DOLLARS JUST MONEY?

"Human, With Hearts and Souls," Says Clergyman, "If You Have the Vision"

Take A Peep Through Loopholes of the Ciphers and Bars of the Dollar Sign.

And now comes the apostle of statistics that are human, the romanticist of figures. He has come out of North Carolina. He is neither statistician nor romancer. He is an Episcopal clergyman, the Rev. Dr. William H. Milton. And he has undertaken to prove to the million or more communicants of the Episcopal Church that $42,000,000 are not $42,000,000—but a thrilling romance; its characters Chinese children, Eskimo maidens, gaunt mountaineers, little blind Mexicans, transplanted peasants of Europe and dauntless soldiers of the Church in far places; its background brilliant Oriental landscapes, dazzling white wastes of Arctic snows, billowing prairies and steep mountain trails.

REV. WM. H. MILTON, D.D.

The $42,000,000 is the fund to be raised in a single sweeping drive as the climax of the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign, of which Dr. Milton is one of the executives. It represents the means by which the Church, roused, through the campaign, to the urgency of the world's needs to-day, can do its part to work in every field.

"But," said the romanticist of figures the other day, "there is no inspiration in giving $42,000,000. So long as we state the Church's duty in terms of dollars, it is a cold, dead thing. We must humanize the figures. We must look through the loopholes of the ciphers and the bars of the dollar-mark."

Church in Wilmington, N. C. And his parish, in recent years, having been shown by him the romance of the Church's work, has become one of the largest per capita givers to missions.

The statistics that have been prepared by a survey of the needs of the Episcopal Church in recent months, and of the needs of the world which it must meet, are to be warmed into life for all the men and women in the Church. The romance behind them is to be told in meetings all over the United States by 2,000 teams of men and women, in the next few weeks, preparatory to the intensive drive of the Nation-Wide Campaign, in December.

LETTER FROM A BOY AT CAMP LEE, VA.

The following communication received from the boys at Camp Lee, Va.

November 27.

Editor Brevard News:

Brevard, N. C.

Dear Sir:

As this is Thanksgiving day and of course the army put on a little extra feed, so we are enclosing the menu card of the mess at the Camp Hospital, Camp Lee, Va. As we are the only two boys from Transylvania Co. that are at Camp Lee we decided to have dinner together. Woodfin, who is a member of the detachment at the hospital, invited Merrell, who is a member of M. T. C., Co., 671, to have dinner with him, so bright and early Merrell arrived on the scene and after making a tour of the hospital, and seeing how well all the patients were being cared for. Dinner time soon came and everything that is entered on the menu card was on the table and there was enough for several more meals when the boys were thru eating, everything was of the best variety, and some of the best cooking that has ever been done in the army had been done and such pies and cakes were never before seen set on an army table, and from our feelings now we sure did do justice to our part of it, but the mess Sergeant says that there is plenty left for supper, but we don't know whether we will be able to get to supper.

MENU

Oyster Soup, Oysterettes, Sweet Pickles, Olives, Celery, Roast Turkey and Dressing, Cranberry Sauce, Candied Sweet Potatoes, Turkey Giblet Gravy, French Peas, Asparagus Tips, Parker House Rolls and Butter, Sliced Tomatoes, Lettuce Salad, Mayonnaise Dressing, Mince Pie, Pumpkin Pie, Coconut Layer Cake, Apples, Oranges, Bananas, Coffee, Cream, Cigars and Cigarettes.

We hope to see this menu in print, so that the people of Transylvania Co. will know that any man in the Regular Army is getting just as good eats as any one who is at home and any of the home boys who are falling short of such a menu as this had better come up and join us, for camp life is entirely different now to what it was during the emergency. The new pay bill, which goes into effect the 1st of January, 1920, will increase the pay of the Regular Army 50 per cent and it is more than a man can make on the outside, even if he is working at $150.00 per month, by the time that he pays his board and buys his clothes, we have just as much left as he does.

