BREVARD NEWS, BREVARD, N. C.

The BLIND MAN'S EYES By William MacHarg Edwin Balmer Q

pooooccoccoccoccoccocco

ILLUSTRATIONS BY R. H. Livingstone

Copyright by Little, Brown and Company

CHAPTER XXIII-Continued. -19-

"In other words, you instructed them not to do so until you found out whether Overton could be handed over for execution and the facts regarding Latron kept secret, or whether some other course was necessary."

The blind man did not wait for any answer to this; he straightened suddenly, gripping the arms of his chair. and got up. There was more he wished to ask; in the bitterness he felt at his blindness having been used to make him an unconscious agent in these things of which Avery spoke so calmly, he was resolved that no one who had shared knowingly in them should go unpunished. But now he heard the noise made by approach of Eaton's captors. As Santoine stood listening, the sounds without became coherent to him.

"They have taken Overton, Avery," he commented, "of course they have taken no one elso. I shall tell those In charge of him he is not the one | the bout they got away on." they are to hold prisoner but that I have another for them here."

The blind man heard no answer from Avery Those baying Overton in charge seemed to be coming into the house; the door opened and there were confused sounds.

Then Santoine heard his daughter's thought of himself by that name- pleture had appeared in all the newsawoke to full consciousness at eight papers and I was not safe from recognition anywhere in this country. I o'clock the next morning. He was in the room he had occupied before in got into Canada and, from Vancouver, went to China. We had very little Santoine's house; the sunlight, reflected from the lake, was playing on money left, Mr. Santoine. What had not been-lost through Latron had the ceiling. His wounds had been dressed; his body was comfortable been spent in my defense. I got a position in a mercantile house over and without fever. there. It was a good country for me; He saw and recognized, against the Santoine, because of me."

What next?"

all true.

must know it, too."

thought I knew who Latron's mur-trial to convict you in his place.

"That was lt," Eaton assented, "We thought you knew that some of those around you who served as your eyes

Harriet gasped. Eaton, looking at her, knew that she understood now what had come between them when she had told him that she herself had served as her father's eyes all through erted upon her. She was all good;

did not find out anything. Then, this year, she learned that there was to be a reorganization of some of the take the chance of coming back to be

"At first," Eaton went on, "Edith lighted square of the window, a man standing looking out at the lake. "Lawrence," he said,

The man turned and came toward the bed. "Yes, Hugh."

Eaton raised himself excitedly upon his pillows. "Lawrence, that was helast night-in the study. It was Latron! I saw bim! You'll believe me, Lawrence-you at least will. They got away on a boat-they must be followed-" With the first return of consciousness he had taken up again that battle against circumstances which had been his only thought for five years,

But suddenly he was aware that his sister was also in the room, sitting upon the opposite side of the bed. Her hand came forward and clasped his; she bent over him, holding him and fondling him.

"It is all right, Hugh," she whispered-"oh, Hugh! It is all right now. Mr. Santoine knows; he he was not what we thought him. He believed all the while that you were justly sentenced. Now he knows other- no matter what influence had been ex- others and against betrayal by himwise-"

"He-Santoine-believed that?" Eaton asked incredulously.

"Yes; he says his blindness was used by them to make him think so. So now he is very angry; he says no one who had anything to do with it shall escape. He figured it all outmost wonderfully-that it must have been Latron in the study. He has been working all night- they have already made several arrests and every port on the lake is being watched for mear at hand so I could act if anything

"Is that true, Edith? Lawrence, is It true?"

"Yes; quite true, Hugh!" Hillward choked and turned away.

Eaton sank back against his pilvoice in a half cry, half sob of hope- had heard and all that it meant to me to see him at his house. You know to him, less appeal to him. Harriet ran to him-dampened suddenly as he real- what happened when I tried to keep him; he felt her cold, trembling fingers | ized that it was over now, that long | the appointment.

Eaton obediently closed his eves. but opened them at once to look for Harriet. She had moved out of his Ine of vision. Santoine rose; he stood an instant walting for his daughter, then suddenly he comprehended that she was no longer in the room. "Mr. Hillward, I must ask your help," he said, and he went out with Hillward guiding people over there don't ask questions | him.

for fear someone will ask questions Eaton, turning anxiously on his ptiabout them. We had no near relalow and looking about the room, saw tives for Edith to go to and she had no one but his sister. He had known when Harriet moved away from beto take up stenography to support herside the bed; but he had not suspected self and-and change her name, Mr. that she was leaving the room. Now "Go on," said Santoine. "You suddenly a great fear filled him.

