

NEAR EAST RELIEF CAMPAIGN IN MARCH

The annual campaign of the Near East Relief in this county will be put on in March instead of with the general state campaign for $200,000 which comes to a close Sunday, it was announced from Raleigh by Col. George H. Bellamy, state chairman.

This is one of about 25 counties in which preparations for the campaign had not been completed by February 12, when the state "drive" began. In order to give loyal officials time to properly prepare, Colonel Bellamy and Josephus Daniels, honorary state chairman, decided to postpone it a few weeks.

North Carolina is asked to raise $200,000 of the nation's $15,000,000 quota this year. The Tarheel State's share will feed, clothe and educate 3,334 innocent war victims, now in North Carolina orphanages at Trebleton, for each year. So efficient is the work of the national Near East Relief that each child can be fed, clothed and educated on $5 a month each.

In announcing postponement of the drive in this country Colonel Bellamy declared that this is a call that North Carolina cannot turn down, because the life of many of our own boys in the world war was saved by the sacrifices made by Armenian troops whose children we are now supporting.

"Armenia's" heroic defense of the Baku oil fields shortened the war by many months, according to all experts," Colonel Bellamy declared, "because by a superb sacrifice of their own lives by 300,000 of Armenia's 400,000 troops, they prevented the German drive on Baku from accomplishing its purpose."

"There is many a North Carolina boy back home today who would now be sleeping under a wooden cross in France had the war been continued, because they were killing men off at the rate of 10,000 a day when the war ended. North Carolina cannot see the children of these heroes starve or freeze to death."

Others of these children were made destitute when their parents were murdered for refusing to renounce Christ and become Mohammedans during the Turkish depredations into Armenia in the name of Mohammedanism.

Colonel Bellamy made an appeal to all those who can give at this time, to send their contributions to Robert A. Brown, state chairman, 901 Citizens National Bank Building, Raleigh. All of these amounts will be duly credited to this county and added to what it sent in during the campaign here next month.

Remember — every five dollars you give saves the life of some child for a month. This child was made destitute by the self-sacrifice of a man who helped to make possible the return of many an American doughboy.

OLD TOXAWAY SCHOOL

The regular term of Old Toxaway school has expired. It is said to have been the best school ever taught.

There were three entertainments successfully carried out, including supper. The funds raised were for buying equipment for the school. It is said to be the best equipped two-teacher school in the county.

The teachers will probably be asked to teach there again this coming year.

The teachers are respectively Mrs. M. COLLINS, Principal and Mrs. W. E. GALLOWAY, Asst.
