THE PRAYER CORNER

The Wise Man

Read Matthew 2: 1-12. In some unknown city of the East certain astrologers had been persuaded by their study of Heaven that the appearance of a great Shining Star would herald the Birth of a Great King...

The Faith of the wise man held on, Night by night the Star still shone in the Western Heavens, and they shaped their daily course to follow its guidance until they came to Jerusalem.

It was a further trial of their faith that they found themselves guided to the little city of Bethlehem. It was here, the Rabbi said, that they would find the object of their search.

This was the crowning vindication of their faith, that in the poverty of that home, in the weakness of that infant Child, they should recognize the Majesty of the King whom they sought.

Their worship was at once, a prophecy and fulfillment will set a crown upon the long preparation by which God had silently led the pagan moved towards Himself and it foreshadowed that advocacy of the Incarnate which should one day, in the long purposes the Kingdoms of His Child.

A PRAYER

"O God, who by the leading of a Star, did manifest Thy only Begotten Son to the Gentiles mercifully grant that we, which know Thee now by Faith, may after this life, have the fruition of Thy Glorious God head through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

O Jesus, Saviour of the world, Light of the Gentiles, and Glory of Thy people Israel, on those who know Thee not, these who are far from the church of their fathers in a strange land, visit them with Thy Salvation. Hasten, we pray Thee, Thy Kingdom that the earth may be filled with the knowledge of Thy Glory as the waters cover the sea. may these, our prayers, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, our strength, and our Redeemer. Amen.

VERDERY-BURNETTE

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The marriage is announced of Mrs. Anna Howard Burnett and Mr. Albert M. Verdery, which was solemnized at the Greene Street Presbyterian church, Dr. M. M. McFerrin officiating.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Verdery left for Greenwood, S. C., where they will make their home.—Atlanta Journal.

DEATH OF SAM T. DORSETT.

A message was received here by J. M. Thrash, of Davidson River, of the death of his son-in-law, Sam T. Dorsett, of Washington, D. C., which occurred at George Washington Hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. Dorsett leaves a widow who before her marriage, Miss Carrie Thrash, of this county. Mr. Dorsett's body will be taken to his old home in Siler City, for burial.

TRUCK GROWERS MEETING

The annual meeting of the Transylvania Truck Growers Inc., was not very well attended; there not being a quorum present.

Mr. Crowell of the Federation made a talk on what the Federation is doing in other Counties and what it yet expects to do.

Mr. T. H. Shipman of the Brevard Bank, announced that they had one hundred (100.00) dollars for prizes for growers this year, details of which will be worked out later.

Mr. Breese gave us a pleasant surprise when he announced the new canning factory for Brevard. Details will be given out later.

A committee was appointed to set another date for an annual meeting and prepare a program that will induce a full house to come out. Watch for the date. Lewis A. Ammon, County Agent.

IN MEMORY OF W. T. BOSSE.

Son of C. L. Bosse and M. Bosse born in Spartanburg, S. C., October 14th, 1867. He spent his boy-hood days in said community and there learned the Printer's Trade—a vocation which he tenaciously followed during his entire life thereafter.

He was married to Miss Effie DeLong, of Piedmont, S. C., February 21, 1900, and to this happy union were born three boys, Ernest and Rowen. Mr. Bosse was converted to the Christian faith and joined the Methodist church when a youth, and was always a loyal, conscientious member of the same. "He Worked every day, as though he would live always, and lived every day as though that was the last one."

He was thoroughly engrossed in his life-long trade and labored as if he owed his life to the public. "He was a martyr to his cause."

"Mr. Bosse Shined Just Where he was." He did not dream of the past nor did he worry about what the future might unfold. He did not yield to hand-caps, nor hide from hard-ships, nor evade nor dodge responsibility, but bravely charged the storm and met the enemy on the field of battle.

He was not thwarted in his noble purpose, because his fellowman held a different view or followed another voice.

He realized that he was living in the present. So he brought all his powers, physical, mental, and moral into activity and threw his entire being with all his resources, into his life's work, with an abiding faith in God, believing that he was standing on "Holy Ground." His honesty was sacred and priceless. His faith, simple righteous, like a child.

He did his duty, not waiting for reward, but because it is right—"looking for a City which hath foundations, whose builders and maker is God."

So, on December 19th, 1923, he folded his mantle of drapery about him and passed into the unknown to receive his reward. He was an upright Christian Gentleman, and honorable and quiet citizen, a kind and considerate husband, a devoted and affectionate father.

