

What We're For This

A Virginia editor threatened to publish the name of a certain young man who was seen hugging and kissing a girl in the park unless his subscription to the paper was paid up in a week. Fifty-nine young men called and paid up the next day, while two even paid a year in advance.

It

The above reminds us of the ad an Illinois farmer put in his local paper—that he had lost a young Holstein heifer calf and would give a pint of good whiskey as a reward for its return—next morning there were twelve men in his barn yard each with a Holstein heifer calf claiming the reward.

PROVINCE OF A NEWSPAPER

It would be comical, were it not somewhat pathetic, the way newspaper offices are besieged every day by their friends, urging them to "roast" this and that; to "see to it" that this and that is corrected; to have this and that done in the city or county; to start this and that kind of movement to correct evils in the State government. These friends actually appear to believe that it is the newspaper's business to handle all these affairs.

But a self-respecting newspaper, though ready and willing to carry all reasonable responsibility, must remind its readers that they—the people—are the authority upon which rests the responsibility for the present state of affairs local, state and national.

A self-respecting newspaper tries to report the news of what actually happens, not what it might wish had happened. The relation of a self-respecting newspaper to the general public is not always understood. It is the duty of a newspaper to be in a position to support any good act or criticize any bad act of public policy.

This relationship cannot exist where favors are asked and granted. Honesty is the only policy for a newspaper.

If objectors don't like the way things are going, they should qualify as voters, and then raise Cain about it.

A LETTER FROM OVER THERE

Editor Brevard News:—

Please allow me space in your valuable paper to say just a few words in regard to the American Forces in Germany, of which I am a member. I am very proud of being a member too. I have seen some American papers lately and from what I understand there are some people in the States that think the soldiers over here are no good, but I don't agree with them at all; not just because I am one of them. There are lots of reasons to disagree with them. Some of the leading officers of the American and Allied armies that have visited the area, have given the A. F. in G. the name of being the best soldiers in the American army any where; so I can't see where the people in the States can knock them like they do. I have seen one paper where it stated that the soldiers over here were drunk all the time and destroying property and mistreating the people, but I have been here nearly two years and I haven't seen anything like that yet. The soldiers that drink heavy do not stay here long as they are sent back to the States as undesirable, as for the mistreating the people that is all wrong so I think the fellows that write that stuff should come over here first and see what was going on before they begin to write. I guess that is all for the present. Hoping you have much success. From an old Tar Heel boy, John F. Clark.

One Reason So Many People Do Not Save Money

IS BECAUSE IT IS SO EASY NOT TO BEGIN

The man who is looking for excuses not to save can always find them, because there are nearly always legitimate obstacles to any worthy accomplishment.

Your ability to overcome these obstacles determines your success or failure.
