

DODGE BROTHERS BUILD NEW COUPE

Closed Car for Business Men is Distinct Achievement in Automotive Field

First With All Steel Body—Other Cars Have New Design.

Behind the simple phraseology of an announcement which Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers, are publishing today in every important city and town in America lies the story of a new achievement in automobile development. "Dodge Brothers announce a business coupe; conservative changes in the body design of all other types," the advertisement reads.

The business coupe is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed. In this respect it takes a new distinct place in automotive history, for it involves an entirely unique principle of coupe body construction. The steel body not only practically eliminates the problem of limited production, due to the tedious and individual workmanship required on wood bodies, but also enables the manufacturers to give the coupe the same lustrous baked enamel finish which has already contributed so much to the reputation of Dodge Brothers open cars. This process in itself will also facilitate quantity production, as an enormous amount of time was consumed heretofore in applying the numerous coats of paint required on wood.

Naturally, these are important factors in the determination of the selling price, resulting in economies which Dodge Brothers are passing directly to the purchaser. "Wood is practically eliminated from the construction of this car," said Jesse A. Smith, the local dealer. "Even the framework and panels are of steel, and the natural result is lighter, quieter and more durable car. Steel prolong life and reduces the possibility of squeaks and rattles."

"The business men of America have been expecting such a coupe and Dodge Brothers have given it to them."

"It is in reality a coupe at a roadster price. While it is easily attractive enough for any use, it is particularly designed for the business man—who needs the comfort and protection of a closed car in his work, but who can easily get along without a few of the luxuries which, in the past, have made the closed car so expensive. The business coupe is built inside and out to withstand the wear and tear of every day use—and yet it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which everyone is accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers closed cars."

Only what might term the "recreation" liabilities of the more expensive coupe. It is upholstered in genuine leather, has a wide, comfortable straight seat, is equipped with good tires, heater, dome light, windshield cleaner and adjustments for raising and lowering windows. The doors with new easy closing Yale locks. There is more than the usual amount of leg room and convenient and spacious luggage compartments are provided. Doctors, real estate men and salesmen of all kinds will find it just the car they need. We already have good indications of a tremendous demand.

"The change of design in the other Dodge Brothers cars indicates that while Dodge Brothers have always adhered closely to the practical they are also progressive and abreast of time. It is Dodge Brothers policy to make improvements year after year and month after month and this is simply another step forward," Adv.

Concealed Weapon Proves to Be Three-Foot Sword

New York. — Terence Smith, Brooklyn, was held in $300 bail for special sessions on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon when he was arraigned in Adams street court.

Homegoers in the crowded Borough hall section of Brooklyn were startled at 11 o'clock at night when they saw Police Sergt. Patrick J. Lee of the Adams street precinct walk up to Smith, open the man's coat and pull from concealment a three-foot sword.

Smith said that he needed the sword to protect himself, according to Lee, who said Smith had been mixed up in a quarrel at his lodging house and the police were notified to look out for him.

Cow Flees From Butcher; Takes Refuge in House

Selma, Ala.—"Sookle," a Jersey cow formerly the property of Ed Elbers, a negro, changed owners and from last accounts was grazing contentedly in the pasture of S. A. Watts, a farmer. All because "Sookle" realized her life was in danger and gave the grand hailing sign of distress from a second floor apartment window here.

Elbers brought "Sookle" to Selma to sell her to a butcher. As she neared the slaughter house "Sookle" suddenly bolted, dashed up the stairs of one of Selma's fashionable apartments, stuck her head through a window and moored loudly. Watts, passing by, caught the distress signal and purchased the cow.

LEADER OF DOUKHOBORS

Photo of Peter Verigin, acknowledged leader of the Doukhobors (a Russian religious sect) of western Canada. According to newspaper reports, Verigin has proposed that children of less than ten years of age, the aged and the infirm be tossed into the Columbia river—just to enable Doukhobors more easily to dispose of their property and wander about the country in vagrant bands, as a protest against what they style excessive legislation.

On several previous occasions the Doukhobors have staged nude parades, both of young children and adults, sometimes in bitter winter weather.

BROTHERS GIVE A MILLION

Muncie (Ind.) Men Believe in Distributing Their Fortune to Charity Before Death.

Muncie, Ind.—If you have money to give away there is no time like the present, is the philosophy of Frank C. Ball. His three brothers held the same thought and a fifth brother, now dead, held that theory during his lifetime. The four living brothers and the estate of the other brother have just given $1,000,000 for educational and welfare work. They operate an immense fruit jar manufacturing plant here.

