Commissioners To Review Drainage Projects Friday

ESTABLISHED 1889

Special Meeting With Col. B. C. Snow, Department Of Conservation and Development, at 2:30 P. M.

The county commissioners will meet Friday afternoon of this week in a special session with Col. B. C. Snow of Raleigh, chief engineer of the Water Resource Division, Department of Conservation and Development, to review the drainage projects for the county.

The meeting is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock in the commissioners' room on the first floor of the couny courthouse.

Only three drainage projects have been approved for the county and federal funds will be available for these. They are designated, 1, Deep Run; 2, Mill Creek; and 3, Conaby Creek.

Starting point for Project One s the intersection of Mackeys Creek a mile downstream from the oridge on US 64 and NC 32 in the City of Roper. Stopping point is the bridge on US 64 and NC 32 in the City of Roper.

Starting point for Project Two is defined as .3 mile from that of Project One. Stopping point is half mile from that of Project One. Starting point for Project Three is the bridge at the city limits of Plymouth and .7 mile northwest of US 64 and NC 32. Stopping point is a fork in drain 500 feet north of county road which is 1.4 miles east of NC 32. The county road intersects NC 32 about a mile southeast of Plymouth. In the original application for federal aid submitted by the com-missioners the sum of $300,000 was asked to complete a number of county projects. Only $10,000 was allocated and the three projects outlined above were approved.

Several interested county citizens and Soil Conservationist Henry J. Bragg later met in Washington with Congressman Herbert C. Bonner of this district to seek a larger allocation for drainage work in this county, hard hit in the hurricanes of last year.

It is expected that Col. Snow will provide the commissioners Friday with an application for a suppleanent to the amount of federal aid already allocated, it was said.
