ENON COMMUNITY CLUB:
Brevard, N. C., March 4, 1924. The regular monthly meeting of the Enon Community Club will be Friday night the 7th. The subject will be truck and the County Agent, and perhaps some State men will be present. Signed, Mrs. Carl Talley, Pres.

MATHATASIAN CLUB:
Mrs. E. H. Norwood was hostess on Thursday, February 28, to the Mathatasian Club. The program was in charge of Mrs. H. C. Ranson. The subject being Social Service. A paper prepared by Rev. J. R. Hay on the work of the Associated Charities was read by Mrs. Hume Harris. One of the suggestions made by Mr. Hay for furthering the work of the Association was that he charter should be amended to allow relief work to be done outside the city limits at the discretion of the officer in charge, or that of the executive committee. Mrs. E. H. Zachary gave a most interesting account of the excellent condition of the County Home, which was shown to be one of the best in the State. Mrs. G. B. Deaver told of Convict Camps. Former bad conditions in these have been remedied and they are now in good condition. The club has recently purchased Bibles for the prisoners. One of the most enjoyable features of the afternoon were the old time songs by Mrs. J. M. Allison. The sweet, tender quality of Mrs. Allison's voice was especially pleasing in her rendition of Ben Bolt. Mrs. Norwood's guests besides the club members were: Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. McMinn, Misses Gash, Harrison and Boswell, Mrs. Bromfield.

On last Sunday Mrs. White rendered a very beautiful solo as an offering, "Tarry With Me, O My Savior".
The elementary department had change of a special program last Sunday morning at Sunday school.
March 16, is the regular time for the "Every member canvas" for benevolences and current expenses. This plan has proved successful for several years and we hope that there will be the usual response.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT
and it appeared to have been one of those unfortunate accidents which sometimes occur. From the track made by the wheels of the automobile, where it left the cement roadway, it showed that the car had only been travelling at a moderate rate of speed and that, had it not been for two small washes in the fill, which had caused small gullies, it is probable that the car would have not upset.
Mr. Croushorn is of the opinion, that he was under the car for two hours or more before being discovered, and it must have been a long time, because the motor was cold, when rescuers appeared on the scene. The car was not injured, except that the windshield, the top and the steering wheel were broken. After the time that the Sheriff left and before he could get the garage men to come and tow the car in, some miscreant stole the headlights, tail-light, side-lights and cut open the tool compartment and stole all the tools. Fortunately the Sheriff had saved Mr. Croushorn's valise and overcoat, which were the only articles in the car. The rumor that Mrs. Todd's rings were stolen, was unfounded, as her wedding ring was the only jewelry, besides a necklace, which she wore, and that was still on her body when found. From the examination of Mrs. Todd by the Coroner and other physicians, it was found that she had lost her life by suffocation, having been in such a cramped position under the car, that she could not get her breath. The only laceration being a small cut on her right wrist, which was a mere scratch. No bones were broken, nor were there any cuts sufficient to cause her death from loss of blood. Mr. Croushorn was able to return home early Sunday morning but has been confined, and will be confined, to his room for several days until the extent of his injuries have been ascertained.

Mrs. Todd is well known in Brevard and pleasantly remembered by the many friends she made while operating the Franklin Hotel, and her death is deeply regretted. She is the daughter of one of Knoxville's prominent citizens, Mr. John Ross, and is survived by her father and mother and two brothers. Mr. Ross came to Asheville on Monday and carried his daughter's body back to Knoxville where the funeral will be held as soon as Dr. Todd can arrive from Florida. Dr. and Mrs. Todd have one young son, Ben Todd, Jr., who was taken back to Knoxville by his grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr took little Ben Todd to Hendersonville to meet Mr. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Dr. and Mrs. Todd had made arrangements to go to Europe, and were informed that tickets had been purchased and passports issued for them to sail on March 15th, to spend the summer in Italy. That was one reason which prompted Mr. and Mrs. Todd to consider the sale or lease of the Franklin.

It was most fortunate that Mr. Croushorn was not killed or seriously injured.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Dr. Todd and to Mr. and Mrs. Ross at the untimely death of Mrs. Todd, who had many friends in Brevard, and who had shown great ability in the manner in which she assisted Dr. Todd in the operation of the Franklin Hotel during the last season. She was a lady of most charming personality of a happy disposition and who made friends wherever she went and her death is to be greatly deplored and she will be missed by her family and friends.

