IDS AND CAT SPLIT HOUSE te Besom Frien

Foud at a Time When only Kind-list Feeling Should Prevail.

There is a feud still only a few. ther towns that promises to develop in-to a vendetta as interse and deadly as anything that Breathitt county ever produced. The pity of the feud is that no one would ever have predicted it; no one took steps to forestall it.

The Bixbys and the Judds have been neighbors for more than six months and until recently relations had been triendly between the two families. Bixby and Judd come out from the rity on the same train three or four hights a week and until last week took part in the best game of pitch in the mmuters' league. Mrs. Bixby and Mrs. Judd were neighborly about such things as a little vinegar or enough olive oil for a French dressing.

But that is all over now. Bixby and Judd pass each other with laboriously achieved unconcern. There are no more informal visits from house to use. The Bixbys are talking seri-Ssly about selling their house, even at a sacrifice, that they may get into a more congenial atmosphere. The Judds are letting it be known that the neighborhood is in some ways an unpleasant one.

Love of nature really started it all. The Bixbys were unaware of the fact that Mrs. Judd was a bird lover. It is not always easy to identify a professional bird lover. Very often they give every indication of being normal persons. It is only when the annual migration starts that the bird lovers give themselves away.

That was when Mrs. Judd revealed her true character. As soon as the first robins appeared in the neighborhood she began to take the trouble of the birds to heart. It was a large order to worry about all the birds in town, but Mrs. Judd was conscientious. There was Felix, for instance. Felix is the Bixby cat, a great tawny cat, highly decorative but not particularly respectable, and not familiar enough with bird lore to know that he shouldn't catch robins. He had been doing it for a long time; he did it one bright morning on the lawn in front of the Judd house.

Mrs. Judd went to the telephone. She called Mrs. Bixby. There were a few remarks, progressively icy. A complete silence. The feud began. Felix, however, merely sat in the sun and cleaned up after his meal.

Life on Mars?

Mars, our nearest neighbor, will be at the nearest possible point to us-$5.000.000 miles-in 1924; but this year it got within 42,000,000 miles of us on June 18, and the astronomers of world cagerty trained their N the world capity trained their two-ecopes upon if. They did not discover much that they did not know before. They discorned masses of glistening white at the poles, which most of them think are composed of snow and ice, though some of them consider the patches to be a deposit of crystallised carbonic-acid gas. They also saw areas of green, which, say one author-ity, may be vegetation or may be seas. The same authority adds that the atmosphere appears to be so thin that living beings, if they exist on Mars, must be quite unlike anything that we know on earth.—Yo th's Companion.

Gobelin Tapestries.

The Austrian government recently offered a collection of tapestries, chief-ly Gobelins, as security for an Ameri-can loan of $15,000,000. Gobelin tapestries, the most valuable, are still being made in Paus, says the Mentor Magazine.

Sixty master weavers are employed at the Gobelin looms, where in the days of Louis XIV 300 worked on tapestries for the Sun King. The building is on the site of the medieval dye works of Phillert and Jean Gohelin.

Tapestries are now woven - for French public buildings. Pieces that sold for $100 a century ago bring thousands today.

A Guilty Conscience.

"The spirit of your departed wife would like to speak to you," said the medium.

"You needn't bother about bringing us face to face, ma'am," replied the client, in some trepidation. "Just say I'm well and I hope she's the same. You might add that I miss her something dreadful."

"I'll deliver your message."

"Thanks, ma'am. And if you don't mind, I'll just pay the fee and be on my way. Maggie's been dead two years and during that time I'm afraid I've done things she wouldn't approve of."-Birmingham Age-Herald.

Italians Are Exploiting India. The Italians are looking to India for a possible field of trade expansion. There have been recently established in that country six scholarships open for young men of good commercial preparation to be sent for a year's experience on the staff of business firms already established in India.

Discharge of Cil Wastp Into Water Should Be Stopped

The ever-increasing practice of dis-The ever-increasing gractice of dis-charging oil and tar wastes into streams and harbor and its effect on fish and fish industries, is strikingly set forth in a pamp liet issued by the bureau of fisheries. The fatal contam-ination that result from poisonous substances rejected by gas plants and petroleum distillerier, or dumped from tankers and oil-burning ships, must result in huge losses of food prod-ucts and money. First it should be distinctly understood that the presence of a minute quantity of poison is sufficient to kill. For example, the Ameri-can sunfish, though nighly resistant to poisons, will die in about an hour in water four to five parts per million of phenanthene or naphthalene, or five parts per million of hydrogen sulphide, or seven parts per million of ammonia; and, of course, very much weaker solutions will kill if the fish are exposed to them for several days.

Aside from this direct toxic effect, such pollution repels the fish from approaching shore at the only time when they might be caught; sickens or kills bottom-dwelling species such as oysters: kills, by suffocation, floating eggs and delicate larvae; destroys minute plants and animals on which the larvae and adult fish subsist; affects aquatic life by diminishing the aeration of the water, and destroys spawning grounds. Even petroleum products that contain no poisonous substance soluble in water may, by agitation, form a deadly emulsion that will kill in five minutes. Tarred roads also send their poisonous washings into the smaller streams. Remedial measures may be found in the commercial recovery of oils from drainage water, in the prevention of gashouse and refinery pollution with an increased use of wastes, and in regulations forbidding the dumping of oil from ships in harbors or near spawning grounds and feeding areas.-Scientific American.