The funeral was conducted at his home by Rev. Wallace Hartsel, Baptist minister in the presence of many of his friends and his body laid to rest in Gillespie cemetery. Peace to his remains.

May faith in immortality and the influence of God's spirit comfort the bereaved widow and children. T. H. Galloway.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN REVOLUTION MEET.

The daughters of the American Revolution met with Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Woodward Monday afternoon, January 14, at which time it was decided to present to the public through Mr. Clement, "Long Live The King" Starring Jackie Coogan.

This is a splendid picture, written by Mary Roberts Rinehart, and is well worth seeing, and it is the wish of the Daughters of the American Revolution that the public attend this picture.

Jan. 7th, 1924.

Dr. C. W. Hunt, Brevard, N. C. Dear Doctor:

We are pleased to advise that you have been awarded, by Barton Durstine and Osborn, first prize for the best story in the Automobile Story Contest, and we are therefore enclosing check for $50.00.

As stated in our earlier correspondence, we were securing these data at the instance of a prospective advertising client—namely, the General Motors Company—whose whose advertisement will shortly appear in THE JOURNAL.

Very truly yours, Will C. Braun, Mgr. Adv. Dept.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS REPORTED FOR VETS.

Washington, D. C., January 24.

The Civil Service Commission announced today a change favor of ex-service men in the regulations governing the re-opening to the veterans of examinations which have been held and closed. The new regulations follow:

Until further notice, American citizens who served as soldiers, sailors, or marines in any of the allied military forces between August 1, 1914, and July 2, 1921, and those who served in the American forces between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, will be allowed to enter any examination for which there is an existing register, provided application is made during military services or not later than one year after their honorable discharge from the Army, or termination of their active service in the Navy or Marine Corps. The names of all such persons who pass the examination will be entered upon the eligible register, but preference in appointment will be given to those only who submit evidence that they have been honorably discharged.

A soldier, sailor, or marine who served between August 1, 1914, and July 2, 1921, and who by reason of confinement in a Government hospital under treatment has been prevented from taking an examination for which there is an existing register may be admitted to such examination, provided he makes application within one year after discharge from hospital.

If the preliminary requirements are met, disabled ex-service men who have undergone training by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau will be allowed to enter an examination for any Government position they have been trained by the Bureau, and for which there is an existing register, provided the application is accompanied by a certificate from the Bureau showing that training will be completed within 90 days after the filing of the application, or the application, accompanied by a certificate from the Bureau showing completion of training, is filed within one year after the completion of training.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

Messrs. N. E. Nance and G. C. Hunter, of Asheville, and Miss Virginia Howell of Brevard Institute, will make short addresses at the Sunday morning service. Every member who can possibly be present urged to attend.

The pastor will preach Sunday night. At 7 P. M. he will preach at Horse Shoe and Bro. Oliver H. Orr will hold the session at Oak Grove.

Our congregations are most encouraging. We are getting into the homes as fast as possible and the more we see and know of Brevard folks the better we like them. Everybody invited to all our services. The pastor will gladly respond to any call for service anywhere it is possible to go.

Prayers for Christ. F. Welch, Pastor.

Mrs. N. Nance left Sunday for Louisville to attend the annual conference of the Southern Methodist Church. Mrs. Nance will visit relatives in Oak Grove, Va. before her return.

MATHATASIAN CLUB MEETS

Mrs. H. L. Wilson entertained the club members on January 10th at her home. The meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. E. H. Norwood. The program committee for the coming year was appointed, consisting of the following members: Mrs. H. C. Ransom, Mr. C. B. Deaver and Miss Florence Kern, Mrs. Welch Galloway, Mr. W. H. Harris, Mrs. C. B. Deaver and Mrs. O. H. Orr were named; committee on literature for the coming year. Several matters of National legislature were brought before the club for the purpose of having the club give its approval to the passage of those measures. After discussing the measures the club endorsed the effort to better the condition of Federal prisoners.

The club voted to purchase enough Bibles to put one in each home in Transylvania County that is without one. The subject for discussion was, "Aids to Town Government." The discussion was led by Mrs. W. W. Zachary, assisted by Mr. O. H. Orr, and was highly instructive and beneficial. The club had several special guests.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostess, after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Welch Galloway on Jan. 24th at 8:30 o'clock.

LUKE OSTEN WRITES NEWS

Dear Billy: Permit me to give you a sketch of what our force operating in North Carolina did toward handling the illicit whiskey traffic during the month of December: 133 stills seized and destroyed; 1,148 gallons of liquors, 134,015 gallons of malt liquors, 2,100 gallons of wine, 1,032 gallos of mash and 800 gallons of pomace were dumped.

