

MISS RUTH TATUM WEDS MR. JOHN OSTEN.

A wedding characterized by dignity and beautiful simplicity ushered in Valentine's Day when Miss Ruth Tatum and Mr. John L. Osten were married this morning at 8:30 at the First Baptist church. The church was elaborately decorated with lilies and carnations against a background of cedars, palms and ferns. White tapers in tall candle stands glimmered among the greenery.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Dan B. Faggett sang "I Bring You Heart's Ease" and "Because." Miss Lura Garner presided at the organ. With the opening strains of the bridal music from "Lohengrin," the ushers entered. These were Mr. H. P. Whitaker and Mr. C. G. Rosemond. Mrs. F. D. Roseman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a gown of black lace over satin and carrying pink radiance roses. Miss Margaret Lindsay Hannah, in a dainty frock of a rose, the bride, radiantly beautiful in her wedding costume, a modish and becoming two piece suit of brick dust silk and wool crepe and wearing a carriage of brides roses and valley lilies, entered on the arm of her father, Mr. F. O. Tatum, who gave her in marriage. She was met at the altar by the bridegroom, who was accompanied by Mr. W. H. Hobson as best man. The Rev. A. O. Moore read the services and united the happy couple. Miss Garner played Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Osten left on the Western train for Asheville where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return to the city they will reside for the present with Mrs. P. O. Tatum, on West Council street. Mrs. Osten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Owen Tatum, is a beautiful young woman of the blond type. She is gracious, accomplished and attractive and is the center of a wide circle of admiring friends. She is a former student of Salem College and Peace Institute.

Mr. Osten is at present the popular director of the permission department of the federal prohibition office. His home was formerly in Brevard, N. C., where for two years he was principal of the high schools. He saw two years of service during the world war before entering the government in the department of revenue. He too was educated at the University of North Carolina. Since coming to Salisbury he has won the friendship and esteem of a large number of people.—Salisbury Evening Post.

NEW SCHOOL PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Greenville, S. C., Feb. (Special)—Plans for a three-story Gothic style high school which will be erected at Brevard, N. C., are nearing completion at the office of F. H. and J. G. Cunningham, local architects.

The building, which will cost approximately $75,000 will be finished in rough texture face brick and trimmed with white stone. The first floor of the school will be designed as a manual training department, while the second and third floors will be planned to accommodate a combined grammar and high school. The building, with the exception of the manual training department and an auditorium seating about 1,200 persons, will contain fourteen rooms.

The unusual features of the building are the athletic stage in the auditorium and a radio room in the Gothic tower in the front of the building. The stage, 38 by 70 feet, will be large enough to hold a standard basketball court and persons in the auditorium will be able to sit in comfort and watch athletics exhibitions. The radio room is an up-to-the-minute feature found in few educational plants of high school rank.

A swimming pool, 16 by 30 feet, will be installed in the space beneath the stage, the building being so designed as to provide natural lighting on three sides of the swimming pool. Fire-proof stairways and corridors, modern plumbing, heating and lighting will be installed in the buildings.—From R. F. Morrison, Greenville News, Greenville, S. C.

BREVARD INSTITUTE NOTES.

(By J. B. Huffines, Reporter.)
Miss Virginia Howell, teacher of literature, has been very ill for the past two weeks, suffering from a nervous break-down. It is hoped that Miss Howell will be able to meet her class in a few days.

Miss Melissa Russell, student, was rushed to the city hospital last Sunday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She stood the operation well and is improving nicely. Miss Russell is from Gastonia, N. C., and is much loved by her many friends here who wish for her a hasty recovery.

Charles Malone, Yancey Martin, Wilson Causey, Leo Sherouse, Frank Batson and William Maxwell, hiked to Caesar's Head last Saturday, returning Monday afternoon after nights in the mountains. The boys report a very pleasant and exciting trip.

Eugene Hunsinger has returned from a long visit with his parents in Chimney Rock, N. C.

Mr. Dewey Blanton spent the past week-end with his parents in Cliffside, N. C.

Mrs. Pauline Lewis, formerly Miss Pauline Gibbs, a former student of B. I., was a visitor last Monday. to Miss Laura Higgins.

BOY SCOUTS OF BREVARD NDW HAVE TRUCK ALL THEIR OWN

In a few days the people of Brevard will see an entirely new sight on the streets and public highway. Very few people have heard of and fewer have seen it yet. Those on the inside have kept rather quiet about it all until now, and may some who heard doubted if they would ever see it.

About the first of December, when Scoutmaster John R. Hay decided to remain in Brevard, he called together the members of the Troop Committee which controls the local scout organization and proposed that a truck suitable for the carrying and hauling needs of the scouts be secured. It was enthusiastically decided that a campaign be started at once to secure funds. Pledges were secured to cover the main cost of the undertaking in a very short time, those approached responding favorably and generously with almost no exceptions. It was then planned that the canvas should be carried on quietly with no general publicity in advance. This proved very successful.

On Monday of this week Mr. Hay handed the Lowe Motor Company a check for a new Ford truck chassis. This is now ready to have a home-made body put on it just to suit the fancy and needs of the scouts. Then it will be painted and suitably lettered to show to the world that Brevard is progressive and generous enough to provide its scouts with a fine truck.

The truck will stay in Mr. Hay's garage and will never be used except when he or one of the other officials is present. It will be used for week-end hikes and for the summer camps, and is sure to prove of immeasurable use and pleasure.

The troop of scouts has been in existence ever since March 1916. Mr. Hay has been its scoutmaster all this time except when he was away with the army. Then Mr. Fred Miller took charge of the troop and handled it in fine way until Mr. Hay's return. Verne Clement was first assistant scoutmaster. He was succeeded by Rev. J. C. Seagle. Ted Clement also served successfully as assistant secretary. Recently the troop has been divided into Juniors and Seniors, ages 12 to 14 and 15 to 18 respectively. The Junior troop meets at the Hut and the senior troops meet in the rooms of the American Legion. The Legion was kind enough to lend its rooms for the purpose. Mr. Hay has recently announced that he will form a band of boys who are too young for the scout work to be known as Trailers. Ages of these boys must be 10 to 12. They will meet for the first time at the Hut on Friday Feb. 29th at 8:30 P. M. The older scouts have volunteered to assist Mr. Hay with the Trailers.

The Architect of Success

Go to any town and you will find a few outstanding business men who will be singled out and contrasted with scores of other men in that town who began business under more favorable conditions than the men who have dropped out of the picture. Inquiries usually develop the fact that the successful men made thrift the pillar of their business structure, and a first class bank a collaborating adviser and ally. The Brevard Banking Company gladly offers the Bankers point of view to your plans.

EDITOR HOLWELL

We note in last week's Hendersonville news, a splendid photo of Editor Noah Hollowell. It was really a drawing. Of justice to his many friends here is the fact that Mr. Hollowell is now editing two papers.

Mr. Hollowell is perhaps the leader in progressiveness among all the Western North Carolina weekly editors or he is a close second to Miss Beatrice Cobb of the Morristown News Herald.
