LODGE THEN AND NOW

Nobody could have been more scandalized by a proposal to amend or reject the treaty of peace than was Henry Cabot Lodge in 1899, says the Nw York World.

At that time Senator Lodge's republican colleague from Massachusetts was opposed to the treaty of peace with Spain which President McKinley had negotiated, and many democrats were against it because of the acquisition of the Philippines.

There was a possibility that a minority of the Senate would prevent the ratification of the treaty, and Senator Lodge was appalled at the possibility that the treaty might be rejected.

"We must either ratify the treaty or reject it," he said. Suppose we reject the treaty, what follows?" This was his answer:

"Let us look at it practically. We continue the state of war, and every sensible man in the country, every business interest, desires the re-establishment of peace in law as well as in fact. At the same time we repudiate the President and his action before the world, and the repudiation of the President in such a matter as this is, to my mind, the humiliation of the United States in the eyes of civilized mankind and brands us as a people incapable of great affairs or of taking rank where we belong as one of the greatest of the great world powers."

This is what Henry Cabot Lodge thought on January the 24th, 1899, about the kind of politics that same personage is playing with a peace treaty in November, 1919. He said further at that time:

"The President cannot be sent back across the Atlantic in the person of his Commissioners, hat in hand, to say to Spain with bated breath, 'I am here in obedience to the mandate of a minority of one-third of the Senate to tell you that we have been too victorious and that you have yielded us too much and I am very sorry I took the Philippines from you. I do not think that any American President would do that or that any American would wish him to do it.'"

However, twenty years later, the man that stood by a republican President in a similar fight shows himself willing to repudiate the action of a Democratic President and send him back "across the Atlantic, hat in hand," to tell the other great powers that a minority of the Senate is not pleased with the treaty and that further negotiations must be had. O, consistency!

Republicans have always regarded high prices as great blessings. From this viewpoint the present excessive costs of living would appear to be a notable benediction. Is that why the republican majority hesitates to move against the profiteers? Let some of the "brethren" answer. The people would like to know. They are tired of make-shifts and foolishness.

Kentucky and Massachusetts elected republican governors at the recent elections and the democratic candidates won in Maryland and New Jersey. Law and order was the issue in Massachusetts following the strike of police officials and the firm stand Governor Coolidge took against it.

His majority two years ago was 17,000; this year it is 130,000, all because the democrats undertook to flirt with the element that endorsed the strike. Local issues figured the results in Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland. The democrats expected to carry Kentucky and lose the other three. Instead, they won in Maryland and New Jersey and lost "Old Kentucky." On the whole they did mighty well. But neither side is boasting.

The President made no mistake nominating Congressman E. Y. Webb as Federal Judge for the western district of North Carolina. Mr. Webb will share the arduous duties of trying the docket with Judge Boyd, who asked that an additional judge for the district be appointed. The nomination of Judge Webb was confirmed by a unanimous vote of the Senate, which shows the high estimate his colleagues in congress place upon him. The new judge is of judicial size and temperament. He stands for morality, sobriety and all the higher things in life. That he will honor the position and the State goes without saying.

AN AUTO ACCIDENT

A Ford auto driven by Frank Patton Sunday afternoon turned over near Davidson River and all the occupants were more or less bruised up. It is stated that a tire blew out causing the accident. Mr. Patton also received several cuts while Mr. Keatie escaped with very slight injuries.

PEPTO-MANGAN BRINGS BLOOM OF HEALTH

Helps Restore Worn-Out, Thin-Blooded Men and Women to Health and Happiness.

Physicians Recommend It. Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form Both Possesses Same Medicinal Value—Insist on "Gude's"

Most every case of a sallow complexion and a languid feeling is traceable to watery, impoverished blood deficient in oxygen-carrying blood cells.

Inasmuch as the entire system depends on the blood for its nourishment and strength, it is readily understood why thin-blooded people always feel worn-out and run-down.

And it is equally plain that to restore the vigor of rugged health, the blood should be supplied with the needed qualities to enable it to build up the system.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan accomplishes this very result. In a short time the beneficial results are clearly manifest. The cheeks fill out and regain the bloom of health, the eyes sparkle, the step regains its elasticity, the whole system is filled with greater vitality.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is a safe, beneficial and pleasant tonic. Agrees with the most delicate stomach, and is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form.

Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package when you buy Pepto-Mangan. Ask the druggist for "Gude's". If "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.

states of North Carolina, will be the torch-light that will bear for them the way into the Switzerland of America.

The road that we have today is inadequate from the fact that we have only a line that extends into our county, instead of penetrating from "shore to shore," as the one now under way will when finished. Our schedule over this line has been very unsatisfactory for some time. Don't come back at us and tell us that we should appreciate the only road we have for we have a very broad consideration for the little line that like a little giant has borne upon its shoulders the steadily increasing commerce of this thriving county. It is respected today as the only road to the outside world but our respect cannot bid our hands and feet from the fight for bigger and more needed facilities.

The Committee of Pickens County has invited the people of this county to a mass meeting to be held at a date to be named by us. They, like our people, are wrapped up with joy of the idea that a chance is coming for Pickens County, the flower of the south, to shake hands with Transylvania County, the Switzerland of America.

The people of Transylvania County refuse to become entangled and emmeshed with a bond issue of some wild and indefinite project as was proven at the recent bond election, but they are unanimously for a main line through the county and are willing and will vote bonds to the extent of $200,000.00 in order to put our county on the map. The men who have their fingers on the pulse of the voters of the county realize that when the said citizens want a thing they get it and it is pointed out that the big broad minded men of our county are pulling together for this railroad as never before.

Steam shovels and locomotives will break the silence of Jocassee and the cane brakes and the joy of convenience will flow freely ere long.
