Why are Building and Loan Associations being organized and flourishing in all towns, large and small? Because men of good business judgment have recognized the many merits of such organizations.

Why has the Brevard Building and Loan Association paid to its stockholders $41,566.43 in cancelled mortgages, withdrawals and profits for the past two years? Because this represents the Association's degree of usefulness to its shareholders.

Why has the Association paid out in profits $5,809.43 within the past two years? Because it is in a healthy condition and managed on an economical, business-like, profit-sharing basis with the assurance of good dividends.

Why did each member of the Board of Directors of the Association last week subscribe for five additional shares of stock? Because they considered it a good business investment.

Why has the present series been one of the best in the history of the Association? Because more people are recognizing that Building and Loan is a good investment, encourages systematic savings and is one of your best financial friends when you decide to build a home.

All these questions are simple and easy to answer, aren't they? Of course.

Well then, why are you not carrying Building and Loan or why don't you carry more? That's the simplest question of all. You just haven't learned quite enough about Building and Loan methods. Come in and let us tell you all about them. Come at once for this series is drawing to a close.

COLLEGES' NAME IS SETTLED

It is Decided That Full Names Must Be Returned by the College.

Raleigh.—"The last word" was spoken by Governor Bickett, as to the much and furiously discussed name abbreviation for the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, erstwhile known as "A. and M." Officers of the State Farmers' Union, Editor Poe, of The Progressive Farmer; President Riddick, of the College, and members of the Alumni Association, composed the conference with the Governor.

The Governor's statement declares that "after a full conference it was the unanimous sense of the meeting that whenever the college is referred to in the literature sent out from the college, or in the press of the state, it should be called the State College of Agriculture and Engineering or the Agricultural and Engineering College. It was the further sense of the meeting that these full names should be used and not the initials. It is to be hoped that all good citizens and friends of the college will take due and timely notice of the agreement above referred to and govern themselves accordingly."

The Governor and Council of State purchased a lot on which to erect a fireproof warehouse for state records and property provided for by the recent legislature. The purchase was at the auction sale of the Woodall property on Morgan street, a half square from the Capitol. A lot 116 by 105 was purchased for $14,500. The entire property brought $29,000.

Trinity Students to Drill.

Durham.—Military training for Trinity College is an assured fact. The students in an enthusiastic mass meeting, following a stirring speech by Dr. W. T. LaPrade, of the department of European history, have signed a petition requesting that they be supplied with officers and equipment of the Federal Army. All athletic contests for the remainder of the term will probably be cancelled and the entire attention of the student body devoted to preparing itself for the National emergency.

Plans Company of Home Guards.

Greensboro.—C. M. Vanstory, of this city, has begun discussion of organizing a company of Home Guards, to include men 45 years of age and older. Several have offered to become members, including many Confederate veterans. The first man on Mr. Vanstory's list is J. H. Rankin, who is said to be nearly 100 years old, and a veteran of the Civil War. On account of the act of Congress preventing the organization of any armed group of men in time of peace except Government military forces, actual work on the organization can not be done until there is some declaration of war. As soon as war is declared, the ban will be lifted and Mr. Vanstory expects then to enroll as many as 200 men.

Gas From Chestnut.

Morganton.—What may prove, and in fact promises to prove, one of the great discoveries, has recently been found at the Burke Tannery here, in which it has been proven conclusively that the pulps from the chestnut wood after the tannic acid has been extracted will produce gas in such quantities that it is to be used commercially for both power and lighting.

This pulp has been considered worthless and it has been a problem how to get rid of it. In the future, however, it is likely to be converted into gas.

Fatally Burns in Hot Water.

Wilmington.—The 21-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bryan, Jr., of Wooster street, died as a result of burns received when he tumbled into a basin of boiling water that had been placed on the front porch of the Bryan home for scouring purposes. The flesh was cooked from the great portion of his body and his suffering was intense during the few hours he lived following his injuries.

Three Die of Measles.

Newton.—Mrs. George Sigmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wright, who have lost two daughters by measles, is dead of the same disease, and a fourth daughter is reported as in extremis.

NORTH CAROLINA BRIEFS.

The student body at a mass meeting in Pullen Hall voted unanimously in favor of the college being known as North Carolina State or State College in preference to A. & E. College.

Another convention of the newspaper editors will be held at Chapel Hill April 16 and 17.

The executive committee of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, of this state, met at Greensboro and selected Goldsboro as the place for the convention, November 1 to 4.

Fourteen opinions were delivered by the supreme court last week.

Frank Parker, field agent for the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Crop Estimates, was in Newton recently from Raleigh organizing a reporting staff to estimate acreage and crops in Catawba county during the coming year. The entire state is being organized county by county.

Four people were drowned in the Catawba river, below Morganton and near the Huffman crossing when a small row boat containing five people, capsized in the high waters.

The Day of Lilies

A LILY grows mysteriously, pushing up its solid weight of stem and leaf in the teeth of gravity. Shaped into beauty by secret and invisible fingers, the flower develops we know not how. But we do not wonder at it. Every day the thing is done; it is Nature, it is God. We are spiritual enough at least to understand that. When the soul rises slowly above the world pushing up its delicate virtues in the teeth of sin, shaping itself mysteriously into the image of Christ, the power is not of man.

There is no day so inspiring, not only to the Christian, but to the careless and indifferent, as Easter, bringing, as it does, so much of God's love even in the display of Almighty power, to an otherwise hopeless life, in making possible the assurance of a world and a life beyond the grave.

ON FIRST EASTER DAY

Beautiful Scriptural Reading of the Savior's Rise From the Tomb and Greeting to Mary Magdalene.

John 20:1-16.

THE first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulcher, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulcher.

Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulcher, and we know not where they have laid him.

Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came unto the sepulcher.

So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulcher.

And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulcher, and seeth the linen clothes lie.

And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped in a place by itself.

Then came in that other disciple which came first to the sepulcher, and he saw, and believed.

For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

But Mary stood within at the sepulcher weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the sepulcher.

And seeth two angels sitting, the one at the head, the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

Easter Cleaning in Rome.

In Rome and other large Italian cities there is a great house-cleaning at Easter, and hawkers appear in the streets selling long-handled, roughly-made brooms from which to brush spiders' webs from lofty ceiling corners. This Easter cleaning is a survival of the purification, part of the Jewish Passover.