"Why dld Miss Santoine go away? Why did she go, Edith?" he quesderer was and morally, though not technically, perjured myself at your tioned.

> "You must sleep, Hugh," his sister answered only

Harriet, when she slipped out of the room, had gone downstairs. She could not have forced herself to leave hefore she had heard Hugh's story, and she could not define even to herself what the feeling had been that had made her leave as soon as he had finished; but she sensed the reason vaguely. Hugh had told her two days the Latron trial. He felt himself before, "I will come back to you as flushing as he looked at her; he could you have never known me yet"-and not understand now how he could it had proved true. She had known have believed that she had aided in him as a man in fear, constrained, concealing an injustice against him, carefully guarding himself against self; a man to whom all the world seemed opposed; so that her sympathy-and afterward something more than her sympathy-had gone out to him. To that repressed and threatened man, she had told all she felt Latron properties. We hoped that, toward him, revealing her feelings during that, something would come with a frankness that would have out which might help us. I had been been impossible except that she want-forgotten, and we thought I could stand against the world with him. Vancouver, We were about to start

> So unrest possessed her and the Australian butter is selling well in kers, Contlemen, these whiskers were suspense of something hoped for but China and Japan, while canned fruits wet" clasping him and beseeching him, struggle to clear his name from the "Then you came to Seattle and took ungudilled. She went from toom to and juins from the island continent are "Father! They say-they charge of murder-the fight which had charge of Warden's affairs. I felt cer- room, trying to absorb herself in her being taken in increasing quantities.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Replies, to date, have been re-ceived from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it - only two women out of 100 received no benefit - 98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Chinese Take to Frozen Meat.

Argentina is giving Australia a run "When I was in India," said the would be sought after, and his name, the taste and smell of fresh-killed tiger, but one woman, with great preeast when I received a message from would be among those of the people meat, they are gradually being edu- ence of mind, splashed some water in Mr. Warden. I did not know Warden of his own sort. She had no shame cated to eat the frozen variety, says its face, and it slink away." and I don't know now how he knew that she had let him-and others- Coush General Thomas Sammons, "Gentlemen," said the man in an who I was or where he could reach know all that she felt toward him; Melbourne, in a report just received by armchair, "I can youch for the truth lows; his eyes-dry, bright and filled me. His message merely said he knew she gloried still in it; only now-now, the Department of Commerce, and of this story. Some minutes after still with questioning for a time, as I needed help and he was prepared to if he wished her, he must make that there is a general belief that they will the incident occurred I was coming he tried to appreciate what he just give it and made an appointment for plain; she could not, of herself, return althuately become accustomed to using down to the water. I met this tiger frozen meat freely. On the other hand, and, as is my habit, stroked its whis

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments-not a cure all -one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world -leading all others.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass,

Two Cheerful Liars.

away almost five years; my face was ed him to know that she was ready to Now the world was no longer for her money in supplying China and club hore, "I saw a tiger come down against him; he had friends, a place the Far East with frozen meat. While to the water where some women were did come out. Lawrence met me at in life was ready to receive him; he the Chinese have in the past preferred washing clothes. It was a very flerce say-they will-"

He put his hands over hers, clasping hers and patting lt. "My dear," he said, "I thought you would walt for met I told you to wait."

He heard others coming into the is also now; and he hold his daughter baside him as he faced them.

"Who is in charge here?" he de-TRUE TRUE T

The network one of those who had hist or he in answered him. "I, sir-4 must choiced police."

processed, to you; I will not 24 Live - May Lash you to have scent he come thinks in the needs for scarpeled here in my house and given so for fight life in doctoof 5. A out parts have try webs that is not increasing to and Lane World Y. Walt I' the direction as he would exclamation, and (1) Cours to correct him - "I do not the n but you have mistaken whe he is. He is bloch eventor, 4 know ; it is treatise he is Hugh Overton that I say when I don'

Saturate abail-based offert to sepacute and comprehend or to my to any swer the contrision of charge and questioning around finn. The concontrol deficient, at the moment, only with his doughter; he drew her to: drin, held bey and said gently, "There: deary there? Everything is right. 1 have not been able to explain to you. and I cannot linke time new; but you, at barst, will take my word that you have in thing to fear for him noticlag!"

