McIntyre, bookkeeper for the department of labor and printing, motored to the "Land of Waterfalls," accompanied by Hon. M. L. Shipman, commissioner of labor and printing. J. Mac Allison's many friends are glad to see him out again after his recent week's illness. Mr. Allison had a severe attack of the "flu" early last winter and it appeared in a milder form again last week. At the present time there are several store and office buildings that can be rented at most reasonable prices. Those who contemplate moving at an early date would do well to locate before the scarcity becomes so alarming. Mrs. W. H. Allison and daughter, Miss Maude, leave this week for a three weeks' stay in Washington, D. C., where they will visit Mrs. Allison's son, Haskell, after which they will return to Bowie, Ariz., where Miss Allison holds a position as principal of the high school there. According to the observations of some of our ancient citizens, they can remember when land sold in Brevard for two and one half cents an acre, but now they won't sell two and one half feet of any land they happen to own. MARY'S MILLIONS The play "Mary's Millions," which was to have been given in Brevard several months ago, but postponed on account of the illness of some of the principal characters, will be given about the middle of August. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of the memorial monument and no doubt will receive much patronage. The drama will be composed of all local home talent and popular prices will prevail. Watch for date. All those who are to take part are requested to meet on next Tuesday night at the Brevard school house at 7:30. If you cannot be there, please leave your tickets with the Davis-Walker Drug Company. DEATH OF PAUL BELL The death of Paul Bell on July 17 is recalled here. Paul was fourteen years old and was ill only two weeks. He leaves to mourn their loss his mother, father, seven brothers and four sisters. The remains were laid to rest in the Oak Grove cemetery amid a shower of flowers. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of our son and brother, Paul Bell, and for the beautiful floral tributes. May God bless and keep you. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. BELL and family. DAILY PROGRESS OF THE MONUMENT MOVEMENT We cannot sufficiently express our thanks to the ladies of Tennessee for their handsome contribution of $250.00 to the monument fund, produced from an ice cream supper. Their superb efforts were crowned with great success. The rock masons will commence laying stones the last of this month. All are invited to watch the carrying of this great mass of granite and to throw in hearty good wishes. Certain details are to be worked out before the work commences. First: The ladies of the building committee are to make a drive in Brevard for the necessary additional funds. Second: A few more days of hauling of selected cobblestones. Third: The arrival of the beautiful bronze work, ordered several weeks ago. Every copper subscribed will be accounted for in a published list. We hope that each and every one will have their names on the list of "the Monument Builders," a proud legacy for their children. Don't be a "slacker." We can certainly give dollars to honor our boys who gave their blood and lives for their country. Very truly yours, The Monument Building Committee OAK GROVE WORK The work on Oak Grove cemetery will begin at once. We have been unavoidably delayed, as the man in view for the work found that he could not reach it, therefore we have been casting around for another and at last have succeeded in finding one who appears to be very suitable, so we are hoping for a neat job. Many interested there have expressed a desire to help but only a very small sum has been paid in yet, so we will be glad indeed if any who care to help will send in what they feel like giving. If more convenient for you, see Mrs. Rachel Nell, Mrs. Laura Miller, Mrs. Robert Orr, Mrs. Harry Patton or Mrs. Fred Johnson. MRS. J. C. MAXWELL THE NEW POSTMASTER The post office controversy between the friends of aspirants to the important office are determined to leave no stone unturned to put their respective choice in office.

