DANGERS OF BASKET-BALL FOR GIRLS

 $T_{\rm from\ her\ grandmother\ in\ her\ play}^{\rm (1E)\ girl\ of\ today\ Is\ i.s\ different}$ as she is in her clothes. 'This is naturally the case; in fact, it is probable that present-day sports have been one of the important reasons for presentday clothes. Our grandmothers, who were taught to walk sedately, to sit quietly in their chairs, and never to do inviting "boisterous, or unladylike" would be horrified at the sight of a basketball game in any of our school gynmasiums or playgrounds," Girls of today are better and more sensibly dressed than they have been in centuries. Athletic sports and outdoor games are far better, for the growing girl than crocheting tidies and embroidering motions, yet there are dangers in excessive activity of any kind. In a recent issue of the Child Health Magazine; Dr. J. Anna-Norris, physical director for women levely thing. Too had so many men at the University of Minnesota, calls attention to some of the dangers in basketball for women.

As Doctor Norris well says, basketball is the most popular indoor game for girls. It affords opportunity for sigorous recreation, for team play, and for healthy social relations. It should, however, he played by girls' rules and under proper conditions." It is a recognized fact that basket ball as played by boys is too strendous. and severe a game for girls. The physical directors of the leading women's schools have modified the game so as to adapt it to the strength and cadarance of girl players. The first important change in the girls' rale. is to discourage personal conthet and struggling by making it a faul to head, block or snap the ball from the hands of another player. The second important change is to provide a number of different courts. of different sizes, depending on the ages of the girl physers. This makes it possible for each girl to pluy in her owr court and with girls of her own age, and physical strength. The third change is the division of the difteen or twenty minute halves of

W riter Speculates on Possible "Dog Heaven"

Been thinking again. Been sitting stratching my dog's ear and think-.ag. Nice little dog. She has more sense and more finnanity almost than lots of humans whom I have met up with. What a wonderful thing is the love and care of an animal for her young! People have been comingover to see her pupples three ugly little bull pups, with not much to see but wrinkles, says a dog fancier in Adventure Magazine.

Yesterday they disappeared mysteriously from their nest in the corner of my little barn. I looked round and by and by found them. She had dug a large round hole under the house and there she had taken them. I brought them out to the lawn. She smiled at me, in a superior and motherly manner and promptly lifted one by his hind thigh and hore him away to her newly made nest. In a very few minutes they were all back under the house. Then she came and looked up, smiling at me, and requested me to scratch her under the ear. It would be rather nice if there actually were a dog star, would it not? Where we might in the hereafter meet up with our old dogs and hear just what they had to say.

The complete trust and comradeship that a dog offers to a man is a are not even fit for the trust of a little valler dog! It is such an unwavering and utter trust. It ought to make a man the better, causing him to sense something of his responsibility to the animal creation. Don't you think so? It would be rather correct, I think; if in the hereafter there is a dog star in which the degs will live happily together with all the doggy affairs arranged to suit themselves. Then, perhaps, those humans who in this world have been intworthy of the confidence of their degs will be led round on chains and fed upon old bones, and occusionally dipped in sheep dip 10. kill their flens, ehr.
