News and Views of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

Lt. Jean Pierre Aumont, with the French forces in Europe, Dear Jean.

This is an official report of an evening I spent with Mrs. Aumont, who is known to some people as Maria Montez. You see, she has been a homebody since you left to fight for France. So for one evening we hit the night spots as she would if you were here. This was Universal Studio's idea, not mine. Not that I didn't enjoy it, mind you.

At her house I waited 20 minutes for her. Why is it that dances are never ready? When she made her entrance, the sight was worth waiting for. She was wearing one of those low-cut evening gowns and looked as terrific as the day you married her. I floated behind her to the car.

After we arrived at Mike Romanoff's eating place, Maria ordered caviar, crepe Suzette and champagne, among other things. Your shrewd wife realized that Universal was footing the bill.

So here I was with one of Hollywood's most glamorous stars and what did we talk about?—Jean Pierre Aumont. She showed me your picture in her locket and told me how you were in the thick of the fighting, having been wounded three times. I in turn told her about my love life and the conversation was interesting to us, but not very good copy for my column.

We oiled the celebrities like tourists. There were Roland Young, Paul Whiteman, Maureen O'Hara, Robert Benchley, George Jessel. I even asked Monty Woolley to have some champagne with us and got insulted in the Beard's inimitable style. Later we went to the Trocadero and the Latin colony, including Carmen Miranda, Arturo de Cordova and Xavier Cugat, gathered around our table. I couldn't understand a word anyone was saying. I asked Maria to dance and she explained you had instructed her to dance only the rumba while you are gone. No bunny hugging for her.

When I got Maria back to her threshold, she told me I could kiss her on the cheek. I did and then told her she could kiss me on the forehead. "Oh, is that the custom?" she asked. She did it and before I could dream up any more customs, she had disappeared inside. You're a lucky man Jean.

Sincerely, Bob Thomas.

Advertisement for Hartsfield Jewelry Co. featuring 'Keepsake' diamond rings. Text: 'I CAME HERE TO TALK FOR JOE'. Description: 'JOE is a bashful sort of fellow when it comes to expressing the feelings he holds in his heart. It's hard for him to put such sentiment into words. So this "Keepsake" Diamond Engagement Ring will talk for Joe. It expresses his love for the sweetheart he leaves behind. Joe is going to be away for awhile... in Africa... Guadalcanal... or any one of a number of places. But wherever he is, out through the vastness of thousands of miles, Joe's thoughts will be of you. Whenever you look at that graceful circlet of gold with its lovely "Keepsake" Diamond... close your eyes and listen as it talks for Joe, telling you of his love and devotion.'
