Mrs. W. H. McCoy of Atlanta, who attended the Baraca-Philathea convention in Asheville, is visiting her father, Col. C. C. Hodges, and friends for a few days. At this writing she is visiting Mrs. J. W. Burnette.

Friends of Miss Alie Belle Cloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cloud, will regret to learn that she lost all her belongings in the big Atlanta fire Monday except those she was wearing at the time. She suffered no personal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nealey and son, J. T., and daughters, Misses Ruth and Dorothy, of Asheville, were guests of Mr. Nealey's mother, Mrs. T. J. Nealey, on Sunday. A solo by Miss Ruth was an enjoyable feature of the morning services at the Brevard Baptist church.

Baptist Philatheas Entertain.

The Philatheas class of the Brevard Baptist Sunday school entertained the Baracas on Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Doyle, which is admirably arranged for entertainments of this kind. The exercises of the evening opened with patriotic songs, followed by those of both sentimental and religious character. A number of contests were enjoyed. Miss Pearl Faulkner made an interesting report of the Baraca-Philatheas convention, which she as a delegate attended in Asheville last week. Refreshments brought a close to the pleasures of the evening.

W. P. Whitmore of Hendersonville was in town this week.

Walter Hurst left Monday for Chester, Pa., where he expects to enter business.

The family of J. S. Silverstein has moved into their new residence, recently completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rosamond of Fort Smith, Ark., have arrived for their usual summer stay and are at Mrs. J. J. Shipman's in West Brevard.

Friends of Dr. J. Y. McKinney will be glad to learn that he intends to resume his practice in this place at an early date. He left for Raleigh about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson and daughter, Miss Louise Dudley, and his sister, Miss Louise D. Updegraff, of Cocon and Indian River, Fla., are at the Aethelwold.

Dr. T. J. Sammey returned Saturday from Jacksonville, Fla., where he attended the annual convention of the association of surgeons of the Southern Railway company.

For the benefit of the newly organized National League for Women's Service, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Doyle entertained at their home, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Godfrey, on Wednesday night with a dance, which was enjoyed by about 30 people, as a result of which about $25 was realized.

Cantrell-Wilson Marriage

Miss Allie Cantrell and Herschell L. Wilson were married on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in Asheville, at the home of the bride's uncle, B. C. Brown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John R. Hay, the young lady's pastor, and the wedding march—"Wedding Solms"—was played by Miss Flora Duckworth, one of the guests from Brevard. Others from Brevard attending the wedding were Miss Fair Snelson, niece of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Verdery.

On the following morning the couple went by way of Spartanburg to Forest City to visit the groom's parents, and on Monday completed their tour by a trip to Hendersonville in an auto through the picturesque region of Batt's cave and Chimney Rock. They returned to Brevard Monday night.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have the sincere good wishes of many friends in this town. As a clerk in the Brevard Banking company Mr. Wilson has proven his usefulness and efficiency as a rising business man; while Mrs. Wilson has done most successful work as a primary teacher in the county public schools. She has been closely and usefully identified with various phases of Sunday school and church work of the local Presbyterian church. The couple will make their home at Hotel Cray.

SILK IN COATS FOR SPRING

Now that the separate skirt, of checked or plaid or cross-bar silk, has established itself in the good graces of fashionable women, silk coats follow as a matter of course. Skirts show an admixture of two or more colors, but the coats to be worn with them are in one color matching the predominant color in the skirt. Sometimes they are lined throughout with soft satin, and sometimes only the body is lined.

One may choose between a long or short style, but the longer coats cover a wider field of usefulness. A handsome model of this kind is shown in the picture. It is noteworthy for its cape collar, pointed pockets and odd belt.

SOWING THE SEED

How Much Should Be Allowed For a Family of Four.

LAYING OUT THE GARDEN.

Specialists Advise the Making of a Rough Plan of the Garden Whereon Spaces to Be Used For Each Variety of Vegetable Can Be Indicated.