Hoping that everybody in Transylvania County has had as great and as Thankful a day as we have. We will close for this time and will tell more about the place next letter. Wishing the News and all its readers the greatest of success in all their undertakings, especially with the new railroad, we remain,

Respectfully,
R. L. Merrell & G. F. Woodfin.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Those present and witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by Col. J. L. Pace, a Justice of Peace, of said town, were:
Judge C. M. Pace, Solicitor J. E. Shipman, A. B. Freeman and others.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

The News just learned of what came near being a fatal accident down on Crab Creek, a week ago last Monday.

Dr. Sylvester Utter, a prominent surgeon of New Jersey was seriously wounded by the accidental discharge of his gun while bird hunting. The entire load of one barrel entered his hip and only his knowledge of surgery and presence of mind, kept him from bleeding to death. Dr. Utter used a rope and bound his limbs to stop the flow of blood until doctors Lyda and Wallis of Brevard could respond and give him first aid after which he was removed to the Patten Memorial hospital at Hendersonville, where he is slowly recovering.

FUNDS FOR THE RAILROAD SURVEY

The committee appointed at the recent railroad mass meeting to solicit funds necessary for the preliminary surveys for the proposed new railroad from Brevard, to southern connections are meeting with generous responses from the people of Transylvania county and it is stated that the amount necessary for this work, will soon be available. Only a few grouches, so far, have refused to support the enterprise and it is pretty well known that they will soon see that they are working against their own interests and will sooner or later contribute.

The proposition is rapidly gaining enthusiasm each and every day among the people of Transylvania County, as well as, along the proposed routes and the most skeptical ones of a few weeks ago are now convinced that "It can be done" and furthermore, it will be done.

The names of all those who contributed to this preliminary survey will be published in the News.

THE PRAYER CORNER

HE WHO BEST SERVES THE WORLD SERVES BEST HIS NATIVE LAND

"On Saturday afternoon, on June 21, in Paris, I was in attendance upon a meeting of the Supreme Council. There was a great tension, for the reason that the Germans had not yet stated whether they would or would not sign the Treaty. Late in the session an orderly slipped into the room and whispered a word to Mr. Clemenceau. Thereupon the aged Premier immediately arose, turned to Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George, and, with great solemnity said:

" 'Sirs, I have the honor to inform you that Germany will sign the Treaty.' Then in a few moments the cannon, signaling the news to an expectant world, began to boom. Mr. Clemenceau turned to me and said: 'Ah, that is the sound that I have been waiting to hear for forty-eight years.' 'Why had Mr. Clemenceau, why had all France and the Allied nations, been waiting to hear that sound? Because it meant the death knell of oppression. It meant freedom of thought and mind. It spelled thru the League of Nations, an end to the slavery of the war. It promised liberty, progress.

"I hear from some of our statesmen the cry: 'America first!' Yes. But if she is to be truly first she must be so, not just in playing safe for herself.

"When I stopped in London on my way to the Peace Conference at Paris last January, I lunched with an old English merchant, wise and always a warm friend of our country. In reply to his question, I told him I was going to Paris determined to work for the interests of America. 'Ah, yes,' he replied; 'but first you are going to serve the world. He who best serves the world serves best his native land.' 'And, so, I say, America must be first in generous thought and in action; first in the confidence which she shows to her fellow-nations; first in the heart of all the world, by reason of her friendliness and helpfulness to the world.'"

THOMAS W. LAMONT,
of J. P. Morgan and Co.
A PRAYER

For The Joy Of Brotherhood
We are weary of our island life, O Spirit, it is absence from Thee. We are weary of the pleasures spent upon ourselves, weary of that dividing sea which makes us alone. We look out upon the monotonous waves that roll between us and our brethren and we begin to be over awed; we long for the time when there shall be no more sea. Lift us onto the mainland. Thou Spirit of humanity, unite our hearts to the brotherhood of human souls. Set our feet in a large room—in a space where many congregate. Place us on the continent of human sympathy where we can find our brother by night and by day—where storms divide not, where waves intervene not. Oh, help our beloved country to be first in generous thought and action, first in the confidence she shows to her fellow nations, first in the heart of the world by reason of her friendliness. We ask in Christ's sake. Amen.

