

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION HELD AT ENON CHURCH

The first annual session of the Sunday School Convention of the Transylvania Baptist Association was held with the Enon Baptist church on Thursday and Friday of last week. Although the attendance was smaller than had been hoped for, the interest was all that any one could ask.

From start to finish there was not a dull minute during the entire session. No speaker was dull or long, and each one knew what he wanted to say, and when he said it, he quit. The music during the convention was unusually good and inspiring. A male quartette from the Sebrun Music House of Asheville was present throughout the convention and rendered a number of selections which greatly delighted all who heard them. Mr. Sebrun also led the congregation in singing some of the old hymns and songs.

Pastor Ledford and the Enon community finely entertained the convention, and all visitors were delighted with the treatment they received from the people of that splendid community.

The president of the convention, Rev. J. E. Dupree, was unable to attend on account of having been called to the bedside of his aged father who was very sick at his home in Wake county. In his absence, Rev. Chas. C. Smith was chosen to act as president for this convention.

The next session of the convention will be held with the Brevard church on Thursday and Friday after the first Sunday in May, 1923. The following officers were elected to serve until the close of the next convention: Rev. J. E. Dupree, president; Rev. W. A. Williams, vice-president; Mr. N. L. Ponder, secretary; and the following comprise the executive committee: Rev. Chas. C. Smith, chairman; A. B. Jones, W. S. Price, J. A. M. Paxton and one other whose name this reporter is unable to get.

The following committees were appointed and acted during the convention: on constitution, Rev. J. I. Gentry, Miss Myrtle Garren and Mr. W. S. Price, Jr. On time and place: W. B. Henderson, G. W. Bishop and A. B. Jones. Rev. E. G. Ledford was chairman of the committee on nominations.

The convention starts off with bright prospects for a year of fine work in this county and doubtless a number of Sunday school will be greatly helped thru its ministrations. The following constitution was adopted:

CONSTITUTION OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OF THE TRANSYLVANIA BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

ARTICLE I. This Convention shall be called The Sunday School of the Transylvania Baptist Association.

ARTICLE II. The Convention shall meet annually, the dates of the next session to be decided by the Convention.

ARTICLE III. Each Baptist Sunday School in the Association is a member of the Convention and is invited to send as its representatives to the annual sessions as many of its members as it shall choose. The objects of the Convention are principally educational and inspirational, therefore each school is urged to endeavor to have its officers and teachers and interested workers attend.

ARTICLE IV. The officers of the Convention shall be a President, a Vice-president, a Secretary. The duties of these officers shall be such as are unusually performed by these officers and they shall be elected at each annual session in such manner as the Convention shall decide. They shall be elected on the last days of the Convention and shall serve until the close of the next session of the Convention.

ARTICLE V. There shall be an Executive Committee consisting of five members elected at the close of each annual session serving until the close of the next session of the Convention. It shall be the duties of this committee to arrange programs for the sessions of the Convention, to handle the money of the Convention and to have charge of the details of arrangements for the sessions of the Convention. Should necessity arise to change the place of meeting as set by the previous session of the Convention, it shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to arrange a place of meeting. This committee shall meet at the call of either its chairman or the President of the Convention.

ARTICLE VI. There shall be at each Convention a Superintendent of Teacher Training and a superintendent of organized classes, whose duties it shall be to foster and encourage the work of training and the organization and strengthening of organized classes in the Sunday schools of the Association. These superintendents shall be elected by the Executive committee and shall be under its supervision. The Executive Committee shall also have power to elect superintendents of other Sunday school work as they may be needed, or can wisely be used.

ARTICLE VII. This constitution may be amended or changed at any annual session of the Convention by a majority of those present when the vote is taken.

Our idea of perfect self-control is that form of restraint a man exhibits when he sticks to his job in the rear of the building while the fire apparatus is rushing by.

The more talk there is about Shantung the greater the reason why the world would like to hear some member of the Shantung proletariat tell just where he stands on the subject.

Somebody ought to figure up how much time and money is wasted in this country preparing, mailing, opening and chucking into the wastebasket the flood of propaganda that is engulfing us.

Newspapers are wonderful things, but it may be observed that no journalist is well enough informed to be able to tell what ever became of the war between the Greeks and Moustapha Kemal.

Duke d'Acosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, protests against the Hungarian crown being wished on him, which goes to show that the king business is not as popular as it was before the war.

Why are so few young Americans studying Russian? American relations with that vast country will be closer than ever within a few years, yet not many are preparing themselves for the approaching opportunities.

"An economist has figured out that a wife is worth $2.09 cents a day," some one writes. That will not insult the average wife, but she will, upon reading the item, demand of her husband the $2.50 he is withholding from her.

Before investing money in response to get-rich-quick promises one might wisely look up the history of enterprises that have returned 100 per cent or more in a few weeks. It would not take long.

If a newspaper got behind time as often as a railroad train does it would have to go out of business.

When in conversation, it becomes necessary to search for topics, it is time the conversation ceased.

Only place in which children will notice that children should be seen and not heard is in a tabernacle, and even that is something of a hard job.
