

BREVARD COTTON MILL REOPENED

After several months idleness the spindles at the Brevard Cotton Mill are again turning. The mill is running about ninety-five per cent full time.

The company has been reorganized. Arthur J. Fleming of Philadelphia is president. H. E. Erwin is local manager. After some improvements and repairs have been made, the plan is to operate the mill day and night.

The class of carded yarns will be changed from forties to thirties. There will be about ninety operatives. The mill has 6500 spindles.

Ten additional houses for operatives will be built on Whitmore Street. The houses now in use will be thoroughly repaired, made comfortable and sanitary. The entire mill village is to be cleaned up and sanitary conditions improved.

Mr. Erwin comes to Brevard from Tuxedo where he was superintendent of the Green River Manufacturing Company. He was a member of the board of education in Henderson County and believes in all children having an opportunity to attend school. He is interested in the welfare of the people who work for him and believes that good living conditions make for efficient workers.

Mr. Erwin and his wife and children are welcome to our community. They will be members of the Baptist congregation.

The Brevard High School will observe Armistice Day with an appropriate program by the high school pupils from 9:00 to 10:00. The patrons are invited to come Tuesday, Nov. 11.

ROBED KLANSMEN VISIT REVIVAL

Last Saturday night just before Rev. J. S. Stanbury began his sermon in the Cherryfield revival four Klansmen in robes entered the church and marched to the front and handed the preacher a contribution of $56.00 with the following letter which was read by the minister:

The Brevard Ku Klux Klan wish to present you with this small purse in appreciation of the good work you are doing and assure you we stand for all the noble teachings of the Holy Bible and true heartfelt religion. We thank you for coming to our county and wish God's richest blessings to rest upon you always.

Our Klan is made up of 100 men, as good as this county affords, and others are joining each week. The Klan stands for the Divinity of Jesus Christ, for the old Bible, for law and order, for protestant religion, for the Separation of Church and State, for the election of the best men to public office and the giving them loyal support when elected, for Americans, for our Public Schools: in fact for all that is good and true. In America the Klan has nine million members and is growing at the rate of fifty thousand per week. We believe that God has raised us up to save this country and to back up the Christian churches and pastors in all their good work. God bless you in your good work.

Your Unknown Friend,
Ku Klux Klan.

MRS. J. R. OWEN ILL

The many friends in all parts of Transylvania County of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Owen will be sorry to learn of Mrs. Owen's illness and wish for her a speedy restoration to health.

The following communication from Mars Hill to the Asheville Citizen will be read here with interest:

MARS HILL, Nov. 1.—Between 50 and 75 boys volunteered to give of their blood, for the transfusion for Mrs. J. R. Owens, who is seriously ill in the French Broad Hospital, when Mr. Owen made the appeal at the chapel exercises this morning. Last week Mr. Owen gave one half pint of his own blood, and the doctors yesterday decided that another transfusion would be necessary.

Mrs. Owen has been ill the most of the past summer, and was taken to the hospital last week. Her condition is much improved since the middle of the week.

Two cars full of boys were taken to Asheville yesterday afternoon for the chemist's test and the transfusion will be made tomorrow.

MISS BEULAH MAE ZACHARY ENTERTAINS

One of the most delightful Hallowe'en parties was that given at the Zachary home on Main Street when the youngest daughter, Beulah Mae, was hostess to a number of her young friends. She was assisted in entertaining by her sister Miss Elizabeth Zachary. A number of new and interesting games, as well as old favorites, were played, both out doors and in.

There were witches and fortunes and dream cake and all the lovely, thrilling things that belong to Hallowe'en.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT FALL OPENING BREVARD M. E. S. S.

There will be a special program rendered in honor of the retiring superintendent, Brother Welch Galloway, next Sunday morning, beginning at 9:45 sharp. Brother Galloway refused reelection for another year that he might devote more time to the Men's Bible Class of which he is the teacher. This is the ending of his seventeenth year as superintendent, during which time the Sunday School has grown from a mere handful to its present large enrollment. To him, also, is given the greater part of the credit for the erection of the handsome new Sunday School building.

He is succeeded, as superintendent by Dr. J. F. Zachary who needs no introduction to the Sunday School and church or to the community and one whose leadership the Sunday School is fortunate in securing. All members and friends of the Sunday School are invited and urged to be present Sunday morning.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT LAKE TOXAWAY

The Toxaway school gave a Hallowe'en Box Party on last Friday night, Oct. 31.