Bolshevism Greatest Menace To Christianity, Says Teusler

Direct Attack Upon All Religion and Church Must Do Real Fighting to Crush It.

Colonel R. B. Teusler
Director St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, Tokio and Red Cross Commissioner to Siberia

Bolshevism is a direct attack upon Christianity and civilization and must be fought through Christianity, declares Col. R. B. Teusler, director of St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Tokio and Red Cross Commissioner to Siberia. Col. Teusler recently made a flying trip to the United States for consultation with leaders of the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign of Church expansion and with officials of the Red Cross.

"Bolshevism must be fought through Christianity," said he, "because Bolshevism is a direct attack upon Christianity and civilization. It may be an economic theory here, but I have seen it in actual practice. I have seen the looting of cathedrals, the burning of libraries, and the closing of schools. I have concrete evidence of the degeneration of cathedral altars, where phonographs were installed by the Bolsheviks for the playing of 'rag time' music to the tunes of which the mobs danced. And I have transcripts formally issued by the Soviet governments apportioning the use of women among the soldiers after the so-called 'nationalization of women' was accomplished, also by Soviet orders.

"This work," said he, referring to the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church, "is greatly needed, for right here in America these Bolshevist theories are flourishing to an amazing extent. In the United States you use the term Bolshevism in an academic sense to describe certain theories. They were theories in Russia, also, until Lenin and Trotsky got into power, since which they have become stern realities. Bolshevism as practiced there and as preached here, are as far apart as black and white. Bolshevism is murder, robbery, loot, tyranny, chaos."

THE NATION WIDE CAMPAIGN

The Officers Were There, but There Were No Privates.

We laymen have felt that the work of the church belonged all too much to our clergy. We have felt little responsibility in even the work of our parish, much less of the work of the Church as a whole. We have left those leaders of ours alone to carry on the fight. The officers were there, but where were the privates? And the purpose of this "Nation Wide Campaign" is to reach that body of a million privates and form them up in serried ranks behind these leaders of ours, and under our leader, Christ, and to put into our hearts that fervent zeal that inspired our armies in France, that unity of purpose that sacrifices all until the power is won. We have lacked that purpose heretofore, haven't we?

Criticism of the Campaign
This campaign, which I believe to be conceived along intelligent, business like and sound lines, has been criticized by some people because it was too inspirational, too visionary, too much religion in it and it has been criticized by other people because there was too much talk of money in it and not enough religion.

As a matter of fact, the plan of the Campaign is first for education, to teach us laymen and laywomen, what the church is, what the church has today to work with and what the church ought to have to carry on the work that is immediately before it. Then to bring home to us the necessity for carrying on this work, to inspire us with devotion to this church of ours, which we have heretofore treated most indifferently, get us interested in the church and its work and not until then does the Campaign ask for money.

LEWIS B. FRANKLIN,
Director Every Member Canvass of The Nation Wide Campaign.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are requested to announce that Messrs. G. F. Wolfe and Elick Ward, Evangelist, of Tuxedo, will commence a revival in the Court House at Brevard Sunday, Dec. 14 and that all pastors are invited to come and bring their congregations.

BREVARD INSTITUTE NOTES

Mr. L. J. Pace, of Hendersonville, was here recently in the interest of the Baraca-Philathia society and gave some interesting talks. He is secretary of the 10th district of this organization.

Jack Moore, of Cliffside spent Thanksgiving with his sisters, Nell and Ludie Moore, of B. I.

A number of new students, both boys and girls came in on Monday, to enroll for the second term.

Quite a number of students went home for Thanksgiving; returning on Monday.