Four automobiles were seized for hauling the contraband stuff. The value of these automobiles was put at $2,825.00. The total appraised value of property seized and destroyed amounted to $43,330.50 while the property seized and not destroyed was put at $3,131.50. Amount of proceeds of sale of seized property turned over to United States treasury was $2,431.00.

Fifty three arrests were made December, while 135 prosecutions were recommended.

Other property seized included steam boiler, horse, wagon, sugar and corn meal.

OLD FASHION SPELLING MATCH

There will be an old fashion spelling match at the Enon School at Penrose, on Friday night. Some old timers will be in the game and a pleasant time is expected. Its free, and all are invited.

Mrs. Carl Talley, Pres. Enon Community Club.

PASTOR'S CONFERENCE AT FRUITLAND.

Beginning Monday night, February 4th, and closing Friday at noon there will be held at Fruitland a conference of the Pastors of the churches in the adjoining associations, viz: The Buncombe County, Transylvania and Green River. Ministers of other associations are cordially invited and urged to attend.

There will be three sessions each of the days between Monday and Friday. The entire program from beginning to end will be prayer and study. The object will be to get closer to God and try to find out His purpose for us in the great world program before us.

Able and efficient teachers will be with us, notably: Dr. Walter N. Johnson, A. C. Hamby and Miss Warren, of Raleigh. Drs. Bateman, Bomar and others of our own folks will also have a part in the work of the auspices of the State Mission Board. It is hoped and expected that every pastor in the State who can possibly do so will attend one of these conferences.

The people of Fruitland expect to give free entertainment to all the pastors who attend.

OUR RALEIGH COMMUNICATION

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 14.—It was "noised around" following the exceptions taken by Governor Morrison to the statement given out by Governor Doughton that the latter did not appreciate the attitude of His Excellency and had indicated his intention of resigning the office. The Commissioner did not say as much to the newspaper boys, going no further than to say that his statement and the Budget Commission's report spoke for themselves. But it required no great effort to ascertain the feeling of disappointment the Governor's "exception" brought to him.

However, "all's well that ends well," and the resignation of the present Commissioner of Revenue is not likely to find its way to the executive office anyway soon. The Governor makes the amends honorable and there is to be no explosion in the official household on account of this incident, since Commissioner Doughton accepts the graceful apology from the Chief Executive in good faith.

"If I have displeased you in any way, I am truly sorry, because I fee that one of the best services I have rendered the State was in persuading you to accept the office of Commissioner of Revenue," said the Governor in his letter to Commissioner Doughton, and "I do not think any man in North Carolina could possibly be more acceptable to the people than you are. I am sure that I am about as proud of your administration of you office as anything else connected with my administration." The Governor still believes that he felt that his interpretation had been placed on the report and he simply wanted to have those corrected.

News of the sudden passing of Solicitor James M. Carson, of the Eighteenth Judicial District, created a distinct surprise here. He was thought to be in robust health by Raleigh friends until the message came announcing his death in a Rutherford hospital on Tuesday, Jan. 8th. On Wednesday evening, a few hours after the remains found a final resting place in a Rutherford cemetery, Governor Morrison announced that he had filled the vacancy by naming J. W. Pless, Jr., of Marion, as the successor of Solicitor Carson. A delegation from Marion arrived on Wednesday morning armed with endorsements for Mr. Pless from the bars of Yancey, McDowell and Burke counties and experienced little difficulty in securing the commission for their candidate, whom they declared to be one of the best trained young men for the position in his section of the State. The district is composed of the counties of Henderson, McDowell, Polk, Rutherford, Transylvania and Yancey.

In 1913, he represented, with Hon. T. B. Allen, the senatorial district, composed of Cleveland, Henderson, Polk, and Rutherford, counties in the Senate of North Carolina. Was elected a trustee of the State University; later became chairman of the democratic executive committee of the tenth congressional district and finally reached the distinction he had long sought, solicitor of his district, a position his father graced years before.

The new solicitor may not be widely known in the western end of the district, but it will require much time to get acquainted. His distinguished father has practiced in the courts of both Henderson and Transylvania counties and if the young man is a REAL "chip off the old block" law-breakers may as well take to the woods and be done with it.

J. W. Bailey, attorney of Raleigh, has definitely announced his decision to be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination at the primary in June of this year, stating in a letter to State Chairman John G. Dawson, of the Democratic executive committee, that on January 17 he will make public the platform on which he would stand in his race.
