Hearten the Boys

"Let the lower lights be burning. Cast a gleam across the way."

There are today approximately 500,000 American soldiers on French soil ready to give their lives for country, home and friends.

It is a condition and not a theory that now confronts the people of the United States. They are coming to realize that if the great battle Dun is to be subdued American energy in men and money must be exerted in giving every possible assistance to the allies.

Secretary Baker has decreed that the soldiers of the national army and the national guard must spend their Christmas in camp this year. The secretary points out that the trip home would entail a greater outlay financially than many of the boys could afford.

Make a Christmas gift to the government of your membership fee in the Red Cross and of yourself as an active member. The gift without the giver is not enough.

Snow is a great equalizer. The sidewalks, which have been left to the tender care of nature were as well paved, after a path was packed through the snow, as Main street itself.

Germany evidently feels that she must act and act quickly in the most powerful effort it is possible to make against the British and French on the western front. She marshaling all available forces under command for a determined drive against the allied strength on French soil.

They Met the Emergency

It was hard work, but they did it. The request came from headquarters less than three weeks ago for 3000 hospital wraps, and the Red Cross workers got busy to fill the order.

One day last week the cutting and folding came to a halt and the work rooms were empty, because an expected shipment of gauze had not arrived.

The Red Cross workers of this chapter have earned by their intelligence, earnestness and patient industry a high reputation among the chapters of this state. The very order for 3000 wraps from so small an organization was a compliment.

Any woman should be glad of the opportunity of being exhibited in the unsullied work.

Less than four per cent of the population of this county belong to the Red Cross. Join before the week is out and swell the per cent.

If food is a fact—and they say it is—some people ought to keep mighty warm.

A COTTON MILL MAN DECLARES HE FOUND INDIGESTION CURE

Suffered Seven Years, Gave Up Doctors, Took to Taking Acid Iron Mineral and Says He Was Able to Work Again.

SUFFERED AGONY UNTIL HE BEGAN TAKING THIS MEDICINE

"I suffered from indigestion and with my stomach so bad I could not go to work half the time. I had suffered seven years and tried several doctors but they only gave me temporary relief."

"Everything I ate would disagree with that poor stomach of mine and I was not only sick but worried. Seven years is a long time to suffer and I want to recommend a simple treatment to people suffering like I did. It doesn't cost but a dollar or so and it is just the thing. Get a bottle of Acid Iron Mineral at the drug store. I did, and after I had finished the second large bottle I felt fine. I went back to work and no longer fear food and digest anything you put before me that's good to eat."

The Acid Iron Mineral referred to is the product of a natural medicinal iron deposit, highly concentrated without the addition of a drop of alcohol or narcotic. It contains nothing to disturb the bowels or liver, and a few drops from time to time in a glass of water will give you a good correction of the system and tone the blood, kidneys, appetite and digestion back to normal, according to the testimony of those who have used it.

It is the cheapest, strongest, best iron medicine on the market. Get a bottle today. People all over the state recommend it.—Adv.
