BREVARD, N. C. FRIDAY, January 31, 1919

Number 5.

IT IS BETTER TO WIN BY TEN MILLION THAN TO LOSE BY ONE

Only 18 more working days and the friendly struggle will be over. Much can be accomplished by that time and we believe that all of the contestants will take advantage of the extra time and put forth their best efforts to get every possible subscriber, collections and renewals and have nothing to regret when the judges make the final count and award the prizes. God has never yet answered the agonized prayers of man or woman to stop the wheel of time and give them back yesterday. It is to be sincerely hoped that none of the contestants will have occasion to repeat that old and true saying: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are, it might have been", after the contest is no more.

There are still four or five hundred non subscribers in the county; there are still a few subscribers whose subscriptions have expired; there are still a large number of subscribers whose subscriptions will expire in the next 30, 60 and 90 days. Get as many as you can for it is much better to win by ten million than to lose by one vote.

The following schedule of votes will be issued on paid in advance subscriptions to candidates working in this campaign.

THE PRAYER CORNER

The Peace of the World

It was a consolation to many of us in the time of war to feel that we could work as well as pray for victory. We were glad to be told that every little act of sacrifice, of self-subordination to the common cause was not only a material but a spiritual help to those who fought; that out of such acts went forth a power beyond our understanding. May we not pray and work for peace as we did for victory? May we not offer daily little acts of sacrifice and love for the world's peace?—fling them as heavenly darts in the face of that demon of self-assertion which is threatening us with discord and division between the nations, and within the nations, in the very hour of victory?

Let us thank God: For the harmony that has prevailed among the allied nations during the time of war, making victory possible.

Let us pray: That special grace may be given to all the rulers of all nations, to live true to their highest ideals of governance, in order that they may lead those under their charge into the paths of that peace which is "the tranquility of order."

Let us pray for: "The Peace of The World"

Our Heavenly Father, send peace upon the Earth, a deeper and more lasting peace than ever the world has known. May this be the last war in which the great nations shall engage.

Prepare the heads of "The Peace Makers"

That what they do may be according to wisdom, and in obedience to Thy Will; and grant to the nations a righteous and enduring peace, out of which shall flow happiness to the people of this world for ever more, for the love of Thine only Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS STATE BOARD AGRICULTURE

Whereas, the State Board of Agriculture recognizes education and the encouragement and development of our farm boys and girls as the foundation of the future rural progress and rural civilization of this State, and Whereas, this Board is anxious to do all in its power to promote this result. Therefore be it

Resolved, 1. That we congratulate the people of North Carolina upon the overwhelming majority just given the proposition to increase our minimum public school term to six months, the majority of more than 100,000 given this measure being the largest ever given any measure in the history of our commonwealth.

2. To assist our people in going forward along these lines and to assist all form of public education, we endorse the proposal of Senator Hoke Smith that $100,000,000 be appropriated from the Federal Treasury to assist the State in improving their public schools and that a copy of this resolution be sent each North Carolina Senator and Representative in Congress urging him to try to bring this most important measure to a speedy passage.

3. That it is our earnest desire to encourage the enterprising boys and girls of the State who enroll themselves in agricultural club work and recognize their success. To this end we hereby offer to that boy or girl in each rural school in North Carolina who makes the best record made by any pupil in that school in corn club, pig club, or canning club work (provided at least five pupils are enrolled from that school in the same club if a one teacher school; and ten if two or more teachers are employed) one copy of a standard work in agriculture, home economics, rural life, or rural life problems, or boys and girls problems. A list of books from which each prize winner may select one shall be compiled by the director of agricultural extension work, the director of home economics work, the Secretary of the State Library Commission and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction; and the cooperation of the State Department of Education shall be asked in carrying out the purposes of this resolution.

Provided, if it seems impracticable to offer the books by schools, the awards shall be made to the leaders in corn, pig and canning club work respectively in each county, and in any case all necessary rules shall be made by the committee just named.

Provided further, that on the fly leaf of each volume so presented shall be printed or pasted a neatly designed form somewhat as follows: "This book is given by the North Carolina State Board of Agriculture in recognition of the qualities of ENTERPRISE AND LEADERSHIP shown by (name) of County N. MR. EVERETT BUYS MORE SHORTHORNS

R. W. Everett received last week from W. C. Rosenberger, Tifton, O., 3 registered shorthorn heifers and one bull to add to his herd of registered shorthorns at Pisgah Forest, which now numbers twenty-five.