"We are giving this $1,000,000 because we believe it better to do such things while we are living than allow others to do it for us after we are dead," explained Frank C. Ball, president of the manufacturing plant.

The gifts were made in the names of Frank C. Ball, Edmund B. Ball, George A. Ball, Dr. Lucius L. Ball and the estate of William C. Ball, and are to be distributed as follows:

For eastern division, Indiana State Normal school, located at Muncie, $250,000; for additional buildings; public auditorium in Muncie, $150,000; for permanent endowment Muncie Y. M. C. A., $100,000; to Hinsdale college, Hinsdale, Mich., as endowment, $100,000; to James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Hospital for Children at Indianapolis, $25,000; to Delaware County Tuberculosis association for endowment, $25,000; for building, fund of Masonic temple, $110,000; for hospital extension work in Muncie, $100,000, and the remainder, amounting to $140,000, is to be disposed of in ways not yet ready for announcement.

FINDS BROTHER AND SISTERS

Kidnaped in Her Infancy Woman is Reunited to Family After Twenty Years.

Wilmington, Del.—Kidnaped in this city when she was barely four years old and taken to Washington, Pa., where she was adopted by the family of an undertaker after having been deserted by her kidnapers, Mrs. Helen Smith was the other day reunited with her brother and sisters here after more than twenty years.

Mrs. Smith said her kidnapers went to California after leaving her in Washington, and although she was very young when spirited away from home she had a vague recollection of her brothers and sisters, and only a short time ago began an investigation of her lost relatives.

Through a letter to the police department she was informed her mother and father had died during her long absence, but her brothers and sisters were living here.

SCOTS QUIT NATIONAL DISH

People of Scotland Greatly Concerned by Neglect of Oatmeal Porridge by the Masses.

Edinburgh.—Many people in Scotland today are seriously concerned regarding the neglect of porridge by the masses of the people.

Two years ago there were doubtless sound economic reasons for the housewife turning from this national dish, as the price was high, but there is no economic reason now for the boycott of porridge. Whereas the official index figure of the cost of living is still over 90 per cent above the prewar level, the oatmeal figure itself will be nearer 40 per cent and the milk figure (in Glasgow) is exactly 50 per cent over prewar values.

So that one must look for other explanations. Most authorities are agreed that the main factor in weaning the great mass of the Scottish public from porridge was the change in the starting hour on public works.

Oatmeal millers expected that when the costs fell cheapness would effect a cure for the trouble. But despite such publicity of the exceptional value which porridge offers today, the public remains shy of it.

One oatmeal trader now actually suggests an appeal to the king. Apparently his hope is that royal example will succeed where the strong card of cheapness has failed.

CLAIMANT TO $50,000,000

Rufus Coppock, Plymouth fisherman and weaver, with his dog Tipperary, calmly awaits happenings before entering his claim in sharing one of the largest estates in America. The story of the Coppock estate is one of the most romantic. Rufus has a copy of a 99-year lease, which claimants declare proves their title to lands in New York, Jersey City, Philadelphia, Oil City, Phoenixville, Media and other parts of Pennsylvania. The lease was dated in 1816, and was to run 99 years. The descendants of Bartholomew Coppock, who founded the fortune, have organized the "Coppock descendants" and are preparing to claim lands leased by their ancestor more than a century ago.

ALBATROSS FLIES 3,000 MILES

Bird Follows Ship Six Days and Seven Nights on Pacific Without Furling Wings.

Seattle, Wash.—Starting from a small solitary island near Japan a black-headed albatross followed a steamship across the North Pacific for six days and seven nights. It became an object of unusual interest among both passengers and crew and several big wagers as to its length of flight and duration of strength.

Meat and bread tossed to the bird during the day was picked up from the waves without the great wings being furled. For six days and seven nights the race kept all at fever heat with excitement, and when 3,000 miles from the Japanese island and following a greedy breakfast of meat and fish the albatross turned abruptly and was lost in the distant horizon. The ship was then 1,900 miles from the nearest Alaskan port, but the bird is believed to have flown straight home.

Berlin Potash Trade Revives. Berlin.—Germany's potash industry, disrupted by the war, is rapidly getting on its feet again. Within the last few months Germany has concluded arrangements for resumption of her potash trade with all European countries, including the United States. The value of the total potash output in Germany in 1921 is estimated at 2,500,000,000 marks.

Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May '30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% increased business. The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield value has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.

TIRES

Agents Everywhere. Oldfield Tires are distributed through 75 branches and distributing warehouses in all parts of the United States. More dealers are constantly becoming Oldfield agencies and Oldfield Tires are now available in your community.