The board her gasp with incredulity and surprise; then she drew back from kim, staring at him, she breathed deep with relief and clasped him, soluburg. He still held her, as the half was cleared and the footsteps of those carrying Overton went up the stairs; then, knowing that she wished to forlaw them, he released her. She drew, away, then clasped his hand and klesod it; as size did so, she suddenly stiffered and her hand tightened on his spasmodically.

Someone else had come into the hall and he heard another voice-a woman's, which he recognized as that of the steingrapher, Miss Davis,

"Where is he? Hugh! Hugh! What have you done to him? Mr. Santoine: Mr. Santoine! Where is 116.2

The blind man straightened, holding his daughter to him; there was anxiery, horror, love in the voice he heard; Harriet's perplexity was great as his $O \le D$.

"is that you, Miss Davis?" he inquined.

"Yes; yes," the girl repeated. "Where is Hugh, Mr. Santoine?"

Not do not understand," the voice a young man broke in on them. 4"I'm afraid I don't," Santoine said quintis.

"She is Hugh's sister, Mr. Santoine - she is Edith Overton."

"Edith Overton? And who are you?" "You do not know me. My name is Lawrence Hillward."

Santoine asked nothing more for the mon cut. His daughter had left his side. He shoul an instant listening to the lasked his daughter.

Just Come in Answered Him. "I, sin and chain it -I Am the Chief of Police.

section so homeless. He could not realize it to the full us yet; concealment, fear, the same of monstreus lowed me onto the train, as I had. His face was ponceful now but injustice done him had marked so taken pains to prevent that very thing worn, and fils paleness was more ever deeply all his thoughts and feelings by being the last passenger to get dent than when he had been tailong that he could not sense the fact that | aboard it." they were gene for good. So what came to him most strongly now was only realization that he had been set right with Santoine - Santoine, whom he bimself had masjudged and mistrusted. And Harriet? He had not needed to be set right with her; she had believed and trusted him from the tirst, in spite of all that had seemed against him. Gratitude warmed him as he thought of her-and that other teeling, deeper, stronger far than gratitude, or than anything else he ever had felt toward anyone but her, surged up in him and set his pulses. wildly beating, as his thought strained toward the future.

"Where is Miss Santoine?" he askert they were to be sent for as soon as Edith I learned that they had reached Hi's so, Harriet! You mean it !" you woke up, and I've just sent for them."

Eaton lay silent till he heard them coming. The blind man was unfamiliar with this room; his daughter led him in. Her eyes were very bright, her cheeks, which had been but she did not look away. He kept his gaze upon her.

the chair Hillward set beside the bed | offered, "and I understood later what for him. The blind man was very must have been your reason for askquiet; he felt for and found Eaton's | ing her to take you out that night." hand and pressed it. Eaton choked, as he returned the pressure. Then Santoine released him.

tain that if there was any evidence daily duties; but the house-her faamong Warden's effects as to who had ther's house-spoke to her now only lating to the Latron reorganization. he sleeping? Was he thinking of her? conspicuous objects on the rocky hill. Much interested in a piece of scalar were blind; I decided to take the train were his thoughts of someone else? ment and the other doctments with it again she benefied tos words to her well holden about the dead beauss. for the das' shows hist whote it was, which Winden hid been working on at permits from her the night before, 4 field suspected that I was build of will entire but a for on his row list ant-doubling his agends of this ment privite in many terms in a and the for the for ing futbour's numbered while I was in available of a large large P as here () South I had charged by belease or anyone also. But is danger is these because of this but farefully not over them, and so show extreme to bot remained at the off-bot, the farmed in the readat the downer he have and out for me. the bare d fincte bars in high a facility are persistent (1) in a main following the who Psupported Anamod her, buy did to not sort in r after I had taken the gran, well Law here reace after questioning the sate with a star should reach be as at Seattle decoded the man had taken. Edith exected in the mathe same train 1 dot. He wired up in ["Thigh less heer asking for you onthe cipher we had somethics used in timally Miss Saturday. If you can commutated ing with such other, but find three please do in all see the not knowing what mine I was tisting. Harder did not know what ariswer on the frain he addressed it to him she hade. She went (pstains) she reached the frain addressed to "Law of Hugh's sister; there at Hugh's down The Voice of One of Those Who Had return Hillward' I would understand she had to halt to eatch her breach "(if course, I could not follow his the door and looked in your lifts. He instructions and heave the traing we was above and seemed as leap, at least were snowed in . Besides, I could not a his eyes were closed. Harrier stand imagine how anybody could have foll an instant gazing at him

