"THE PRAYER CORNER" Our Red Letter Days

There builded he an altar unto the Lord. "Wherever Abraham went he took God with him. "There builded he an altar unto the Lord".

"It is good to mark the bright spots in our path, especially where God appears to us. We ought to mark "Our Red Letter Days" so as not to forget them.

Some people are a great deal more apt to remember their sad days than their bright days. We do not forget the days of our troubles — when the baby died, when we lost the money, when we had the long sickness, but we very often forget the date of the great joy, the rich blessing, or the Divine help. The best way to mark these bright places is by some act of homage towards God".

Grave on thy heart each past "red letter day"! Forget not all the sunshine of the way by which the Lord hath led thee. Answered prayers and joys unasked; strange blessings; lifted cares, grand promise echoes. Thus thy life shall be one record of His love and faithfulness to thee".

A PRAYER:

Our Father it is good for us to mark the bright spots in our path, especially where Thou hast appeared to us. Let us never forget our "Red Letter Days". We do not forget our sad days, the days of our troubles—when the dear little one died; when we lost the money, when we had the long sickness, but we very often forget the date of the great joy, the rich blessing or the Divine help.

Grave on our hearts the bright days of our lives. Let us not forget the sunshine of the way by which Thou hast led us, the answered prayers, the joys unasked, the strange blessings; the lifted cares. Help us to mark these bright places by some act of homage towards Thee, some token or gift of love and gratitude for Thy loving kindnesses and tender mercies to us.

So shall our life be one record of Thy love and faithfulness to us.

And the praise shall be given to the Father, Son and Holy Ghost now and ever, amen. C. D. C.

BREVARD INSTITUTE NOTES:

School was closed on Tuesday in deference to the funeral of Mr. Robert Orr, a brother of Mr. O. H. Orr, our principal. Members of the faculty and student-body sent two beautiful floral pieces, and delegates from the different Sunday-school classes, societies and other organizations of the school, as well as any others who could do so, attended the funeral.

The Alumni meeting and banquet at the Institute, last Friday night, was a very enjoyable occasion.

Quite a number of out-of-town guests were present.

The banquet was held in the large room of the business department.

A supper of three courses was served by the Senior Cooking Class, under the supervision of Miss Alma Trowbridge.

The Institute basket-ball team went to Hendersonville last Saturday to play against the team of the Blue Ridge School. The game resulted in a victory for the Institute of 25 to 15.

YOUNG SCOUTS SPEND NIGHT UNDER STARS:

It was a hard hike for youthful legs, across the ridge and up to the head of Kuykendall Creek, but the party of Boy Scouts, led by Scout Master J. R. Hay and Assistant Scout Master Ted Clement, made it last Friday afternoon on their way to the top of Cedar Rock and thoroughly enjoyed it in spite of the hardships. They had hoped to spend the night in a cabin at the head of the creek, but when they arrived the appearance of the house was so uninviting that they decided to spend the night under the stars. So they loosed their packs from their weary shoulders, took out their frying pans, unrolled their blankets, and settled down to be as comfortable as was possible.

The night was cold and the stars shone bright if not warm. In order to allay the discomforts of earth, the boys looked up into the heavens and spent a good part of their time in counting the constellations.

On the morrow the journey was resumed, the mountain top reached, and at about three o'clock in the afternoon, the party, safe and whole, tramped again into the street of their good old home town, more convinced than ever that it was good, but hearty in the faith that the scout's was the real life.
