsored by the Rural Church Institute. His subject will be "The Rural Church and Community Life." Special music will be furnished by the choir of the Beech Grove Methodist Church of Craven County.

Long a prominent agricultural editor, McMillen is also well and widely known as a public speaker and his speeches have been widely reprinted. As an editor, his columns in the Farm Journal reach more than 2,860,000 farm families, and those in Pathfinder more than 1,200,000.

Long interested in finding new industrial uses for farm products, McMillen was a prime founder of the National Farm Chemurgic Council, of which he has been president since 1937. "New Riches from the Soil," his fourth book, has lately sold out several editions.

He is a member of the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and chairman of the national committee on rural Scouting. For service to American boyhood he has received the highest awards of both the

Tobacco Growers Urged to Keep Up Fight on Insects

Tar Heel tobacco growers were urged this week not to relax their efforts in fighting insects.

Entomologists at N. C. State College said insects are seriously threatening the 1952 crop. Flea beetles, budworms, hornworms, and grasshoppers are all present in some fields, it was said.

Budworms have been plentiful this season, and the early crop of hornworms has been one of the heaviest on record, the entomologists said. They added that these insects, as well as flea beetles and grasshoppers, can cause severe crop losses right up to and during priming.

All insecticides should be applied carefully; otherwise they will not be fully effective in controlling insect pests.

The entomologists also had a word of caution about using insecticides for control of grasshoppers, since all of the recommended materials are likely to taint the leaf flavor if improperly used. They urged use of sprays and dusts only around the field edges and use of baits where it is necessary to apply materials throughout the tobacco field.

The chemicals Chlordane, Aldrin, and Toxaphene have been found highly effective against grasshoppers. No harm will be done to gardens, pastures, or to livestock when the materials are used as recommended. Users are urged to study recommendations carefully and follow safe rules for handling at all times.

Citrus Outlook Good

The outlook for the 1952-53 citrus crop is good in California and Florida, fair in Arizona, but poor in Texas and other states.

Army and Air Force postal crews in the European Command handled almost 26,000,000 pounds of mail during 1951.

Boy Scouts and the Future Farmers of America, McMillen is a trustee of Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, a director of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, and of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. He maintains offices in Philadelphia and Washington and lives near Hopewell, N. J.

CONSERVATION CONVERSATION

By H. E. NEWLAND, Soil Conservation Service

W. E. Holton, who lives in the Pea Ridge Road section near Scuppernon Church has the right idea on this hog pasture problem. He is preparing his land for ladino clover in four foot beds on low land, liming and fertilizing and preparing a firm seed bed. He will seed 3 pounds of ladino clover per acre in September. In addition he will seed 2 1/2 acres of Rye this fall and seed lespedeza in the Spring. He says that during the hot summer months a farmer needs lespedeza to turn his hogs on in order to protect his ladino clover.

The soil conservation service and the PMA are helping Mr. Hilton to plan and establish a sound program of conservation for his farm. This assistance is made possible through the Pamlico Soil Conservation District. The supervisors of this district are meeting today to plan for better service for Washington County farmers.