"The man whom the gateman saw ing him, she felt her blood courses? did not follow you; he merely watched through her as never before and you get on the train and notified two warming her face and her tagerflys; others, who took the train at Spec, and tear fear of him or of herself, kane. They had planned to get rid | fear of anything at all in the world of you after you left Seattle so as to their from her; and love love which run less risk of your death being con- she knew that she need no longer try nected with that of Warden. It was to deny possessed her, my presence which made it necessary | "Harriet." She heard her name for them to make the desperate at from his lips and she saw, as he tempt to kill you on the train."

"Then I understand. The other tel- there was no surprise in his look; if here that you were using the name of had been thinking of her. Dorne on your way home. I learned "What is it, Hugh?" She was beuments relating to the Latron prop- her eyes. erties, which I had decided you did . "You meant it, then? All you said ward at the country club, and that only to me? night he brought me the means of forcing the safe. saw only sympathy in her face.

Santoine, under her guidance, took | helped you to that extent," Santoine | "When I reached the study," Eaton continued, "I found others already there. The light of an electric torch felt her tears upon his face. "Noto "Who else is here?" the blind man finshed on the face of one of them thata; not that-you mustn't cry, self, confident that if a belegram man as soon as she was out of slatif and compass herself betone she apart of to her father. As she stood watch opened his eyes and turned to her. egram was sent me, of course, by he had been sleeping, he had been Edith from Chicago, when she learned | dreaming she was there; if awake, he from her when I got here that the doc- side him and he was booking up into

His sister answered. "She has been not have with you, were being sent and-and all you did when we won helping her father. They left word you through Warden's office. Through and 1-were alone against them all 1 you and had been put in the safe. I "And you did too! Dear, it was managed to communicate with Hill- only to me that you could come back-

"only to you?" He closed his eyes. in his exultation. "Oh, my dear, I. Eaton felt himself flushing again, as meyer dreamed - Harriet in all the days he looked at Harriet. Did she resent and nights I've had to plan and wonpale, flushed as she met Eaton's look, his having used her in that way? He der what might be for me if everything could come all right, I've never "My daughter told me that she dreamed I could win a reward like > this." "Like this?"

He opened his eyes again and drew her down toward him. "Like you." She bent until her cheek touched his and his arms were about her. He and I recognized the man as Latron- dear." he begged. "Ob, Harriet, Another Early One.

May was visiting grandmother's killed Latron, you would take it back of Hugh and she could think of hoth. The wild ginger has large, broad home, and ventured into the unused with you with the other matters reging but him. Was he awake? Was beaut shaped leaves which are most purlor.

having been at my trial because you through which she had served him, azine. Their thick stems rise some to admire it more closely and was all six or ten inches above the ground, non-shed by her young our to "put with you and try to get possession of Her heart halted at each people had the duil, purplish sup-shaped blos. It tack first where you found at " the draft of the reorganization agrees remove of that thoughts and again and Some must be searched for at the roots. She promptly figlified, "I car, abuthe,

You could not recognize me from your for, now that the danger was over sides in early April, says Nature Mag. ary on the mantel, she tacked it up water cold or hot and apply to any interior surface. The sure result is beautifully tinted walls in exactly the color you wish.

Alabastine comes in all standard colors and these intermix to form countless others so that your decorating taste may be accurately followed.

None genuine without the Cross and Circle printed in red.

Every year you plant Irish Potatoes. Every year you have Potato Bugs. Every year you should use STONECYPHER'S Irish Potato Bug Killer

Guaranteed to destroy the bug without damage to the plant. Also destrovs all

Snappy Comeback

