While it is true that Transylvania county is growng rapidly and the citizens as a whole are unusually pros- der, too. perous, at the same time, it is well for all of us to stop and ponder, amid this present boom and at the beginning of our greatest tourist season, over the alarming increase and enormous amount of imported food products, woolen goods, grains, etc. For the past twelve months many of our mer tourist towns. For instance you largest manufacturing industres have either been shut down entirely or else of ice cream with nuts on it, in nearwill pay twenty-five cents for a dish running on half or part time. There is far more money in truck gardens or in raising at least enough domestic fruits, vegetables and meats for home consumption than in having simply a one-crop farm. It is always a case of the money all going out and none coming in. With the roads now contemplated, and the ever growing tourist trade, Transylvania can easily become the greatest truck garden in all this section and it is time for the farmers to realize as a strict business proposition that their prosperity lies absolutely along this farming line if they are to keep up with the growth, taxes and increased expense of modern farming. More payroolls have been the crying need of this section for many years and it is becoming an imperative need of Transylvania county to induce would-be manufacturing indus tries to locate in our county. Why should it be necessary with our wonderful natural resources to ship our raw materials away to be manufactured when we have the most reasonable labor, the greatest water power sites and more real advantages for sites ,etc.. for industries than any place this side of West Virginia? It can be done-and we can establish such enterprises if it is the will of the majority. There is enough money leaving this section to build another large cotton mill, a large canning and cheese factory, several furniture factories, pottery works. brick yards, more hardwood manufacturing plants, glass factories, metal foundaries, mattress factories and many more such enterprises and they would find it mighty profitable in "The Land of Waterfalls." The News has made a tremendous campaign. with the aid of the citizens. for "Buying at Home," and with the establishmer' of the new large city depart-*ores, this will be an establlished fact as it will not be necessary to go out of the county to buy anything at al. With the new wholehouse contemplated, the sale groce hotels, bc ling houses camps and retail sto: will be able to keep much more money at home. With the united fort and will of the ci-tizens of ansylvana county, great large year und-payrolls can be e-tablished ir record breaking time and these together with the wonderfu industries plready established, the new roads, etc., will surely make this section trulyl "The Most Wonderful Garden of Eden."

selves Americans, for ideas and ideals do not merely float in the air-they are incarnated in men and women. and by men and women they are applied to life. Principles are of no value till they are acted on, and they must be acted on by people. The memories and traditions of which something has been said all attach to people, and the history of the country which is a part of it today was made by people. It is into the labors of very real people that we of the present time have entered. The problem, therefore, is one of keeping Americans true, not solely to the flag, but to the flag as the symbol of a great us to redeem our debt to the plost national life. Into that life it is necessary to enter, in it men must share. The more complete their participation the greater will be their love of their country-and their love of it for what it really is, and of all that it stands for. A patriotism thus enlightened and inspired will, as has been said, be close of kin to religion.

Preserve Faith and Hope.

It is not boasting to magnify one's blessings, or to dwell lovingly and proudly on the principles and ideals which are American. It is necessary indeed to do this, since there are some unhappy souls who see nothing good in America, and who are even yet looking to Russia for inspiration and salvation. Nothing can be done with or for such, but it may be possible to prevent others from being led astray through ignorance of what America truly is. The American people have been impervious to the incursions of Bolshevism, not because they are dull and stupid, but rather because they are satisfied, and have reason to be. They know their America well enough to know that there is no country in the world in which opportunity is more freely offered, none which comes so near being the country of the average man. Many Things to Learn. On the nation's birthday, therefore, the American people should pledge themselves to greater, devotion to American ideals, to more loyal and unselfish service, and to stricter conformity to those great principles which lie at the basis of the nation's life. There is great need for education, since much of the failure to appreciate this country is due to a pitiable ignorance of its history, its institutions, and of all that America has throughout its life stood for. And this ignorance is often the densest in the minds of those who think of themselves as reformers, and who indeed are allowed to pose as such. Men need to be very sure that they know what liberty, as won by people of the Anglican race, is, and what are its safeguards. It is particularly necessary that they should understand the right of minorities, and should realize that there is such a thing as the despotism of majorities. There are some things that a vote of the majority cannot be allowed to sanction, as our constitution recognizes. Perhaps this is one of the most important lessons to be learned, as it seems to be the most difficult to bring home to men. The very restraints of which the uninformed so often complain have no other purpose than to protect the helpless against the strong. And this is a part of Americanism. Sc we approach another Fourth of July. The world is in a sad state, and even in fortunate America all things are not as we should like to have them "Nevertheless the foundation of Goc standeth sure." and it is not likely to be shaken.

THE JEW-A PRODUCT; THE CHRISTIAN-A DEBTOR (By A. C. Fellman)

(Special for Brevard News) The Jew is the product of centuries of environment. He is largely what we have made him. Social and relgious barriers have separated him from the people among whom he lived, for fifteen centuries. Mediaeval Christians, by severe restrictions, benned him up in Ghetto: and the Mosaic law, with the rites and ceremonies, its rigid restrictions, built a high fence between the Jew and the

If the Jew's sense of honor does not always correspond with ours, it is because the impulses that spring from chival. ry, for centuries, denied to him. He was deprived to ruse and hypocisy because he was treated as a socal parish—an outcast. Persecution developed in him a double code of ethics-one for the people he loved, and another for the Christian who persecuted him. Can you blame him? He became strong in his domestic life, for home was the only one refuge in his social ostercism. So, by imple process of a little honest think ing, we can easily see how true it is that the Jew is indeed the product of the centures, and that of the traits thoughtlessly credited to his Semetic blood are gradually disappearing as the conditiions which produce them picture of all the persecutions that were Israel's lot for so many centuries; for, left to themselves behind the walls of separation which they have helped to build, and on which they orided themselves from their Jewish traditions, or to liberate themselves from the yoke of the Talmude.

It has been said that patriotism must be an intelligent patriotism; there is much that passes for it that is not intelligent, and some that falls within Dr. Johnson's definition : "Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel." Nothing is easier than to be to disappear. And it remains for us patriotic when it is simply a question as Christians to honestly try to atone of going with the crowd.
