

Plymouth Man Is Honored by Firm

A Plymouth man—Leroy Bateman—was among five salesmen with Panther Oil & Grease Manufacturing Company, of Fort Worth, Texas, recently honored at the 25th annual Distinguished Salesmen's Award banquet at Hotel Texas, in Fort Worth.

Also, salesmen throughout the country with various other Fort Worth firms were also honored at the banquet.

The salesmen received "Sammy" statuettes from their respective firms in recognition of outstanding sales records during the past year. Presentations were made by A. M. Pate, jr., banquet chairman.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram ran a series of stories listing salesmen to get awards and giving a brief sketch of each. This is what the paper had to say about Bateman:

D. L. Bateman, of Plymouth, N. C., has been volume leader for the company's domestic water-proofing division for six consecutive years. He is an amateur golfer and has won several tournaments in North Carolina. Prior to joining the sales force of the Texas firm, Bateman was a salesman for the H. E. Harrison Wholesale Company here for a period of ten years, broken by service in World War II.

Town Rather Deserted as Wednesday Closing Starts

Local business houses began the regular weekly half-holiday closings Wednesday of this week and the town took on a rather deserted appearance as most businesses other than drug stores, restaurants and filling stations closed, either at noon or at 1 p. m.

It was recently voted to begin the closings this week and to continue the practice through the last Wednesday in September. Most business houses will close Wednesdays at noon but grocery stores voted to remain open until 1 p. m.

Final Rites for W. T. Alexander

William T. (Bill) Alexander, member of an old and prominent Creswell family and a lifelong resident of the Creswell community, died at his home Thursday morning, January 7, Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon, January 10, at 3 o'clock, in the Creswell Methodist Church, and interment followed in the family cemetery, Creswell.

Mr. Alexander was born in Creswell April 8, 1891, the son of the late Alfred Alexander and Mrs. Rennie Holmes Alexander. Surviving him, in addition to his mother, are two sisters, Miss Matilda Alexander and Mrs. Eva Bateman, Creswell; and four children, M/Sgt. W. T. Alexander, jr., Moses Lake, Washington, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Albany, Ga., J. P. Alexander, East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Ray Roach, Springfield, Ill.

During his early life Mr. Alexander was engaged in farming in the Lake Phelps community, where he owned and operated "Shepard Farm." In later years, he made his home with his mother at Creswell, where he served as mayor of the town for many years before his death. Other public activity included a term as member of the Washington County Board of Commissioners some years ago.

Dinkins Reports 'Nothing Definite on Peppers Yet'

C. W. Dinkins, manager of the Plymouth plant of C. C. Lang & Son, stated late yesterday that he still had "nothing definite about peppers for 1954."

However, Mr. Dinkins is asking that interested farmers not give up hope because, he stated, it appeared that he might get something lined up. Several farmers in the county devoted acreage to the pepper crop last year and reported good success.

Ruling on Appeal Of Plymouth Man

A ruling by the State Supreme Court that a motorist in danger of losing his driver's license can keep it if he pleads no contest in court and then gets a hearing before the Department of Motor Vehicles on a move to suspend the permit was recently handed down on the appeal of a Plymouth man, Robert Alexander Winesett.

Winesett pleaded no contest to a charge of drunken driving in Pasquotank County sometime ago. The Department of Motor Vehicles suspended his license for a year and at a hearing held at Winesett's request refused to return it.

Superior Court Judge Walter Bone held that Winesett should have received his license, to which Chief Justice W. A. Devin, of the Supreme Court, agreed. He stated that when a defendant pleads nolo contendere a judge can punish him as if he had pleaded guilty. But, he said, the plea allows the defendant "in all other proceedings, civil and criminal, to assert his innocence and his plea may not be considered as an admission of guilt."
