ARRESTED FOR THIS

This picture caused Larry Keegan's arrest.

When Superintendent Lewis of the Yosemite National park heard that Keegan had gone to Overhanging Rock at Glacier point and climbed over the side, he sent a ranger, who pulled Keegan out of bed and yanked him down to park headquarters for a sermon that made it plain that another such offense would result in his ejection from the park.

"You are an athlete and get away with such a stunt," Mr. Lewis said. "But you are setting an example to somebody else who would be killed. Anybody attempting death in that way will be arrested."

Keegan, who is from Butte, Mont., had two friends hold a rope while he climbed out over eternity. Evidently he didn't believe in signs, for he disregarded an official sign near the rock which reads:

"It is 3,000 feet to the bottom and no undertaker to meet you. Take no chances. There is a difference between bravery and just plain ordinary foolishness."

Can't Find Name for Nineteenth Offspring

Lynchburg, Va. — Fred O. Shaner, father of 19 children, 18 of whom are living, has, he says, run out of names and he is asking his friends here to suggest a name for the last, a two-months-old boy. The eighteenth child was named Thomas Jefferson by former President Woodrow Wilson at Mr. Skinner's request two years ago.

A Place in the Heart of Everyone is filled by an inherent love of home.

The thought of home and its improvement is a most natural instinct, and it is the development of that thought that was productive of present day civilization.

Homes have been truly termed "The Bulwark of the Nation." Their possession makes for better citizenship, and adds immeasurably to the sum total of human happiness.

There is nothing that adds a greater interest to life and brings a feeling of independence more so than to

and it should be the purpose of everyone to become possessed of a place of shelter that they can call their own.

"No matter how humble, there's no place like home"—these lines have ever rung true, and find an echo in every human heart.

Home Owning Is Easier Than You Think

for with lumber now the lowest cost construction material in the world today, it is not a difficult matter to

Build Now—Build with Wood

Come and gather ideas from the many pictures and plans of modern homes that we have gather for your benefit. Look them over, and then ask all the questions you desire, and we will take great pleasure in answering them.

For many years we have been in close touch with building conditions and building costs. We can suggest ways and means that make home ownership much easier. We have helped others to perfect their building plans, and will be delighted to help you.
