

United States are more than one-third, the railways of the world. They are much greater than that of any two nations may be compared, and approach the commerce of American railways.

—United States Senator Cummins.

"Doughboy Who Over There"

You that American railroads are the best. Foreign roads — in England and France — and in other Countries — and he knows. They have played in the development of our States is beyond measure. They have achieved high standards by far-sighted and courageous capital, and by the constant reward of men for rewards for work well done. American railroads in the world — we are the best.

$2,000 now invested in our railroads have to be added in the next five years with the nation's business, additional tracks, stations and engines, electric power houses, signals, safety devices, the crossings — and for reconstructing economies that will revolutionize transportation.

American railroads in the future the industry thrifty citizens, the direct-acting capable builders and managers and loyalty of the best workers with other industries bid-derers and men — the railroad must give fair rewards to capital, to labor and men. We will continue to set world standards to serve the Nation's needs built and operated on the basis of rewards for work well done.
