

BREVARD INSTITUTE NOTES

Mrs. Julia Trowbridge entertained the members of the faculty on Monday evening. Various games were played, after which refreshments were served.

Among old students returning for commencement will be Misses Clara Leatherwood, Vera House, Frances Atkins, Blanche Brown, Purvis Runyan, Fay Barnett, Jeter Matthews and Oba Wilson.

Miss Verie Johnson motored over from Fletcher recently. Miss Johnson will repeat her impersonation of Beatrice in "Much Ado About Nothing," of which a few scenes are to be given at the recital Tuesday night of commencement week.

Miss Willie Mae Baber was entertained at dinner last Sunday by Miss Julia Chace.

A large party of B. I. students got up early Monday morning and hiked to Elk Lodge to see the sunrise. Mr. Trowbridge and Miss Baber chaperoned the crowd. They returned in time for breakfast.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitate to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Morganton woman is confirmed after six years.

Mrs. A. E. Payne, Green street, Morganton, N. C., says: "I suffered from pains in the small of my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. Finally I bought Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved the pains and made me feel much better generally."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mrs. Payne said: "I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand. Whenever my back gets lame I use them and they quickly relieve me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Payne has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

NEW COUNTRYSIDE FOOD CROPS

County Homes Have Fifteen Thousand Acres of Land, Only Four Thousand Cultivated.

Raleigh.—The county homes in North Carolina in 1915 had fifteen thousand acres of farm lands with only four thousand under cultivation.

This fact has stirred the North Carolina Food Conservation Commission to action. The commission has called to the attention of the hundred county commissioners of the hundred counties in North Carolina to rally to the cause and put every available acre into cultivation.

"It hardly seems fair," says Mr. John Paul Lucas, Executive Secretary in a letter to the commissioners. "To ask taxpayers of the county to pay the prevailing prices for feed stuffs for the inmates of the institution when the institutions themselves, with little or no help, could produce approximately the same amount."

The attention of the North Carolina Food Conservation Commission has been called to the fact that the county homes of the state in 1915 reported a total acreage of approximately 15,000 acres with considerably less than four thousand in cultivation. Now we understand, of course, that a considerable part of this fifteen thousand acres of lands is in woods and pastures, but we also know that, in many instances, there are idle lands upon the farms of our county homes. It hardly seems fair to ask the taxpayers of the county to pay prevailing prices for feed stuffs for the inmates of these institutions when these institutions themselves with little or no help could produce approximately everything they need.

"Certainly, no county home in North Carolina should ask the taxpayers to pay corn, meal, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, syrup, oats or other crops that are adaptable to their section of the state. It seems even in normal times this would be a normal activity of the homes and, certainly in this time of scarcity of food and high prices such an opportunity to produce should not be overlooked."

I. O. O. F. Selects Wilmington.

High Point.—The most interesting matter, so many coming before the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in session here was the selection of a meeting place for the 1918 session.

Wilmington and Rocky Mount waged a hard battle among the members but Rocky Mount soon saw that the delegates had their eyes on the City by the Sea and gracefully withdrew and Wilmington was unanimously chosen. Rocky Mount let it be understood, however, that she was going to land the 1919 session.

Officers of the Grand Lodge were elected as follows: Grand Master, Calvin Woodard, of Wilson; Deputy Grand Master, C. G. Smith of Goldsboro who has been for 15 years secretary and treasurer of the Odd Fellows Home and secretary to the board of trustees; Grand Warden, Chas. O. McMichael of Waukesha; Grand Secretary, J. D. Berry, of Raleigh, who has been assistant secretary to B. H. Woodall who voluntarily retired under 32 years service; Grand Treasurer, W. L. Smith of Wilmington succeeding Richard J. Jones who died recently; Grand Representative for two years, Guy Weaver of Asheville; Trustee of Orphans' Home for five years, Dr. L. B. McRayner.

Missionary Conference Ends.

Asheville.—With a short session of the executive committee and the election of officers for the coming year, the annual session of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference came to a successful conclusion here. Mrs. Lucy K. Robertson of Greensboro, was re-elected president; Mrs. B. W. Harris, of Asheville, was elected first vice president, and other officers were elected as follows: Miss Amy Hackney, of Asheville, second vice president; Mrs. H. A. Durham, corresponding secretary, re-elected; Miss G. W. Whitsett, of Greensboro, recording secretary; Mrs. P. N. Peacock, of Salisbury, treasurer; Mrs. P. P. Ingram, of High Point, superintendent of mission study; Mrs. W. A. Newell, of Salisbury, superintendent of social service; Mrs. J. N. Hauss, of Thomasville, superintendent of supplies, and Mrs. W. C. Huston, of Concord, distributor of literature.

NORTH CAROLINA BRIEFS.

Swansboro and White Oak township in Onslow county have raised $20,000 bonds each for their bits of the Kingston-Swansboro highway, to be built and maintained by three counties.

Because the Burke county $200,000 road bond bill was not put through roll call vote when the House concurred in certain Senate amendments the Supreme Court declared the law invalid when it found error in the case of Claywell et al vs. Road Commissioners of Burke et al.

Out of a quota of 4,412 North Carolina has enlisted but 619 men. Representative Lee D. Robinson voted to recommit the selective draft bill to provide more pay for the enlisted men. All the other North Carolina Congressmen voted the other way.

The five-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stiller, of Salisbury, was burned to death. The mother had left the little one in the kitchen on a pallet and fire from the stove fell out and ignited it. The little baby was terribly burned before the accident was discovered and died from the injuries.

"WANTED, A HOME"

"Wanted, A Home," is a human like story of a homeless youngster who tried to pass as a nurse when unable to secure other employment. From the very first, Miss McLaren's personality dominates the production.

"Wid" in Wid's Magazine says: "I would say this is a highly satisfactory offering."
