IN BRACELETS AND EARRINGS

Pearls Are Effectively Used for These Decorations—Floral Bandeau for the Debutante.

A novel idea for the debutante is a floral bandeau with matching bracelet developed from black velvet or gold and silver ribbon bands. Small groups of flowers are arranged either across the front or at one side of the bandeau, and a tiny cluster of them adorns the bracelet which encircles the wrist closely in the manner of the 1830 mode.

For the woman who prefers a turban to a bandeau or other form of head-dress there are evening turbans developed from flowers or formed of jeweled bands with tulle and floral trimmings.

A fad of the moment in Paris is the wearing of hats with dinner and informal evening gowns.

The vogue for earrings continues, especially the tassel earring fashioned entirely of pearls, or of pearls in combination with other stones. Some of these tassel earrings are so long that they touch the shoulder of the wearer.

Drop earrings of pearls are particularly effective when worn by the Oriental type of woman, whose black hair is drawn tightly back into a large knot at the nape of the neck. With earrings of this sort bracelets made of four or five strands of small beads mounted on a clasp of pearls or onyx are worn.

STUNNING FOR SPRING WEAR

This is an attractive spring wrap of rose taupe marvella, trimmed in tiers of taffeta roses and lined with rose Canton crepe. Heavy tricotine fringes the bottom, and a jeweled buckle finishes it off.

DAINTY TOGS FOR THE BABY

Smart Bonnets of Organdie—Woe Socks Are Clocked—Brother and Sister Should Match.

The baby's smartest bonnet will be made of organdie in the favorite high puffed-crown style, with row upon row of plaited ruffles framing a rosebud face. It will probably be in a combination of white and a delicate color, perhaps with the ruching delicately embroidered. Earlier in the season the bonnet will be made of crepe de chine in the same becoming style.

Even the baby's wee socks are clocked, with the finest embroidery stitches and tiny rosebuds. These some tiny rosebuds and other delicate designs add an exquisite touch of color to little caps and bonnets of lawn and organdie.

The designers of babyhood fashions are showing a decided preference for dotted swiss for spring and summer. These frocks are mostly very simple with a tiny bit of lace at the neck; occasionally they are more elaborate, with lace insertion and ruffles.

"Brother and sister should match," say some fashion designers, and carry out the idea by making little suits and dresses to match in material and style. One such outfit is a solid color gingham with the trimming hand hemstitched, collar and cuffs and a graduated ruffle, which starts at one side of the neck running to the high waistline indicated in the little boys' suits by the attachment of the trousers. Ball buttons of fisher crochet fasten the frock which has an opening under the ruffle.

What should little frocks be made of? Well, there are printed silks and cottons and plain silks, and printed in natural color and high shades, unbleached muslin, gingham in solid color and checks and some voles. Then there are always linens.

THE GINGHAM APRON DRESSES

Slip-on Garment, More in Nature of Dress, Takes the Place of the Old Bungalow Apron.

Apron dresses take the place of the old bungalow apron and are more in the nature of a dress. The technical difference between the apron and the dress is that the former is a slip-on and does not have set-in sleeves. The dresses are pretty and gay. One in checked imported gingham has white transparent organdie in a V in the front, in the belt and edging the sleeves. A little bow in color is set on. Pink and green are the colors that go well.

Plain chambray is combined with checked gingham, and a pale green chambray has set-ins of orange flowered cretonne. The apron dress also comes in black satine with rick-rack braid in contrasting colors finishing neck and sleeves.

FRUIT YEAR FOR MILLINERY

Oranges With Sprays and Blossoms, Cherries, Grapes and Peaches to Grace Milady's Head.

This is to be another fruit year in millinery. Bright yellow oranges, half as large as life, come with a spray of orange blossoms and leaves and show to advantage on a pale green felt hat with gauze rim.

A pretty rosette-like cluster of white cherry blossoms repeats the colors, having a bunch of yellow cherries in the center.

There are all shades of red cherries, luscious in size and color, and berries of different kinds and seed pods.

Fruits of many kinds, including grapes and peaches, appear upon the millinery, some of them with ribbons, some of them with threads.

Plain Facts for Fair Minds

The literal truth is, that the Hupmobile is a fine car at a low price. You can establish that truth easily, and to your own satisfaction.

The facts are available to anyone. Any independent garage mechanic will tell you how soundly and wisely the Hupmobile is engineered; how finely it is built. Any Hupmobile owner will tell you how amazingly little it costs for upkeep, and for operation; and how thoroughly reliable and consistent it is in service throughout the years.

Its comparative absence from the used car columns will give you some idea of its high value when you resell it; and its price will convince you that it is one of the world's greatest motor car values when you buy it.