The girls dressed as ghosts and came on the stage as their boxes were called out and were sold with the boxes. Much merriment was caused by the ghostly appearance of the girls.

The boxes were decorated in Hallowe'en colors, cats, witches and ghosts made them very attractive.

The house was decorated in autumn leaves, was lighted with Jack-o'-lanterns.

Pumpkin pies and cocoa were also sold. We realized a sum of fifty four dollars from the boxes, pies and cocoa.

The school is trying to raise money to buy a good library for the school. We have one hundred and fifty dollars toward getting the library, and want to keep on until the school will have one of the best libraries in the county.

Prohibition may not prohibit, but do you care for for that "Brown October Ale" song as you used to?

LOW MOTOR CO.

The Lowe Motor Co. Building is now complete and presents a fine appearance.

At the front is the showroom where are exhibited the newest fall fashions in Fords.

Next are the offices fitted with all modern appliances for efficiency. On the other side of the offices is the stock room for ford parts and accessories.

At the back is the repair shop. Upstairs is a storage room.

On Friday evening, November 7, from 7:00 to 11:00 o'clock the public is invited to call and inspect this modernly equipped garage.

Refreshments will be served and the Municipal Band will play.

Everybody will want to come out and congratulate Mr. Lowe upon his achievements. If Brevard could get a few more men of his kind it would flourish as the "green Bay tree."

Then, too, everybody wants to hear the new Municipal Band in which we are so much interested.

Both Mr. Stanbury and Mr. Coltrilli contributed to the fund for purchasing seats for Mt. Moriah church.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 sixteen persons were baptized in Cherryfield Creek at a point near the highway. It was a most impressive service. The singing was led by Wesley McCall.

There was an immense throng present, hundreds of cars being parked along the highway.

On the walls of time in memory of one of the greatest moves that Southern Baptists have ever launched.

In the completion of the great '75 million campaign Nov. 30th, 1924.

And as you look upon the face of that great movement will it be with a satisfied conscience that you have done your part in preaching the Gospel. Saving a soul, in healing the sick, and in caring for the orphan.

Jesus said in as much as you have done it to one of these you have done it for me. Don't put it off, fix it today.

THE PRAYER CORNER

THOUGHTS FOR NOVEMBER

It does one good to be alone sometimes, to throw care to the winds, and to walk among the rustling leaves, and muse at life—its changes, its beauties and its mysteries. Come with me into the dying woods, look how fast the leaves are falling—how the winds whisper of decay as they sing their melancholy dirge for the faded flowers. But wait! among the leaves a bit of color peeps, half sheltered by a friendly bush, a dear memento of the Summer days. How loathe is nature yet to lose the flowers she wore upon her breast.

Be diligent after thy power to do deeds of love. Think nothing too little, nothing too low to do lovingly for the sake of God. Bear with infirmities, ungentle tempers, contradictions, visit the sick, relieve the poor, forego thyself and thine own ways for love, and He whom in them thou lovest, to whom in them thou ministered, will own thy love and will pour His own love unto thee.

"The memory of a kindly word For long gone by,

The gleaming of a sudden flower

Sent lovingly,

The gleaming of a sudden smile,

Or sudden tear,

The warmer pressure of the hand,

The tone of cheer,

The hush that means 'I cannot speak,

But I have heard!

The note that only bears a verse

Of God's own word,

Such tiny things we hardly count

As ministry,

The givers deeming they have shone

Scant sympathy.

But when the heart is over wrought,

Oh! who can tell

The power of such tiny things

To make it well!"

A Prayer

O Thou Life and Light of men be very near us, and help us ever to look on the bright side of life and always to make the best of every thing, as we walk among the rustling leaves and muse on life, its changes, its beauties and its mysteries in these waning days of the year, let us see, here and there, among the leaves, a bit of color, a dear memento of the Summer days that are past.

Help us to be diligent after our power to do deeds of love, for the time is short. May we think nothing too little, nothing to do lovingly for the sake of our blessed Lord and Saviour. Enable us to bear with infirmities, ungentle tempers and contradictions, to visit the sick, relieve the poor, forego ourselves and our own ways for love, and thou whom in them we love, to whom in them we minister, will own our love and will pour thine own love into us.

May our souls be as beautiful as the Autumn starlight, which silvers all the sleeping world. We need not make any stir or commotion—only shine. Shine as if God were reflected from our being and the praise shall be all Thine, who art our Life and Light, the infinitely fragrant One, our Jesus.

Amen.
C. D. C.