FARMERS SUPPLY COMPANY FURNITURE SALESROOM

Among some of the recent improvements being made in Brevard and one that deserves special mention is the Farmers Supply Company's new furniture display and salesroom in their warehouse on Caldwell street. The manager, Mr. J. M. Allison, has gone to no little expense in remodeling and fitting up this large and commodious room. It is very neat and handsome in appearance, and in keeping with the nice and complete line of dependable furniture which they have on display. It is so arranged and well lighted that their patrons may select and know just what they are purchasing.

This is only one of Brevard's live, wide awake, up-to-date and progressive mercantile establishments who are keeping abreast with the times and is a source of gratification to the citizens of Transylvania County to know that they are afforded such up-to-date stores and merchandise.

BREVARD-ROSMAN-SENECA MAP

A correction—Dr. Hunt requests us to state that he placed the map in the drug store window, but that he did not and could not have drawn it. That we are under obligations to Mr. A. L. Hardin for that complete map, and that Mr. Hardin is now engaged upon the work of making a set of smaller maps to be used in South Carolina and Georgia. These maps with our work will put Brevard and Transylvania county on the map.

HOME CURED MEAT URGED BY EXPERTS

Owing to Drop in Price of Pork State Swine Extension Wants Farmers to Cure Meat.

"Home curing of meat will be much more largely practiced during this winter than ever before," writes W. Shay in charge of swine extension office, West Raleigh, to the Board of Trade. Mr. Shay is urging farmers of the state to home cure as much of their hog meat as possible on account of the unprecedented and unjustified drop in pork on the hoof which makes it difficult for farmers to realize a profit or even costs of production, unless the meat from the present crop of hogs is cured at home. Mr. Shay gives the following illustration of the advantage and increased profit accruing to farmers who home cure their hogs.

"During the winter of 1916-17 the office of swine investigation killed 18 hogs, 9 of which were sold on the market fresh at 11 1-2 cents per lb. After selling the lard, ribs, heads, trimmings etc., fresh, the balance of the meat consisted hams, shoulders and sides from the other 9 hogs of equal weight was cured before selling. This action resulted in additional returns of $6692 or 44 per cent more for the cured at home over that sold fresh. Under the present prices the difference would be much greater. The following tables give a summary of the experiment which was conducted by Dr. Earl Hosteler at the Pender Bounty Test Farm.

Meat cured, weight, whole hog, 1187.6, price per pound, 27 cents; meat sold fresh, weight, 1300; price per pound, 11 1-2 cents; hams, weight 234.8, price per pound, 27 cents; shoulders, weight, 166.4, price per pound, 23 cents; sides, weight, 124.4, price per pound, 23 cents; trimmings, weight, 644. Total returns, $216.00, $149.50.

From the above it will be readily seen that the advantage is with the farmers who cure meat at home and sell it as such rather than gross on the hoof. It means, of course, some extra work, but at the same time considerable increase in price.

The BREVARD-ROSMAN-SENECA RAILROAD

The people want it and need it and are working for it and will have it. To Seneca or Bust.

NEWSIE.

SUPERIOR COURT

Superior Court reconvened last Monday after a recess of three days. The Owen's murder case was first on docket and after examining the special venire of 200 men only, seven qualified for the jury. The regular jury of 24 men was then examined and four more jurors qualified. This left the jury short one and it was found necessary to again adjourn court until the sheriff could summons another venire of fifty men. This being done Wednesday court again convened and proceeded with the taking of evidence Wednesday morning. The State was still introducing evidence as we go to press and it looks like the entire week will be taken up with this one case.

SIDEWALK NEEDED

The absence of a walk from Broad street to the entrance of the school buildings continues to cause considerable complaint from the teachers and students. These complaints come to the NEWS not in a spirit of anger or criticism but, in a pleading way that something may be done to relieve the situation.

The News would suggest that a board walk be constructed of rough lumber used as a substitute until a permanent walk could be made. The arrangement would answer for the present and obviate necessity of walking to and from the school buildings thru mud and water.
