Insurance Neglected

May mean weeping in smoke or in sadness viewing the ruins of your home.

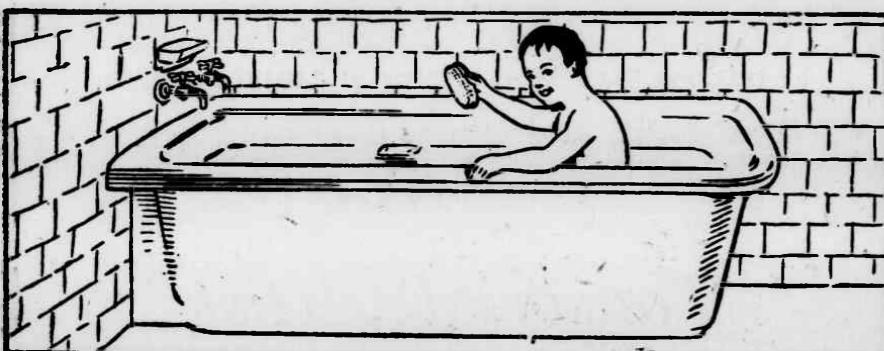

But insurance shows business ability. Means satisfaction in protection. Means contentment of mind. Means the saving of a lifetime's earnings. Means the comfort of old age.

Destruction has visited your neighbor and our neighboring town — It awaits us.

Insure while it waits — tomorrow may be too late.

HUMAN
The enormous advantage which the screen has over the spoken stage is that in film drama you cannot hear the child actor speak. Of course, being a child actor is practically as painful as being an ingenue. The weight of public opinion demands that such a performer must be cut continuously. A great mistake was made by the American Federation of Labor in failing to form a union which should include all people engaged in the business of being cute, writes Haywood Brown in Judge. Such a union could win terrific public support by coming out in favor of a two-and-one-half-hour day for its members. Long vacations would also be a popular demand. Nobody can be cute 24 hours a day without straining his neck. And ingenues of this type, as F. P. A. has pertinently remarked, almost invariably fall victims, sooner or later, to fallen archness.

M. Briand is quoted as having spoken disrespectfully of golf! In clear and rather unkindly reference to Mr. Lloyd George, the former French premier is reported to have said: "Englishmen never cease to be children. Cannot you enjoy a country walk without hitting a silly little rubber ball?" These are awful words in the ears of golfers, but—well, for non-players of that ancient game they voice a perfectly comprehensible wonder. Its charms are hidden in a deep mystery from the uninitiated, and only experience can reveal and teach them. M. Briand had excuse for not being in the best of tempers, and as a Breton, he naturally would not take to golf, but his opinion will not surprise quite so many people as golfers would like to believe.

Junior high school boys of Lexington, Ky., acquire skill in the manual-training department and put it to practical use at home as well as in the class-room, according to the United States bureau of education. Some of the jobs done at home by these boys are the following: Mending a leaking roof, repairing fences, building garage, mending steps, screening house, installing electric lights, helping to repair barn, papering rooms, staining and waxing floors. The boys also made much of the furniture for the practice house used by the girls of the home economic classes.

Quebec proposes to encourage literature by offering annual prizes of $25,000 for the best books written during each preceding year. The question whether this will stimulate the production of better books or only make the same old kind a little more profitable remains, however, to be determined by events.

A wife's suit for divorce was thrown out of court because she had forgotten what the charge was that she brought against her husband, and the husband didn't know just how she would take it if he stepped over and reminded her of it.

Lack of funds has been reducing the student enrollment at the universities. It should be remembered that the rush for the higher education was one of the best of the phenomena that accompanied the silk-shirt era.

At the Harvard observatory they have discovered that a big abandoned telescope is useful for measuring the heat of stars. But can they utilize that heat, now that the gas is getting low?

A court has held that payment for liquor with a bad check is no crime. But buying liquor with a good check is a crime, isn't it? Things are getting all mixed up.

And just to think, if somebody had called on grandmother a flapper, you would have killed her.

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

PERMANENCE means ECONOMY.
Permanent fencing protects both stock and crops, and reduces labor. Permanent feeding floors save food and save stock health. Farming, like any other industry, shows greatest profits from proper equipment.
Your local building material dealer deserves much of the credit for modern farm construction. His capital, tied up in comparatively slow moving building materials, has kept on hand the means of community improvement.
With such an investment on his part he naturally has selected such materials as he could safely depend on. For concrete construction, whether fence posts, feeding floors or silos, he is apt to recommend Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
