"A PRAYER"

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30, 1919
 Rev. Chalmers Chapman,
 Brevard, N. C.

My dear Rev. Chapman:
 I want to add my hearty endorsement to the movement now under way to make Sewanee a greater factor than ever in the Southern field of education.

The fact that it is a church school and teaches a belief in the justice and mercy of God and in that divine philosophy of God-Fatherhood and of Man-Brotherhood which Christ attempted to instill into the hearts of all of us, is an additional reason at this particular moment why it ought to be supported and why its influence ought to be extended.

The world is still shuddering at the demonstration which Germany has made of "Scientific Civilization"—Godless and Cristian—attempting to substitute for the religion of Jesus of Nazareth, a sort of medieval Woden and Thor worship, intermingled with a materialistic science based upon the false idea that the "survival of the fittest" amongst human being is analogous to the "survival of the fittest" amongst brutes; and this ought to make us all think of the importance of keeping up some connection between God and man in the education of succeeding generations.

The doctrine of the survival of the fittest does apply to man just as it does to tigers, and snakes and foxes; but the difference is that the fittest amongst tigers is the most tigerest, the fittest amongst serpents is the most poisonous, and the fittest amongst foxes is the most cunning. The fittest amongst human beings ought to be the most humane.

Nor must we forget that the very name, "University of the South" suggests that "the South" faces a new era and has an important part in the work of social reorganization. I, for one, have never known any "New South"; I know only the same Old South, and I want its leaders to be like the traditional leaders of the South always have been—men of high ideals, of honest purpose, of noble instincts, of gentlemanly conduct, even tho they were not always men of clear insight into the future of the world.

An alumnus of the University of the South myself, although I spent a very short time there, I earnestly bespeak for her, for her work and for her mission, your full consideration and your help.

I am, with expression of regard,
 Very truly yours,
 JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.

THE PRAYER

Almighty Father, we ask Thy blessings upon our University and upon all who labor within her precincts. Raise up, we pray Thee, within our hearts the desire to contribute to the work which she is accomplishing for the rising generation. Give the spirit of wisdom to those to whom authority is given to lead in the many activities of University life. Especially we ask Thy blessing upon the campaign for endorsement, that those who give may devote their gifts to Thy service and that the fruits of the giving may glorify Thy Holy name, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

ROSMAN NEWS

J. Z. Stroupe, Anderson Galloway, and Ex Sims made a raid on block-aders in the Big Cain break section on Friday of last week and destroyed about 400 gallons of beer and all the fixtures except still and condenser. These men also made a raid in Quebec section on the Clayton and Owen flume line Saturday night and was accompanied by R. K. Powell. Sims got lost from Galloway and Stroupe but they found and destroyed the plant and about 200 gallons of beer and eight of ten bushels of mash but failed to get the still and condenser. While they were destroying the plant several unknown persons fired on officers and several shots were exchanged but no one was hurt so far as it is known. Mr. Powell and Sims got lost from the others and were not in the shooting.

It is a great deal more important to understand than to remember.

With Three-Point Cantilever Springs New Overland 4 Seems to "Sail Over The Roads"

THE new Three-Point Cantilever Springs of Overland 4, by their special construction and design, protect car and passengers from ordinary road jolts. Bumping, twisting, swaying and vibrating are wonderfully lessened. The blows of the road seldom reach you. There is less tendency to bodily fatigue after long rides.

The springs of Overland 4 attached at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase give the riding comfort and road steadiness heretofore possible only with cars of long wheelbase and great weight, yet Overland 4 retains the light weight and economy advantages of 100-inch wheelbase.

Three-Point Cantilever Springs protect the car from the hammering and wear of road blows. They lengthen its life and reduce upkeep costs.

Equipment of Overland 4 is dependable and complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Tillotson Carburetor.

250,000 miles of test have made the strength and endurance of this car a matter of record.

See Overland 4 at the first opportunity. Ask for booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.
