A CHRISTMAS WALK

In silvery softness the anthem closed
 Like a slowly silenced bell;
 The sacred calm of a peace divine
 Like a benediction fell;
 And out on the morning light that spread
 A glimmer of amber gray,
 I walked with Margery home from church
 On an old, old Christmas E-y.

A bland, mild day—for the rugged month
 Had chosen a kindly mood,
 Like a wonderful mellow aftermath
 From the Autumn's plenitude.
 With scarcely a tang of wholesome cold
 Did the Winter's breezes blow,
 As Margery walked from church with me
 On a Christmas long ago.

The earnest words that had touched our hearts—
 The warnings, kindly and wise—
 Had left a shadow of tenderness
 In Margery's violet eyes;
 The merry, boydenish maid I'd known
 For a twelvemonth's flying space,
 Had taken on that old Christmas Day,
 A new and womanly grace.

As through the tremulous opal clouds
 That shifted and swayed apart,
 A sun ray lighted the rosy face,
 The wish was born in my heart
 That down the trail of the unspent years,
 Whatever their trend might be,
 The soft-eyed maiden beside me then,
 Might walk to the end with me.

Absently watching the velvet flakes
 By the white gale set a-wing,
 I breathe the spirit of other years
 While the bells of Yuletide ring;
 And near me, smiling with happy eyes
 At our children's romping play,
 Is the girl who walked from church with me
 On that old, sweet Christmas Day.

LESSON OF CHRISTMAS DAY

Example of Christ Should Inspire Unselfishness and Make Us Try to Remedy Faults.

Christmas should inspire a world of unselfishness. The example before us is almost too perfect, for it rather frightens us to attempt such divine heights of self-abnegation, but we can try. It will at least take us from the depths of selfishness, where most of us now are. Each Christmas day should teach us something of the lesson of the Holy Child's life.

If we could learn from Christmas, today and in the succeeding years the serious lessons of self-betterment and ennoblement it has to offer, how infinitely better it would be than just to look on it as a holiday for gifts and feasts, for extravagance and foolishness.

So take an hour or two off on Christmas day and give it up to retrospective and self-inspection. You will each find faults, if you judge yourself impartially, for no one is perfect. Then make a serious determination to try to overcome those faults, for only trying to improve is there any growth in character. If you are satisfied with yourself you stay just as you are with all your faults and virtues. But if you try hard to remedy the faults your character is constantly growing broader. This is the lesson which Christmas day has for each of you.

Delivering the "Goods"

The connecting link between the Chero-Cola Bottler and the Chero-Cola consumer is found in the slogan—"perfect service."

Whether it be to serve soda fountain trade, grocery store or refreshment stand, this service is always the same.

The rapidly growing demand for Chero-Cola makes fleets of motor trucks do service to furnish the supply.

This is only one reason for Chero-Cola's unusual popularity.