Cloverleaf Mildred, one of the heifers Mr. Everett just purchased, is a show heifer of merit, having won first prize at a number of fairs.

Mr. Everett's farm is especially adapted to raising registered shorthorn cattle, as he has taken the precaution to seed a large part of his farm to grass and alfalfa, which is essential to stock raising. With the addition of a large silo which he expects to build this fall he will have one of the best stock farms in the south.

We therefore direct that a committee composed of one member of this Board, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and one person they may name of recognized distinction as an artist, shall select from the catalogs of one or more leading art publishers a group of reproductions of the most beautiful masterpieces of art dealing with farming, farm life and rural scenes, obtaining from the publishers the best possible prices, and that to any school whose friends and patrons raise $5 or more for buying and framing such pictures for the school building, the State Department of Agriculture will contribute $5 for the same purpose, the details of this act to be carried out by the committee just designated.

5. That for carrying out the purposes of Section 3 of this resolution an amount not exceeding two thousand dollars is hereby approved for the coming year and the same amount for carrying out the purposes of Section 4; and that any amount not expended from one fund shall be available for the other.

Yours for success,
A. F. MITCHELL,
County Supt.)

IN MEMORY OF WALTER WHITMIRE

Walter, truly we will miss thee,
Miss thy merry voice and smile—
But thou art only gone before us;
'Tis only for a little while.

Sweet rest, and soon united
We shall stand before the door
Of the city bright, eternal,
There to dwell forever more.

God knew best, and thou art sleeping.
Rest! 'Tis only for a little while.
Soon our call—oh Father grant us
That we answer with a smile.

CELEBRATES 85TH BIRTHDAY

Chas. L. Osborne, one of Transylvania's most stalwart sons, celebrated his 85th birthday at his home last Saturday.

Soon after ten o'clock relatives and friends began to assemble and in a short while the first floor of the home was filled with guests ranging in age from five weeks to ninety years. When Mr. Osborne had received the hearty congratulations and good wishes of those present, the happy company indulged in reminiscences, and in the discussion of current events until the doors were thrown open into the dining room where a large table fairly groaned under its burden of toothsome delicacies of turkey and sausage, sweet and white potatoes, salads and celery, pickles and jams, custards and pound cake, coffee and whipped cream.

After dinner there was another pleasant hour or two. Then the host asked the ministers present to conduct an informal service. Mr. Seagle read the 21st chapter of Revelation, and Mr. Frett offered a most appropriate and beautiful prayer. All present joined in singing some of the splendid old hymns which were a fitting close to a joyful birthday celebration.

Those present were: Mr. Chas. L. Osborn, host, Mrs. Josephine Moeller and son, Mr. and Mrs. Claude K. Osborne and family, Mrs. Wm. K. Osborne and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mills and children of Pisgah Forest; Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lankford and son of Spartanburg; Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Puett and family, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Seagle and daughter of Brevard; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clayton and Mrs. Laura Wilson of Penrose.

YOUR HEALTH

Influenza being with us still a few words as to it and an endeavor to prevent contracting it and to manage it if attacked by it is in order. In all contagious and infectious epidemics it has been noticed that persons in good physical condition are less liable to attack, hence the importance of doing all that is possible to maintain natural resistance of the body. Should a person be taken ill with influenza he should go to bed, cleanse the bowels with salts, oil or some purgative, take sweet spirits of nitre in order to start the skin and kidneys at their work of getting rid of waste products which during any illness are greater than in health. The great prostration, aching of the limbs and muscles in influenza are due to the intensity of the poison in the system.

About the time of the Crimean war Miss Florence Nightengale, who is no doubt to be credited as the pioneer trained nurse, called the attention of the world to the fact that night air, up to that time and even now, considered by many injurious, is the only air to be had at night, and therefore not likely to be objectionable. Thorough ventilation day and night is necessary in all conditions and imperative in any illness.

The skin is relatively a large surface of any body and has among other functions that of getting rid of poisonous elements and waste matter developed in the body, hence the importance of keeping it clean in health and sickness.

Above all things, remember that when you are sick the biggest job you have on hand is to get well, so rest; clean the body within and without.

Very sincerely yours,
