THE HARDWARE QUESTION SOLVED

Going to Build

No matter what you intend to build—whether it's a house, barn or merely a shelf in the pantry—you have to have tools. And the better the tools, the better the job. Poor tools are expensive at any price. They last only a short time and never do first-class work.

To be sure of getting tools worth buying, get them from us and you will be proud of your purchase. In addition to the tools, you most likely will need other things in the hardware line.

We have locks, doorknobs, hinges, brackets, nails and everything you will want.

MILLIONS IN U. S. OWN RAILROADS

Wage Earners Directly and Indirectly Affected by Roads' Solvency.

DIVISION OF SECURITIES.

Mutual Savings Banks Owned Entirely by Depositors Hold Large Amount of Railway Bonds.

Millions of thrifty Americans who have laid aside something for a "rainy day" are directly or indirectly owners of railroad securities. This ownership represents not only individual investment in the railroads, but holdings of railroad securities by life insurance companies, savings banks, fire and marine insurance companies, benevolent associations, educational institutions, trust companies and State and National banks. A large part of the assets of these institutions depend on the solvency of the railroads.

The ownership of railroad securities among these people is divided approximately as follows:

Individuals, numbering over 1,000,000, own outright about $10,000,000,000 in railroad securities. Over 600,000 are stockholders with an average holding of $13,956.

Life insurance companies, with $3,000,000,000 policies in force, own nearly $2,000,000,000 of railway securities.

Savings banks, with 10,000,000 depositors, own $847,000,000.

Fire and marine insurance companies, casualty and surety companies own a total of $949,000,000.

Benevolent associations, colleges, schools, charitable institutions, etc., own $350,000,000.

Trust companies, State and National banks own $865,000,000.

According to statistics compiled for the Association of Life Insurance Presidents in 1918, 27.65 per cent of life insurance companies' assets were invested in railroad bonds, and during the first half of 1919 the percentage of railroad bonds held by the life insurance companies was 26.25 of the total assets of these companies.

Interest of Wage Earners.

In addition to this widespread ownership of equities of American railroads by the people of the United States every wage earner who puts money into the savings bank has a direct interest in the soundness of railroad investment on account of the large part of the savings of men and women wage earners secured by the railroad bonds which are bought by the savings banks.

A great many of these institutions are mutual savings banks which have no capital stock, pay no dividends, earn no profits for stockholders, and their entire property belongs to the depositors. Every dollar that the bank earns beyond the actual cost of doing business also belongs to them.

The report of the United States Comptroller of the Currency for 1918 shows that 625 of these savings banks operated on the mutual plan had at the end of 1918 total deposits of $4,422,096,393.15 credited to 9,011,464 depositors, an average deposit of $490.72. These figures covered mutual savings banks in 18 states of the Union.

The Comptroller's report gives the amount of railroad bonds held by mutual savings banks in the six New England states—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut—as $408,272,160. The report of the State Superintendent of Banks of New York shows that the railroad bonds held by the mutual savings banks at the end of 1918 in New York amounted to $301,111,334.

Can there be any stronger proof of fered that the evidence of Brevard residents? After you have read the following quietly answer the question:

H. G. Rogers, brakeman, Railroad St., Brevard says: "Some years ago I had a bad spell with my kidneys. My back ached a good deal and it seemed to take the ambition out of me. When I bent over I could hardly straighten. I think being on my feet so much and the jarring of the train is what brought this trouble on. Dizzy spells would come over me and black specks appear before my eyes. My head ached a good deal, too. I was lame mornings and my kidneys didn't act as they should. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply and soon I felt like myself again."

Urge Adequate Rates.

In a resolution adopted by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents the heads of the country's large insurance companies express their attitude toward the railroad situation as follows:

"Rehabilitation of the railroads and establishment by law of rates adequate to provide for the present and future demands of our growing commerce and to stabilize the credit and securities of the roads."