C. C. Kilpatrick, superintendent of streets, has been busy for the past few weeks on Gaston, Maple, Broad and other streets. He has had the new fire plugs installed, the open ditches over the city water mains filled and the streets graded, etc. He expects to lay sand on several of the newly made roads where it is muddy. MANY TOURISTS ARE HERE According to postmaster Henry and several other civic leaders who are in a position to know, there are a good many more tourists here "In the Land of Waterfalls" than for the past two or three years. Before the good roads, which now stretch throughout the county and when there were but few automobiles tourists were in the habit of spending several weeks or the whole summer in one tourist resort and when they were generally staged around the county, but now with good hard surfaced roads and so many automobiles, they are in and out, traveling about and stopping at all the many tourist resorts. INVEST MONEY HERE Someone has suggested that the county needs more wealthy immigrants in order to develop its wonderful resources. If some of the money tied up in other sections by local citizens was invested here at home in manufacturing industries, new homes, etc., the new citizens would realize that the people themselves believe in their own community and would naturally have more faith in their adopted community and then you couldn't hold back the swelling tide of new citizens. THE NEW SILVERSTEEN-ASH-WORTH BUILDING Plans and specifications have been approved by those contemplating building the grand new Ashworth-Silverstein building from the architect. The building when completed, will probably be the finest in all Transylvania. It is estimated that the total cost will be about seventy-five thousand dollars. The city authorities are content with the widening of the Caldwell and Main street corner by laying out of the lot to be occupied by the new building, but after considerable talk at the situation and with the knowledge that Caldwell street already makes a curve towards the square beginning at the corner of Broadfield's filling station, it was decided that the proper way to solve this corner would be to purchase from the other corner where the Clayton Hotel now stands. However, this will not be necessary for a few more years. It is not known whether the Federal Banking Company will be connected with the new building by occupying the larger part of the first story or not, but it is known that they contemplate having new and more commodious and up-to-date quarters at an early date. In fact, due to the enormous growth of this popular county bank it is predicted that the new quarters the bank moves into will be very luxurious and will rival the most handsome banking houses of such larger cities and banking institutions. The citizens of this community are greatly interested in the erection of this new and marvelous creation of the American building arts and are anxious to see the work begin. Everyone realizes that such a structure as proposed will be something that the whole community can point to with pride and they realize that those who are financing the project have the interests and future growth at heart of "The Land of Waterfalls."

LETTER IN REGARD TO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE To the Editor: In your issue of a recent date, appears what is claimed to be a synopsis of the recent report of Judge Dodge in the case of J. V. Dittmore versus the Christian Science Board of Directors, but as a matter of fact it is Mr. Dittmore's own version of this report. This account Mr. Dittmore sent out through a certain news agency at his own expense. As this account is not correct, I shall ask you to give this article correcting it like prominence. This suit was brought by Mr. Dittmore to contest his dismissal from the Christian Science Board of Directors, and his article as published in your paper is unfair for the following reasons: It does not confine its statements to the facts in the master's findings as to why the Director voted to dismiss him, and avoids quoting the master's main findings on this subject. The article under discussion is also silent on the part of the master's report which discloses Mr. Dittmore's attitude towards Sec. 5 of Art. 1 of the Manual of the Mother Church, and his contention that there are two boards of Directors, one of one as provided for in the Manual. In each of its become both a member of the church and the Board of Directors, Mr. Dittmore was fully aware of the by-laws, as fully mentioned which were approved by Mrs. Eddy herself, who established the Christian Science Board of Directors with the obligation to fill its own vacancies. This she did through the deed of Sept. 1 of September 1, 1892, and in this by-law Art. 1, Sec. 5, which reads as follows: "The Christian Science Board of Directors shall consist of five members, a majority of whom shall be women." A majority of the members of the Board of Directors is required by the Manual to be women. The unfairness of this report is further shown because it fails to mention the controversy with the late master of the Publishing Society, and Mr. Dittmore's participation therein. Although the master continually referred to this subject, and mentioned it explicitly in his findings as to "the controlling motive" of the Director, which he not only referred to in paragraph 57 of his full report, but continually referred to this subject, the paragraph in full as follows: "It is not true, however, that their objection and adoption of the resolution to dismiss him was wholly induced by feelings against him of the above character. I find that the controlling motive which induced its adoption by the directors who acted for it was the desire on their part to remove the obstacle presented by the plaintiff's presence on the Board to their attempts to arrange a compromise with the Trustees, though they acted more readily under said controlling motive by reason of their willingness to disassociate themselves from a colleague with whom they could not agree and whom they did not like. Except to the above extent, I am unable to find that their action was not in good faith. These words were findings of the former report." A careful reading of the master's report will give no intimation that any hostile and unwholesome conditions have existed in the administration of the Church government, and certainly there is no finding of this effect. The last two paragraphs of Mr. Dittmore's article show his intent to mislead, as he has gone outside of the report of the master with an attempt to influence Christian Scientists as they do, also to create a false sentiment against the Church government established by Mrs. Eddy. With the exception of a few sympathizers, Christian Scientists are not interested in Mr. Dittmore's interpretation of the Manual, or his plan to change the Church government. Respectful Christian Scientists have bowed to their own satisfaction that only as they continue in accord with the Manual, can they progress in Christian Science. One further correction is required, this plate was sent to the press under the misleading name of "Christian Science Committee on Information," though this does not appear in the article as printed. For the future protection and benefit of the press as well as the public, I shall state that there is no office by this name in the Christian Science Church, therefore the committee does not represent Christian Scientists or their sentiments. Christian Scientists are in full accord with Mrs. Eddy's plan of government through the Church By-laws, and the Board of Directors defense of them. CHAS.