(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

The home gardener will find it helpful to make a rough plan of his garden on a large sheet of wrapping paper. On this plan he can indicate the spaces to be used for each variety and also by means of colored pencils or symbols show where a second crop is to be planted or interplanted between growing rows and also arrange for the second and third crops which are to follow these previously harvested. Such a plan will enable him to keep the garden busy all season supplying fresh vegetables during the summer and producing in the late fall root and other crops for winter use. Once the heavy preliminary spading and working of the garden have been done it is about as easy to raise two or three crops as to keep the garden clean of weeds to produce only one picking. The specialists advise those who are not used to gardening or wish to have their children take an interest in the garden to hire a laborer to do the heavy preliminary spading or breaking up of the soil. This heavy work frequently deters novices and children, who would continue to take an interest in the garden if their task was simply to fine and cultivate soil already broken up.

The following amounts of seed the garden specialists of the United States department of agriculture say are needed to plant approximately 100 feet of row, or enough to supply vegetables for a family of four:

- Beans, snap, one pint.
  - Beans, pole lima, one-half pint.
  - Beans, bush lima, one-half to one pint.
  - Cabbage, early, one-half ounce.
  - Carrot, one ounce.
  - Cauliflower, one packet.
  - Celery, one packet.
  - Cucumber, one-half ounce.
  - French, one packet.
  - Kale, or Swiss chard, one-half ounce.
  - Radish, one packet.
  - Spinach, one-half ounce.
  - Squash, one ounce.
  - Squash, summer, one-half ounce.
  - Squash, Hubbard type, one-half ounce.
- The following vegetables, the specialists say, will undoubtedly be planted in larger amounts than those just mentioned, and the amounts of seed given will be a guide for ordinary requirements. Some families may need more of the various vegetables, and others would need less:
- Beet, four ounces.
  - Celery, late, one-half to one ounce.
  - Corn, sweet, one pint.
  - Lettuce, one ounce.
  - Mushroom, one ounce.
  - Peas, early, two quarts.
  - Peas, late, two to four quarts.
  - Peas, one to two ounces.
  - Spinach, one-quarter pound in spring and one-half pound in fall.
  - Tomato, late, one-quarter ounce.
  - Turnip, one-quarter pound.
  - Watermelon, one ounce.

The string beans, bush lima beans, sweet corn, lettuce, peas and radishes will not all be planted at one time, but successive plantings two to three weeks apart will be made so as to have a fresh supply throughout the season.

Of early Irish potatoes one peck to one-half bushel will be required and of late potatoes one-half bushel to one bushel or more, depending upon the amount of ground available for this purpose. If possible, enough Irish potatoes should be grown to last throughout the winter.

In the event that the family wishes to raise vegetables to supply current needs and also to supply a surplus for canning the amounts indicated above should be considerably increased.

USE FOR VACANT LOTS.

People Urged to Raise Vegetables and Prepare For a Lean Winter.

It is a world of lean years, says the New York Times. Its food lies in this year's crop. The reserves will be exhausted at the end of the crop year. The outlook is not too rosy. The English wheat crop is reported backward, the Dutch small. French wheat will yield less than usual. Argentina will have little wheat or corn to export. The Australian wheat crop is estimated at nearly 50,000,000 bushels less than last year's. Our big winter wheat states have not had moisture enough. Early vegetables in the southern states have been nipped by frost. So the shortage goes.

Food prices are high already. This careless, easy-going America must remember the aut and prepare for next winter. One thing nearly all of us outside the cities, and many urban, can do. That is to raise all we can of the common vegetables, so easy to raise, thriving almost everywhere, so large a part of our food. We can't import them. We must grow them; and they should be grown in quantities unheard of before, grown by the rich—and the more they sell the better—by the poor, by the great mass that is neither. Beans, onions, peas, potatoes and the rest, these should be the crop of everybody with land enough to bend over in.

Selectmen, town committees, town trustees and councilors, spy out the vacant cultivable land and see that it is tilled with the plow. Commuters, who farm for exercise and pleasure, or say you do, this is the spring when you need to farm for business. More ground for garden this year; and garden for vegetables, not for ornament.