REGINAL SOCIAL SERVICE CONFERENCE:
The regional conference for Social Service which was held at Asheville on Friday and Saturday of last week, was attended by several hundred social service workers from the counties of Western North Carolina. Those representing Transylvania county at the conference were Superintendent T. G. Henderson, Rev. J. C. Seagle, Miss Annie Gash and Miss Martha Boswell. The morning service Friday was held in the main Sunday School room of Trinity church, and was presided over by Mrs. Herbert W. Martin, president of the Central Committee of Social Workers of Asheville. The first speaker of the morning, after the invocation by Rev. Willis G. Clark, Rector of Trinity church, was Col. Joseph Hyde Pratt, President of the State Conference for Social Service. He briefly discussed the functions of the State Conference and what is expected of the Regional Conferences to be held in different sections of the State. "The by note of the Regional meetings," he said, "is service in arousing the individual communities to the need of social service betterment, and ought to be made permanent and developed to the highest point of efficiency."
Mayor Cathey of Asheville, in welcoming the representatives, said that of all the conventions and associations to whom he had delivered addresses of welcome he was more pleased to welcome the Social Welfare Conference than any other. He said that there was talk of having the next session of the North Carolina Legislature exempt Buncombe county from the provisions of the juvenile court act, but that he hoped he social service conference would be instrumental in arousing the general public to see the danger of such a step. "There is no more reason," he said, "that this county should be exempt from the juvenile court act than that it should be exempt from the general criminal code."
"Relation of Mental Deficiency to Delinquency," was the subject discussed by Dr. Harry Crane. In this address Dr. Crane presented many proofs of the relation of a large number of cases of both adult and juvenile delinquency to mental deficiency, and urged the importance of a reorganization of the agencies of the State for the better care and treatment of the feeble minded as one of the most efficient means of solving the delinquency problem. Judge Cameron MacRae spoke on "Juvenile Court Work in Asheville," His was an interesting discussion of

The Architect of Success

Go to any town and you will find a few outstanding business men who will be singled out and contrasted with scores of other men in that town who began business under more favorable conditions than the men who have dropped out of the picture. Inquiries usually develop the fact that the successful men made thrift the pillar of their business structure, and a first class bank a collaborating adviser and ally. The Brevard Banking Company gladly offers the Bankers point of view to your plans.

of said town, the Board of Aldermen after due consideration of said petition and requests made in pursuance thereto, have concluded that it will be for the best interests of both the town and the property owners along said street to put down said extra 8 feet of hard surface at same time the State Highway is putting down the 16 feet.

Therefore, be it ordained by said Board of Aldermen that both sides of Broad street extending from the Roman High-way to where the Roman High-way now being hard-surfaced, leaves said street, be and the same is hereby designated as a Special Taxing District for the purpose of assessing that part of the expense of putting down the water-bound macadam herein referred to along said Broad Street at same time the State Highway is putting down the 16 foot strip.

That one third of the expense of putting down said 8 foot width as herein stated shall be taxed against the property abutting on said Broad street on each side of same, and the amount so taxed against said abutting property shall be and the same is a specific lien against said property as provided for in said petition filed, and same shall be levied and collected as provided for in the Laws governing the levy and collection of same in Chapter 56, public laws of 1915.

That the Town of Brevard, as a whole, shall bear one third of the total expense of putting down said 8 foot width of hard surface, the property owners on each side of the said street bearing one third, each, of such expense.

The foregoing ordinance was read and upon motion duly made and seconded was unanimously passed upon roll call at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Brevard, held March 23rd, 1924, quorum being present and participating.

Attest: G. E. LATHROP, Clerk of said board. T. M. MITCHELL, Mayor.

the means of preventing crime. He considered that "an ounce of prevention in social service work is worth a great deal more than a pound of cure." He stated that all overseers and directors in our penal or semi-penal institutions should be consecrated Christian men or women as a stream cannot raise higher than its source.

The principal address Saturday was delivered by Mrs. Martha P. Falconer, from American Social Hygiene Association of New York City. The subject of her address was "The State's Program for the Delinquent Girl."

It is a great thing for the citizens of any section of the State to get together occasionally in such a gathering as was the Regional Conference for Social Service. In such a gathering not only are plans laid for the betterment of humanity, but also the spirit of brotherhood (and sisterhood) is so developed as to somewhat eliminate differences in creeds and sociality.

A permanent organization of the Regional Conference was perfected Friday night by the election of a Hidden Ramsey, president, Judge Cameron F. MacRae, vice-president, and Miss Grace E. Miller, secretary and treasurer.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS:
North Carolina, Transylvania County
Town of Brevard, Office of the Mayor:—
A petition having been filed with the Board of Aldermen by property owners who own more than a majority of the lineal feet of land abutting on both sides of Broad Street in the town of Brevard, beginning at the end of the present pavement near the Post Office, at South margin of Jordan Street, and extending along said street to the point where the Roman High-way leaves same, asking that the 16 feet of hard surface now being put down by the State Highway be increased to a width of 4 feet on each side of said 16 feet, making a pavement of water bound macadam similar to that being laid by the State Highway commission, 24 feet in width; and whereas in said petition filed, the said property owners agree to pay two thirds of the actual cost of putting down said extra 8 feet of such hard surface, if he town, as a whole will pay for one third of such expense.

And whereas said petition is made in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 56 public Laws of 1915, and having been lodged with the Clerk of the Board of Aldermen who has investigated same for further consideration, he said Clerk having recommended that some action be taken on the requests made in said petition: And whereas, the Governin' body
